Democratic Home Rule Liquor Plan Is Held Up to Ridicule.

ABANDON "POLITICAL GRAVEYARD," ADVICE

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

The "home rule" liquor plan of Chairman John J. Raskob, of the Democratic national committee, was ridiculed last night by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee.

In sarcastic tones, Mr. Lucas declared that Chairman Raskob would solve the country's economic problems "by (1) repealing the Federal antitrust laws; and (2) offering every individual a drink."

The South, at which the Lucas speech was directed, was urged to abandon such "bankrupt leadership," to quit camping in a "political graveyard," and to join hands with the Republican party.

First G. O. P. Shaft.

The speech, broadcast over the Columbia system, was the first to be aimed at the Raskob liquor plan by an officer of the Republican national committee, and, in making it Mr. Lucas evidently was confident that his own party will take a dry stand in 1932.

What the Democratic party will do about prohibition in 1932 may be indicated by the replies which Chairman Raskob receives in the poll that is now being taken among the members of the Democratic national committee.

In his speech last night, Mr. Lucas spoke to a section that gave President Hoover heavy support in 1928. Four States in the so-called Solid South—Texas, Florida, Virginia and North Carolina—left the Democratic party for the first time since the Civil War, and four border States—Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia—likewise lined up behind the Republican nominee.

Tariff Used in Appeal.

Politicians, however, see little possibility of the Republicans duplicating that performance next year in the erstwhile Solid South States if the Democratic nominee is a Protestant.

Nevertheless, the speech of Mr. Lucas last night indicates that the Republicans at least are going to make a try at it. The speech was much like the one that President Hoover delivered at Elizabethton, Tenn., in 1928, when he told how the Republican tariff had helped the industries of the new South.

Mr. Lucas declared that the same tariff rate which protects the steel mills of Pittsburgh protects the mills of Birmingham; that the same rate which protects the textile mills in New England protects those of North Carolina and Georgia, and so on.

Strikes at Tammany.

Twice in the course of his speech, Mr. Lucas took a crack at Tammany, thus strengthening the belief that the New York organization will be made an issue in 1932. He pointed out that in the event the Democrats organize the House in the next Congress, a Tammany Democrat—Samuel Dickstein—will become chairman of the immigration committee. And Dickstein, he said, is on record in favor of admitting to this country any and every foreign immigrant who is able-bodied.

Mr. Lucas declared that the Democrats, despite their promise to formulate a constructive program, have failed to get together on one, with

McAdoo Sees Victory In Economic Issues

Raskob's Road Fatal, Is View; Party Urged to Cure Evils.

Los Angeles, April 8 (A.P.).—What he believes are the road to victory and the road to defeat for the Democratic party in the presidential election of 1932 were described today by William G. McAdoo in a letter in which he took issue with the policies advocated by National Chairman John J. Raskob.

Intelligent treatment of the greatest problem facing the country today, unemployment, not prohibition, the former Democratic leader wrote, probably would bring back to the party the presidential chair.

Instead, he warned, if the party adopts the view of Chairman Raskob and presents the question of liquor as the major plank in its platform, only "certain and disastrous defeat" will result.

The letter was written to decline the post of vice chairman on a committee which will plan a reception here on April 13 for Jouett Shouse, chairman of the party's national executive committee.

"Relegalizing liquor," he wrote, "will not put food into a single hungry mouth nor provide employment

SELBICKY RELEASED FROM JAIL ON BOND

Two Former Marines, Under Sentence on Other Charges, to Be Questioned.

Marine Private Ebanuel Thorne was murdered in "a big fight" with members of a Washington automobile theft ring outdoors on the Marlboro pike at Crystal Spring avenue, in Greater Capitol Heights, Md., on the night of March 14, according to the latest official theory in the case.

It was advanced by Constable Earl Blackwell, after the filiaring of strained relations between him and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Garrison, also of Prince Georges County, whose own investigation collapsed with release yesterday afternoon of the last of two Marine bandsmen he had nabbed as suspects.

"About 11:30 o'clock on Saturday night, March 14, while in my office, I received a telephone call from an unidentified man that there was a big fight going on at Crystal Spring avenue and Marlboro pike," Blackwell declared.

Signs of Brawl Found.

"I rushed up there and found that there had ben a brawl and quite a few shots were fired, but I couldn't locate any one who looked like they'd been in a scrap. Then on the following morning, March 15, as I've made public previously, I took possesion of an automobile found abandoned on Crystal Spring avenue, about a block from the pike.

"The car, a small coach of 1930 model, was found to have been stolen and the tags on it had been issued to another machine, which we discovered had been traded into a Washington automobile firm and then resold. I'm not satisfied with what I've learned thus far in that investigation, which I intend to resume. It often happens that Washington automobile thieves bring their cars out here, so close to the District, and I believe that was why that car was out here.

"I wouldn't say Thorne was mixed up with an auto theft gang, but I'd like to check up on him. I'm confident he was killed in a big fight, be cause his body shows the marks. The ground near the shallow grave in which he was found showed that the body had been dragged about 100 yards, and the leaves showed blood stains, proving that the body was warm when it was laid there. The autopsy showed that the man had been dead about three weeks. It was exactly three weeks from March 14 to April 4 when it was found."

Selbicky Is Released.

Vincent Selbicky, 45-year-old Marine Band bass tuba player, about 300 yards behind whose home in Greater Capitol Heights the corpse was found, was liberated entirely in connection with the Thorne case from the Marlboro Jail, where he had been held incommunicado since shortly after the gruesome discovery Saturday. He had been held for investigation. He posted $1,000 bond on a liquor charge following a raid on his house after the finding of the body in his yard.

POLICE ARREST 2 SUSPECTS IN JAYNES KILLING

SHEETS IS FREED IN MOTORMAN'S DEATH

Five Others Are Still Held, but Detectives Say Evidence Is Slight.

Two men whose appearance resembles the description of the bandits who Friday night shot and killed Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T Shoppe, were arrested and held on investigation charges last night.

The men were taken into custody in an apartment house on Eighteenth street northwest near California street by headquarters and Eighth Precinct detectives. They gave their names as Harold Creighton, 30 years old, and Conrad Lauzon, 29, of Woonsocket, R. I. They had been living in the apartment where they were arrested, where Creighton makes his home.

Police said that neighbors had seen one of the men enter their fifth-floor room by the fire escape in the early hours of the morning on several occasions. The men were immediately brought to police headquarters, where they were photographed and fingerprinted. The prints will be compared with those found on the license plates of the stolen car used in the robbery.

William Sheets Is Released.

The arrests were made after an investigation by Detective Sergts. Van Hughes and Robert Barrett, and Precinct Detectives M. F. Mahaney and James Kenny.

Police last night released William H. Sheets, who was being held in the investigation of the killing of James H. Lane, street car motorman, and Mrs. Jaynes, and admitted that they had little evidence on which to hold the other five suspects.

Mrs. Violet Haas, of Nichols avenue southeast, near Trenton place, which is the vicinity where Lane was murdered, picked John S. Coleman, 17 years old, of Battery Park, Md., and Richard P. Stockton, 17 years old, of California street northwest, near Eighteenth street, from a lineup of men at Police Headquarters. She said that the day before the Lane killing, which was March 18, they were at her door soliciting magazine subscriptions. Both denied being there.

Three Others Are Held.

The other three being held are: George Baber, 20, and Mahlon T. Millburn, 21, both of Thirteenth street northwest, near Clifton street, who were arrested in a "plant" early Monday morning by headquarters detectives, and James W. Strother, 25, of Richmond, Va., who was arrested in a stolen car in company with Coleman and Stockton.

The five were subject to a grilling by members of the homicide squad, who stated afterward that no evidence linking any of the suspects with the crimes was unearthed.

Police said that Stockton told them that he had wished to become a gangster after seeing a gangster picture, but said that his ventures had been confined to stealing automobiles. They say he admitted breaking into a house in Wesley Heights last December.

LONGWORTH CONDITION CHANGES FOR WORSE; DOCTORS ARE FEARFUL

State "Much Worse Than at Any Time," Night Bulletin Says.

WIFE IS CONSTANTLY AT BEDSIDE IN AIKEN

Attendants Say Outlook Is Extremely Unfavorable; Oxygen Given.

Aiken, S. C., April 8 (A.P.).—Fear that Nicholas Longworth, Speaker of the House, might not survive the night was expressed by Dr. R. H. Wilds, one of his attending physicians, late tonight.

Dr. Wilds expressed his apprehension after the issuance of a formal bulletin signed by all three of the physicians attending the Speaker, who was stricken with pneumonia Monday night. The official bulletin read:

It was signed by Dr. Wilds, Dr. Thomas G. Brooks, both of Aiken, and Dr. V. P. Sydenstricker, a specialist from Augusta, Ga.

Aiken, S. C., April 8 (U.P.).—A doctors' bulletin on Speaker of the House Nicholas Longworth at 10:15 p. m. tonight said:

(Signed) "Dr. Robert Henry Wilds, Dr. V. P. Sydenstricker and Dr. Thomas G. Brooks."

A bulletin, telephoned from the luxurious colonial home in which the genial Ohio member of Congress is lying under care of three doctors, said at 9:10 p. m. his condition was critical, "much worse than at any time," and he has "failed perceptibly today."

The bulletin was as follows:

It was signed by Dr. Robert H. Wilds.

Mrs. Longworth at Bedside.

Mrs. Longworth, who arrived today from Washington, was constantly with her husband.

Dr. Robert H. Wilds, in charge of the sick-room and one of three physicians in attendance, was so engrossed with the situation that he canceled plans to leave the house to give out the bulletin in person as scheduled. He telephoned it to newspapermen.

While nothing was said of Mr. Longworth's chances, friends still sought encouragement in earlier bulletins today telling of his strong constitution.

Oxygen was administered to him all day in a tent-like cover over his bed, at a richness equal to double that of ordinary air, to counteract a 50 per cent breathing ability.

Earlier today the physicians said Mr. Longworth's condition was "satisfactory" and that there was "no immediate danger," but the night report reversed all this.

Paulina in Cincinnati.

At 9 p. m., when after a 24-hour vigil the physicians were gathered around the crisis in the sickroom, the whole house of Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis, where Mr. Longworth is staying, had lights lit in nearly every room.

Baby Paulina, 6 years old, whose birth was almost as much of an event as her parents' wedding in the White House 25 years ago last February, is at the Longworth home in Cincinnati. Miss Elizabeth Nelson came from Washington to nurse the speaker. But Alice Roosevelt Longworth is virtually in charge of the sickroom except when one of the attending physicians is there.

The Longworths are guests here of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Curtis, of Washington and Aiken, whose handsome home is ideally suited to the rest and quiet necessary to the comfort of a sick man.

Mrs. Longworth had planned to join her husband here at about this time. She made reservations for departure from Washington next Sunday, but that plan was scrapped when physicians sent her husband to bed.

Least Dangerous of Types.

Good humor and a smile accompanied Mrs. Longworth on her hurried journey. It was only after her arrival that Dr. Wilds was willing to confirm reports the Speaker was suffering from pneumonia.

City Free of Gangmen Promised by Cermak

Victory of Democrat Over 'Big Bill' Hailed From All Sides; Victor Asserts Willingness to Be Friend of King George.

Chicago, April 8 (U.P.).—Mayor-elect Anton J. Cermak, hailed as "Chicago's savior," went to work tonight on his stupendous, self-appointed task of "redeeming Chicago's reputation, chasing away the gangsters and ridding the city of Thompsonism."

He was immersed literally by thousands of telegrams of congratulation concerning "Chicago's rebirth" and a "new deal for Chicago."

Some of the messages suggested that Chicago set aside the day of his election as one of "thanksgiving."

Others foresaw a business revival for the city. All looked upon the "business administration" Mr. Cermak promised as a turning point in Chicago's hectic career as America's second largest city.

While Mr. Cermak pondered over which city officials to release, and while he prepared to move Friday into the city hall offices occupied for the last four years by the "circus mayor," William Hale Thompson, six London newspapers put in transatlantic telephone calls to Mr. Cermak's headquarters.

FRANCE'S CANDIDACY LEAVES STATE COOL

Two Leaders Who Are Willing to Comment Support Hoover for 1932.

Baltimore, April 8 (A.P.).—The announcement by former Senator Joseph I. France that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for President in opposition to President Hoover failed today to arouse enthusiasm among Maryland party leaders.

"My judgment is that the Republicans of Maryland are for President Hoover's renomination," said Senator Philips Lee Goldsborough.

"I believe the passengers on the Ship of State would prefer to keep Mr. Hoover at the helm," said Galen L. Tait, chairman of the Republican State central committee.

Other leaders declined to comment.

Dr. France, senator from Maryland from 1917 to 1923, made the announcement last night that he would seek the nomination on an anti-prohibition platform. He formally entered next year's Maryland primaries by filing notification with the Secretary of State at Annapolis today, and said he would enter primaries of other States.

His announcement said no support had been promised him. Dr. France has been in retirement from politics since his defeat for reelection to the Senate in 1922 by William Cabell Bruce, a Democrat. He was one of the Senate irreconcilables who fought the entry of the United States into the League of Nations.

Dr. France's entry gives Maryland two candidates, as Gov. Albert C. Ritchie is considered certain to seek the Democratic nomination.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., April 8.—Following his determination to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for President of the United States, former United States Senator Joseph I. France, of Cecil County, Md., came to Annapolis this afternoon and filed certificate of his candidacy in the office of Secretary of State David C. Winebrenner 3d. With the certificate he filed a deposit of $270 as required by law.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATOR MUST GO TO PRISON

Supreme Court Refuses to Grant Writ of Error in Embezzlement Case.

Richmond, Va., April 8 (A.P.).—James P. Jones, member of the Virginia House of Delegates, convicted of embezzling funds from the Virginia Methodist Orphanage while serving as treasurer, was refused a writ of error today by the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals. Jones, under sentence of five years in the penitentiary, is at liberty under $15,000 bond.

Refusal of the appellate court to review the record of the trial court means that Jones must begin serving the penitentiary sentence which had been suspended pending action on an appeal.

Jones was relieved of his duties as treasurer of the orphanage last June when auditors reported a shortage of approximately $35,000 in his books. Jones claimed the differences were matters of bookkeeping and no shortage existed. Shortly afterward the orphanage board announced that satisfactory settlement had been made.

Commonwealth's Attorney Dave E. Satterfield of Richmond ordered Jones' arrest on September 18 after the discovery of alleged new evidence. Six true bills were returned against him later by a grand jury.

Jones was allowed to make a separate audit of the books before his trial opened on October 28. He claimed on the basis of this audit that instead of a shortage the orphanage board owed him approximately $24,000. Under cross-examination, J. N. Culbreth, the auditor employed by Jones, admitted errors in his accounts which caused Jones' counsel to ask that his testimony be dismissed.

Jones is a former treasurer of the Virginia Antisaloon League, a former president of the local Y. M. C. A., and was treasurer of the orphanage for several years.

Butler Admits Desire For Place in Senate

Philadelphia, April 8 (A.P.).—"I would like to be a United States senator from Pennsylvania," said Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, of the Marine Corps, here today.

"But," he added, "I haven't had time to think seriously about running for the Senate, and will not give the matter any consideration until my lecture tour is ended. When I retire from the Marine Corps around the end of September my future plans will be definite. There is nothing to stop me from seeking the nomination in the 1932 spring primary, if, after consideration, I decide that is the thing I want to do."

Blood Call Is Issued To Save Boy's Life

A call for blood to help prolong the life of Frederico Marino, 9 years old, was made yesterday. The boy is dying at Georgetown Hospital from an almost unknown and an incurable disease of the blood.

The disease thins the blood so that a pin prick would cause him to bleed to death. The boy lived on a farm near McLean, Va., until a few days ago when he was brought to the hospital. The boy's father is dead.

Calvin Coolidge Says:

ONE of the greatest men in our country in the realm of pure science is Dr. Albert A. Michelson. Yet few of us could recall his accomplishments. If he held a similar place in applied science he would be as well known as Edison. He is the world authority on light.

Graduating at the United States Naval Academy in 1873, where he taught for a short time before studying abroad, his investigations have continued through nearly half a century. His success brought him many prizes and medals, among which was the Nobel Prize for physics awarded in 1907. For the past 30 years he has been connected with the University of Chicago.

Now at the age of 79 he is making new experiments to check his former estimate of the velocity of light. The labor involved has left him exhausted and ill but still courageously directing the work through assistants. The greater the mind of a man the more it seeks for the exact truth. The kind of service such men give not only affects our daily lives through useful inventions but by increasing the sum of human knowledge raises humanity to a higher plane.

Post-Zain Ads Easy, Writing Trials Show

As Many as Any Competitor May Choose to Compose Permitted in Prize Contest Yielding as High as $1,000.

Just a week from today judges will settle down to the serious business of choosing the best of the first week's entries in The Post-Zain Amateur Ad Writing Contest.

Your name should be among the winners. There will be plenty of prizes to go around—$100 in cash for the winning ad, and 175 more in merchandise. Similar prizes will be given every seven days for seven weeks and then a grand cash award of $1,000 for the best ad of all.

And all you have to do to be eligible is to set down in writing that advertising idea you've had for so long, about any one or more of the 35 advertisers cooperating with The Post. You will find all of their names in another column.

Advertising, The Post-Zain way, is like playing any intensely interesting game. Your ads might be original, but they don't have to be; they might be clever, or merely sensible.

Try one now, just to see how easy it is. Write as many as you want. Take a piece of paper about twice the size of a postcard, write the name of the firm your are advertising in the upper left hand corner, write your ad on the body of the sheet, and your name and address on the reverse side. Use a separate sheet of paper for each ad.

Expert advertising men, selected by The Post to judge your entries, will announce the first week's winners Friday, April 17, but in order to be eligible for this judging your ad must be in by midnight Wednesday, April 15. Otherwise it automatically will be considered with the second week's entries.

Has it occurred to you that Zain rhymes perfectly with brain? Why not use yours, and write a lot of ads for our contest? A piece of paper, a pencil and an idea; that is all it takes. Let your ads take the form of a testimonial letter, a slogan, a verse or a straight ad. There are no restrictions on style, and ads will not be judged for layout, punctuation or grammar.

And by cooperating with The Post and the 35 Zain advertisers you will be doing your bit to aid Washington business. Every one should know that now is the time to buy, that never since the war have commodity prices been so low and values so high.

Yesterday's heavy mail shows that a number are planning Zain parties, in line with the suggestion in yesterday's Post. Instead of playing the usual run of games and cards, let your guests amuse themselves by writing advertising. Organize a committee of judges of your own, give prizes if you want to for the best ads, and send the best ones in to The Post-Zain Ad Writing Contest Editor. They should be prize winners in our contest.

Get acquainted with our advertisers and with what they have to sell, write your ads and send them in today. Remember, there is no limit on the

Duplicate Play for Post's Bridge Tourney Explained

Plan Is Simple, Easily Understood and Offers Each Team an Equal Opportunity; Players to Be Divided Into Two Classes.

Washington bridge players who, as they are pleased to express it, have graduated from auction into contract, along with those who play only the older form of the game, are making inquiries into the duplicate method of the play in order to have a comprehensive understanding of the requirements for the forthcoming first annual bridge tournament, sponsored by The Washington Post.

Numerous questions have been asked by prospective entrants in regard to the way duplicate is played. The fact should be understood at the outset, in order that no one may be discouraged from entering the tournament because he or she has never participated in duplicate playing, that there is no difference in the principles of the game whether the play is duplicate or open. This applies both to contract and auction. The difference lies in the system under which the "breaks" are eliminated, and each team has an equal opportunity with every other team, because during the series the same hands are played by all teams. The good hands and the bad hands come at some time during the play to each and every team, and only the element of skill counts in the outcome.

Because some players are acknowledged to be better players than others the program of the tournament contemplates two classes of players both in contract and in auction, one to be designated as advanced players and the other as intermediate players. Entrants may classify themselves according to their own opinions of the merits of their game.

FEDERAL JOB SALE DECLARED NORMAL

Atlanta, Ga., April 8 (A.P.).—After half a dozen Government witnesses had testified in Federal court here today that they paid John B. Dove money to obtain Federal offices for them and that he did not deliver the jobs, Dove attempted in vain to show that purchase was the usual method of securing appointive Federal offices.

Dove, a locomotive engine inspector of Atlanta Joint Terminals Co., and active in Republican party affairs in Georgia for several years, is on trial charged with violation of the patronage act and with misuse of the mails in the sale of offices.

Postmaster E. K. Large of Atlanta was the first important defense witness. He was asked only one question:

"How did you go about getting your job?"

Clint W. Hager, district attorney, objected on the ground of irrelevancy. M. S. Hayes, assistant to Dove, who is conducting his own defense, told the court the intent of the question was to show payments to party leaders are generally required for appointment to Federal offices.

Judge Marvin Underwood upheld the Government's objection and Large was excused from the stand without speaking a word.

J. P. Benson testified that early in 1929 he paid Dove $500 to obtain appointment of his son, Ernest, as postmaster at College Park, Ga.

Charles O'Neal said Dove promised to effect the appointment of his son, Wade, as deputy clerk of the Northern Georgia District Court on payment of $276.

C. E. Westbrook told of paying Dove $1,000 for appointment as collector of internal revenue here.

Several other State witnesses told of other smaller payments to Dove on similar promises. All pictured him as claiming great influence and personal friendship with such Government and party leaders as President Hoover, Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, the President's secretary, Walter Newton, Dr. Hubert Work, former national party chief; former Postmaster General Harry New, and J. R. Nutt, national treasurer. They said he called the President "Herbert" and claimed all he had to do to get a hearing at any Government or party office in Washington was to "go and knock on the door."

2 WOMEN AND MAN KIDNAPED, ROBBED

Chicago Bandits Escape With $1,500 Loot After Running Gun Fight.

Evanston, Ill., April 8 (A.P.).—Two bandits kidnaped two women and a man here early today, held them through a terrifying automobile ride and gun fight with police, then robbed them of $1,500 in jewelry, furs and money before thrusting them from the car.

Mrs. Frank J. O'Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. McDonald, the latter once premiere danseuse of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, were the victims. The trio was seated in the O'Donnell car when the two men, carrying pistols, forced their way into the automobile, demanded compliance with their orders and drove rapidly away.

Attracted by the speed of the car, a deputy sheriff and a county policeman gave chase and exchanged a half dozen futile shots with the kidnapers. Later two Chicago motorcycle policemen also fired several ineffective shots at the car.

After evading the police, the kidnapers robbed the McDonalds and Mrs. O'Donnell, and drove away in the O'Donnell car.

Pistol Wound Kills Baroness Forster

Budapest Society Amazed at Affair, Thought Accidental.

Budapest, Hungary, April 8 (A.P.).—The young Baroness Marie Forster died tonight of a bullet wound in her stomach after being brought to a Budapest sanatorium from the castle of the Count Teleki, at Szob.

One version says the baroness had just fired at and missed a target and the revolver was discharged when she turned to examine it. However, newspapers say medical examination showed it would have been impossible for her to have inflicted the wound herself. Doctors are quoted as believing the shooting was accidental.

Baron Stefan Bornemisza, said to have witnessed the shooting, was being questioned by authorities tonight. The affair has caused a sensation in Budapest society.

Capital Wife Among Four Urging Limit for Bigamist

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, April 8.—Four of Robert J. Gooding's seven wives were in a Staten Island court today to see him receive from two and a half to five years in Sing Sing Prison for bigamy. Three of the women, including one from Washington, urged the limit of 20 years for their mutual husband "for the protection of society."

The fourth could not be present when sentence was pronounced. Mrs. Dorothy Gooding, of Astoria, Long Island, who took a trip to the altar with him in 1918, became hysterical and had to be carried from the courtroom.

Gooding is a wandering saxophone player and he is alleged to have married seven women in all during his trips.

his ailment is generally considered the least dangerous of the four pneumonia types, yet it frequently is protracted in its nature and accompanied by complications. No serum has been developed for it.

"We never know when the crisis is likely to come," Dr. Wilds told questioners today. "It might be in three or nine days or even later."

A schedule of morning, midday, and night bulletins has been fixed by attending physicians.

Mr. Longworth is "Nick" here, as in Washington and Cincinnati, to a host of friends. Wearied by the spiteful short session of Congress, he came here ten days ago for golf and recreation, but a cold, contracted in the Capital, persisted. Pneumonia in the upper lobe of the right lung developed, and Monday Mr. Longworth was ordered to bed.

More Than Mere Hope.

At 61 years Pneumonia is a dangerous malady, regardless of type or the extent of lung area affected. Mrs. Longworth is smilingly confident, and the physicians likewise inspire much more than mere hope for the Speaker's recovery. Dr. Wilds was able to leave the Curtis home to attend to other patients today, but Dr. Brooks remained most of the time close to the sickroom, especially to supervise the mechanical administration of oxygen. An urgent call to Dr. Brooks today was not sufficient to take him away from the Curtis home.

Aiken is aware of its distinguished guest. Word came from Washington that President Hoover asked Dr. Joel T. Boone, White House physician, to keep in touch with the Curtis home. Newspapermen hurried to the city and at the telegraphic office there was a quick succession of anxious message from the political friends and social cronies inquiring for news of "Nick."

"His vitality and stamina are excellent," Dr. Wilds said today in the first official statement regarding the Speaker's illness. "And his condition is as well as could be expected."

Remains in Seclusion.

The mid-day bulletin said Mr. Longworth's pulse was 110, temperature, 101 and respiration 28. These data were considered by Dr. Wilds to be "satisfactory."

Mrs. Longworth remained in seclusion at the Curtis home after her arrival at 10:25 a. m. The great house is protected by a fence and information regarding the Speaker is being issued at the offices of Dr. Wilds. The vivacious First Lady of the legislative branch of Government was welcomed here by Mrs. Curtis and smiled quickly at her reassuring greeting.

Her instructions to attending physicians reflected her unsurpassed knowledge of official life and its responsibilities. She said information should be freely given and complete. Within the Curtis home there is confidence and preparation against the pneumonic crisis in which "Nick" must fight his greatest battle, with Alice, as usual, nearby.

LUCAS RIDICULES RASKOB IN SPEECH

the result that they now have nothing to offer to the American people.

Ridicule for Raskob.

"The recent meeting of the Democratic national committee, called to formulate a program, Mr. Lucas said, "ended in a near riot, with nothing accomplished."

"The only concrete proposals the Democratic organization has presented to the American people," Mr. Lucas said, "are those suggested by Mr. Raskob, who makes the unique proposal that the solution of the economic problems now confronting the United States, and in which the South is vitally interested, may be solved by (1) repealing the Federal antitrust laws, and (2) offering every individual a drink. This is an entirely new school of political thought.

Pleads for G. O. P.

"Why should the people of the South, in justice to themselves, their industries, commercial enterprises and agriculture, in justice to the development of their commonwealths and their cities, in justice to their children, continue an alliance with a political organization that is so bankrupt and so disorganized that it can not present to the American people a concrete statement as to what it believes and as to what it will do in event it is given control of the Federal Government?

"Why should the people of the South continue to place themselves in a perpetual minority, and set themselves aside from the rest of the country politically, by following such bankrupt leadership? The Republican party appeals to the people of the South to quit camping in a political graveyard and join hands with the Republican party, which looks forward and marches onward."

ROSENDAHL NAMED NEW AIRSHIP CHIEF

Shenandoah Crash Survivor to Command Huge Dirigible Cruiser Akron.

(Associated Press.)

Wind-tanned veteran of sea and air ships, Lieut. Comdr. Charles E. Rosendahl, was named yesterday as master of the Navy's monster air cruiser, the $5,375,000 dirigible Akron.

Behind his quiet manner and immediate concentration on the details of his new duty, the officer hid "the pleasant elation" of receiving the highest naval honor in the lighter-than-air craft field.

To his new assignment he brings the experience of 3,333 hours of flight in airships, a record of more hours in the air as commander than any American officer, and eight years of scientific study of airships and their handling

Duties Begin April 15.

He will report, April 15, at Lakehurst, N. J., to organize a nucleus crew of 11 officers and about 40 enlisted men which will make the trial flights of the dirigible near the end of July and deliver it to Lakehurst.

"While the assignment means an immense responsibility," Commander Rosendahl said, "there will be plenty of good help—with veteran officers and enlisted men. Between six and eight weeks before the airship is ready to fly, we shall go to Akron to become thoroughly familiar with the ship."

The new skipper was senior surviving officer of the crash of the Shenandoah in 1925, free-ballooning to safety with six others in the fore part of the ship; commander the Los Angeles for three years; was first commander of the rigid airship training and experimental squadron formed in 1929 at Lakehurst, and was an official Navy observer both on the first transatlantic flight of the Graf Zeppelin and its round-the-world journey.

Work Covers Years.

Since the day eight years ago when, as an instructor at the Naval Academy, he answered the first call for volunteers for lighter-than-air work, he has made himself a keen student and expert on mechanical airship handling.

"The American Navy has done the major part in mechanical handling progress," he said, "and though we have seen important advances, we will see even more. Starting and improved developments are in store in the operation of the Akron and new equipment will be ushered in that is far beyond the scope of anything that has been tried before."

Mechanical handling, he said, not only reduces the number of men required in handling an airship on the ground, but increases safety, particularly under bad weather conditions. The Akron is the first dirigible to be designed specifically with plans for mechanical handling.

New Paving Ready On Massachusetts

Avenue to Be Opened Today; V Street Promised for Baseball Traffic.

Massachusetts avenue, which has been closed for repaving between Sheridan Circle and California street, will be opened for traffic today, Capt. H. C. Whitehurst, chief engineer of the District Highway Department, said yesterday. The street was closed March 18.

The new section of V street, between Georgia avenue and Ninth street, is nearing completion and will be opened next Tuesday to provide a new outlet for traffic on the opening day of the baseball season.

Constructed at a cost of $100,000, the V street extension is a 56-foot roadway and constitutes a direct route between Griffith Stadium and streets leading to downtown Washington. All except the sidewalk will be ready when the arteet is opened.

Autogiro Ceiling H By Amelia Earhart

Only Woman Ever to Pilot "Windmill" Plane Goes to 19,000 Feet.

Philadelphia, April 8 (U.P.).—Miss Amelia Earhart made two altitude tests with an autogiro plane at the Pitcairn Airfield, Willow Grove, this afternoon, landing from the second flight at 6:04 p. m.

She reached an unofficial altitude of 19,000 feet in the second test, having soared to 18,500 feet in the first.

In surpassing her first altitude in the late afternoon test Miss Earhart established two records in one day. She is the only woman who ever has piloted one of the "windmill" types of craft. Her record may be approved as a real world one for men as well as women to shoot at. The plane was up 1 hour and 50 minutes on the first flight and 1 hour and 49 minutes on the second.

Lee Highway Detour Advised.

Staunton, Va., April 8 (Special).—T. F. Loughborough, of this city, resident engineer of the State highway department, has advised traffic to the South, over the Lee highway, to go from Lexington to Lynchburg and thence to Roanoke, thus avoiding a bad stretch of construction work between Natural Bridge and Buchanan.

Utility Body Plans Next Electric Step

Refusal of Rate Reduction May Bring Action at Meeting Today.

The Public Utilities Commission at its meeting today will consider its next move in the electric rate controversy and may announce what action I twill take in view of the refusal of the Potomac Electric Power Co. to accept any proposal for a voluntary reduction in revenue.

While the commission has several courses of procedure open, any one of them is likely to head into the equity division of the Supreme Court and to center about the consent decree under which electric rates have been established for the last six years.

The commission will probably also rule on the petition of the Washington Railway & Elcetric Co. to abandon its Foxhall Village-Potomac Heights bus line. It is expected that a compromise arrangement whereby the railway will run buses into the area during morning and evening rush hours and at school-closing time will be ordered.

Famous Plane Used On Hospital Flight

Chicago, April 8 (A.P.).—Riding the skies on an errand of mercy, the famous Army airplane "Question Mark" arrived here late today from Montgomery, Ala., carrying Capt. Edward R. Wren, en route from his home in Talledega, Ala., to Rochester, Minn., for medical treatment.

Capt. Wren, hero of the famous Rainbow Division during the World War, is suffering from a stomach ailment. Yesterday his condition became so serious that physicians decided on an immediate trip to the Mayo clinic at Rochester. The Army Air Corps placed the plane at his disposal after receiving an appeal from the American Legion. The tri-motored plane, famous for a refueling endurance flight in California, was piloted by Lieut. John W. Persons. Capt. Wren, who is making the trip on a stretcher, was accompanied by his father, Dr. A. B. Wren, and an Army sergeant.

All-Angle Parking Rule in Operation

Warnings Will Be Issued at First; Then Offenders Will Get Tickets.

Angle parking became a forbidden practice for autoists last midnight, and policemen were ordered to be on the alert for violators of the new regulation.

Under the new restriction angle parking is forbidden on all streets in the city. All vehicles must park parallel and within 6 inches of the curb. The only exceptions to the rule are commercial vehicles when actually engaged in loading or unloading merchandise.

Inspector E. W. Brown has instructed policemen to make no arrests for violation of the angle parking ban until the autoists have become accustomed to the new rule. He has ordered the policemen to warn violators. The warnings, however, will only be given for a few days, when the policemen will be instructed to give tickets to offenders.

Paralyzed Veteran Commits Suicide

Joseph Hoffer, 30, Shoots Himself to Death at Mount Alto.

Joseph B. Hoffer, 30 years old, a paralyzed war veteran, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head at the Mount Alto Hospital, where he had been a patient for more than a year.

The weapon Hoffer used to kill himself was purchased by him by mail order, and arrived on Tuesday at the hospital. The crippled veteran was in a room on the third floor of B ward when he took his life.

He had attempted to deaden the sound of the shot by wrapping a towel about the gun. Others on the floor heard the muffled report. He died instantly. Coroner J. Ramsay Nevitt issued a certificate of suicide. Hoffer was paralyzed from a fall received while working in San Antonio, Tex., his home city.

POLICE ARREST TWO IN JAYNES KILLING

Jaynes-Lane Link Investigated.

The possibility that the killing of Mrs. Jaynes might be linked with the same hold-up band that fatally wounded James H. Lane, street car motorman, was investigated yesterday by police upon receipt of information that a resident of an apartment in which a Jaynes murder suspect was arrested, overheard someone say: "You killed a motorman and now you killed a 59-year-old woman."

Further investigation, however, revealed that the remark was made by a detective who was interrogating the Jaynes suspects in the apartment house, and it was overheard by another tenant. The incident occurred on Monday night.

FAIRFAX MEN JOIN NEW ROTARY CLUB

Leesburg Visitors Install Organization With 20 Charter Members.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST,
P. O. Box 345, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324W-2.

Business men of the town of Fairfax have organized a Rotary Club with twenty charter members. The movement was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Leesburg, Va., which sent a delegation of fifteen members to the organization banquet held in the Sunday school rooms of the Southern Methodist Church at Fairfax.

The new club was installed by Ed Garrett, district governor. The principal speaker of the evening was Wilber C. Hall, president of the Leesburg Rotary Club. Music was furnished by the Misses Rebecca and Mary Frances Rice. Meetings of the new Fairfax club will be held each Monday between 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon, in the Southern Methodist Church, with luncheon served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

Newly elected officers of the club include: Thomas R. Keith, president; C. T. Rice, vice president; Paul E. Brown, secretary; Edgar Littleton, treasurer, and Dr. Ramsay Taylor, song leader. The board of directors of the club will include T. R. Keith, Dr. J. R. Taylor, C. T. Rice, James E. Nickell and the Rev. Herbert A. Donovan.

The committee on constitution and by-laws will consist of the Rev. H. A. Donovan, Paul E. Brown and C. T. Rice. Other members of the new organization, which is supposed to represent a cross section of business life of the town, include: Wilson M. Farr, John W. Rust, Dr. F. W. Huddleson, R. B. Nickell, Robert D. Graham, John Sission, E. S. Whiting, R. I. Mount, Albert R. Sherwood, and W. R. Gray.

The report of Dr. Robert E. Feagans, health officer for Fairfax County, for the last month, shows that seven new cases of scarlet fever were quarantined by his office and five old cases were released from quarantine. All of the new cases were released after recovery. Two of the cases were in county schools, which were inspected by the health officer.

Thirty-four pupils were excluded from schools for minor ailments, 24 of the number for having mumps. The number of disease cases reported to the health officer by doctors of the county was 255, with most of them listed as influenza. Only on typhoid case is now listed in the county. During the month seventeen laboratory examinations of cultures were made.

In immunization against communicable diseases, 75 children were given the final treatment against diphtheria and 121 children received the first treatment. The health unit of the county is carrying out an educational campaign against diphtheria. The health officer and the county health nurse, Mrs. Fannie Lou Seamons, have lectured to school children and notices are being sent to children's parents urging them to bring preschool children to the clinics conducted by the health unit.

During the month a tubercular clinic was held in Fairfax for five days, with X-ray apparatus being used. Forty-four white persons were examined. Three of these were found to have the disease and fourteen were classed as suspicious, and applications have been filed by two of the positive cases for admission to a sanatorium.

Under the heading of nursing activities the county nurse reported 76 visits to homes in maternity and infancy work and 11 visits for control of communicable diseases. The nurse also conducted three home nursing training classes. These classes are being continued with three lessons each month. In last month 60 high school pupils attended the classes and in the adults' branch eight lessons were given to 132 persons. The groups are taking the State correspondence course for mothers.

A dental clinic was conducted fifteen days last month with cooperation of the county school board and the State health department. Dr. W. R. Devin, a dentist from the State department, examined 221 children i nthe vincinity of Fairfax School. Children from Burke and Fairview were also examined at Fairfax. The dentist made fifteen extractions, 159 fillings, 54 cleanings and gave 7 gum treatments.

Members of the health unit in their talks to school children are urging them to begin saving money for dental work when the dentist visits the schools. The cost of this clinic is divided into three sections, the county paying one-third, the State one-third and the pupil the rest. The clinic is now being conducted among pupils of the Fairview School. The county health nurse is visiting schools throughout the county making arrangements for the annual May day health celebration in the county fair grounds at Fairfax.

Regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Fairfax Volunteer Fire Department was held yesterday i nthe courthouse. Mrs. J. Sidney Wiley was elected president. Four vice presidents elected are Mrs. H. N. Gibson, Mrs. F. N. Larkin, Mrs. H. B. Derr and Mrs. L. E. Dove. Mrs. James E Nickell was elected secretary and Mrs. Lewis Coyner, treasurer.

The special election on a $125,000 bond issue in the town of Falls Church for installation of a municipal water aystem, in which the qualified voters living within the corporate limits of the town will participate, will be held tomorrow in the town hall from sunrise to sunset. Judges of the election will be Councilmen Charles E. Gage and J. V. Turner and Town Clerk J. C. Parrott.

A majority of those voting must support the bond issue in order to assure that it will not be included in the 18 per cent limit of the town's valuation of real estate. This question was passed upon by the resident is being held to exempt this bond issue from the limit provided by the State code.

An athletic association has been formed by pupils of the high school at Herndon. May King was elected president, Kenter Blevens, vice president; Clark Blevens, secretary; Emily Day, treasurer, and Betty Brown, Elane Tate and Robert Bready, cheer leaders.

The Epworth League of the Crossman Methodist Church at Falls Church will hold a banquet this evening in the church dining room under supervision of the girls of the league.

The Kenmore Council, Daughters of American will meet this evening in the auditorium of the Andrew Chapel School House. The council plans to present a double minstrel show Saturday evening in the school auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Day. Music will be provided by the Colvin Run orchestra.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Crossman Methodist Church at Falls Church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Price.

Coal Miner Held Illegally Is Freed

Special to The Washington Post.

Morgantown, W. Va., April 8.—After he had been a prisoner several months in Monongalia County Jail here, county officials discovered that Walter J. Pratt, a coal miner, was being illegally detained and he has been set free.

Pratt was sentenced in April, 1930, on a charge of nonsupport. In January, this year, his wife instituted suit for divorce. During that time Pratt had been working on the county roads and earning $35 monthly, which was turned over to his wife.

Later the law was consulted and it was found that a man can not be held on a charge of nonsupport after his wife starts divorce proceedings. Thereupon Pratt was released.

Son of Champ Clark Seeks Seat of Hawes

Jefferson City, Mo., April 8 (A.P.).—Col. Bennett C. Clark, son of Champ Clark, late Speaker of the House of Representatives, announced here today he would be an candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator from Missouri in 1932. Col. Clark, who was active in the founding of the American Legion, is a St. Louis attorney, and has been active in politics several years.

While Senator Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, has made no announcement as to whether he will run again, the senior Missouri senator and Col. Clark are close friends and Col. Clark has let it be known he would not oppose Senator Hawes.

President to Be Changed At Lincoln Memorial U.

(Associated Press.)

Col. Wade H. Cooper, trustee of Lincoln Memorial University at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., said yesterday the contract of Dr. Robinson Shipherd as president of the institution would not be renewed when it expires June 1.

Col. Cooper said this action had been decided upon by the trustees because Dr. Shipherd's contract was for only one year and because of their desire for a change in administration. "We simply agreed our relations would terminate," Col. Cooper said, adding he had no idea who would succeed the present president.

Confederate Veterans To Bury Crater Dead

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., April 8.—Gen. Carter R. Bishop, grand commander of Confederate Veterans of Virginia, issued an order today for all veterans in the State who can do so to attend the military funeral to be held here on Thursday afternoon next at 4 o'clock of the 29 skeletons of Union soldiers killed in the Battle of the Crater which were dug up on the battlefield a few days ago.

The burial will be made at Poplar Grove Cemetery, in Dinwiddie County, 3 miles from Petersburg, and the service will be conducted by an Army chaplain.

Washington Memorial Permit Given in Virginia

Richmond, Va., April 8 (A.P.).—Gov. Pollard announced today that permission has been granted to the Valley Forge Association to use a cast of the Houdon statue of Washington on the site of the American camp for the association's Washington memorial.

The governor said it will not be necessary to take down the statue here since a cast is in the custody of the Gorham Co., Providence, R. I., and the copy can be made from it.

Death Follows Explosion As Oil Is Used on Fire

Clarksburg, W. Va., April 8.—Burns suffered when crude oil exploded as she was using it to kindle a fire in the kitchen stove caused the death of Miss Emma Hiley, 52, at the home of her brother, Nathan Hiley, farmer, on lower Arnold's Creek in Doddridge County yesterday. Her clothing was ignited.

The victim is survived by six brothers and a sister, all of that section.

CAPITAL WIFE URGES LIMIT FOR BIGAMIST

led to the bigamy case against him was when he married Miss Laura Rhodes, of Stapleton, Staten Island, a Salvation Army lassie, who lent her voice to a demand for a limit sentence for Gooding. He pleaded guilty to marrying her, although he already was married to Mrs. Theresa Malbach Gooding.

The fourth Mrs. Gooding in court was Mrs. Angelica Gerish Gooding, of Washington.

FORGER, BIGAMIST, GETS 110-YEAR TERM

Former Mayor and Head of Bank in Nebraska Is Sentenced.

West Point, Nebr., April 8 (A.P.).—A 110-year prison sentence today was imposed on Paul Wupper, bigamist-banker, who immigrated from Germany to become president of the Beemer, Nebr., State Bank, which collapsed in 1928.

He pleaded guilty in District Court to ten forgery offenses, each of which contained two counts. For the first offense he was sentenced to twenty years in prison and for each of the nine others ten years. The sentences, Judge Chase said, would run consecutively.

Wupper, who is 54 years old, for more than a dozen years ruled Beemer as mayor and was known by his friends as "the little kaiser."

Marital troubles in Philadelphia where he was held for bigamy led to his return to Nebraska. His second wife charged him with bigamy and he admitted to officers that he was wanted in Nebraska in connection with the bank failure, which wiped out the savings of hundreds of residents of this county, including his own wife, who now lives at Fremont.

Philadelphia, April 8 (A.P.).—Mrs. Hedwig Brinkmann, second wife of Paul Wupper, when informed today of her bigamous husband's sentence of 110 years for embezzlement, appeared surprised for a moment, then said, "I feel sorry for him."

"He only expected to get ten years," she said. "I wouldn't have pressed the charges of bigamy against him if he had told me he had a wife and children. I would have let him go. I'm sorry the embezzlement charge ever developed."

Drought Situation Held Encouraging

1,000,000 Still Being Fed; Nicaraguan Aid Given; Arkansas Lauded.

(Associated Press.)

The drought situation was described as encouraging yesterday by Chairman Payne, of the American Red Cross. After discussing relief activities with President Hoover, the chairman said approximately 1,000,000 persons are still fed daily and that the feeding program probably will be continued until early June.

Meanwhile Ernest J. Swift, Red Cross representative in Managua, reported to national headquarters that the organization is feeding about 20,000 "absolutely dependent" earthquake victims with the cooperation of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

Payne said gardens would begin producing in the drought section in early June, which would relieve the Red Cross burden considerably. Production already has started in Mississippi, Louisiana and other southerly States. Payne said no additional call for funds would be necessary. He praised the spirit prevailing in all the drought States, particularly Kansas.

"She has her talk over the dashboard," he smiled, "if you know what I mean. It's another way of saying the morale is excellent."

Woman Is Found In Room Wounded

Mrs. Betty Warner, Federal Employe, Shot Herself, Police Say.

Mrs. Betty Warner, 40 years old, a clerk in the State Department, was found yesterday in an apartment on Seventeenth street near M street northwest with a bullet wound near her heart.

Mrs. Warner was discovered lying on a bed by Jesse Nelson, a janitor, after he had been attracted to the room by groans. Police said that Mrs. Warner had been lying on the bed for five hours before discovery by the janitor.

In the room a note was found which read, "Life is too hard." Friends said she had been ill for about a week. She worked at the State Department for the last two years, having gone there from the Veterans' Bureau. Her condition is serious. She is in Emergency Hospital. Mrs. Wafner came to this city from Waterlown, Fla.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 15c, 30c, 60c.

RED CROSS CLASSES HOLD GRADUATION

Gen. Pershing Gives Gray Ladies Certificates at Commencement.

Exercises marking the graduation of the staff assistants and the gray ladies classes of District Chapter, American Red Cross, were held yesterday morning in the hall of service at the Red Cross Building, on Seventeenth street northwest. Leading officials of the organization, both local and national, and prominent persons interested in Red Cross affairs were present.

At the beginning of the ceremony there was processional music, and then the two groups made their entrance and took their places for the address of welcome which was made by Brig. Gen. Frank R. Keefer, chairman of the District of Columbia section of the American Red Cross.

Gen. John J. Pershing, as a representative of the National Red Cross, was formally presented, and he officiated at the awarding of the graduation certificates. Miss Mabel Boardman, secretary of the national association, awarded service pins to the groups.

May Day Proclaimed As Child Health Day

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover touched upon a subject in which he is intensely interested yesterday in issuing a proclamation designating May Day as Child Health Day.

The Chief Executive requested the governors of the States to declare May Day as a time for consideration of all measures for the health of children. In this connection he called attention to the "children's charter" formulated by the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection which was called largely as a result of the President's interest in child welfare. Congress in a resolution at the last session authorized the President to proclaim annually May Day as Child Health Day.

THORNE'S MURDER IS LAID TO FIGHT

The previous day the county authorities also had unexpectedly given an unconditional release from the jail to Edward Carl Schaefer, 26-year-old clarinetist in the Marine Band, of Hamilton street near Seventh street northwest, who had been picked up Sunday at the home of a relative in Beltsville, Md., because his face bore fresh scars, leading Sheriff Garrison to connect him with a recent fight.

Activity of investigators indicated that suspicion for the crime was not centered on any individual.

Several Women Grilled.

Garrison and Detective James Collins, of the Washington department, yesterday questioned several women and several Marines who knew Thorne.

Constable Blackwell said last night that reports of the finding of a bloody handkerchief had been erroneous. He explained that he had received a letter from a man who claimed to have seen a handkerchief in the woods near the grave on March 15, but that the man did not pick up the article, nor could he find it in an extensive search.

Two former marines, both of whom served with Thorne at the Marine Barracks until their honorable discharge, and who are under ten-year sentences at the District Reformatory, Lorton, Va., were held ta the District Jail yesterday after their transfer here to undergo questioning in connection with this case.

They are Clarence P. Hulse, 24 years old, of Baltimore, and Samuel A. Johnson, 23 years old, of G street, near Sixth street northeast, who were sentenced recently upon conviction on three charges of robbery.

The body of Thorne was shipped yesterday to his home in Hagen, Ga. The 25-year-old private was on duty at the Marine Barracks until he went absent without leave on the morning of January 17, when he failed to return from a twelve-hour liberty period.

France Simplifies Visits Of Certain U. S. Clubs

(Associated Press.)

Passport formalities will be waived for delegations from nonpolitical American associations visiting the International Overseas Exposition in Paris from May to October.

The French embassy announced yesterday that the only formality required by its government for this class of visitor would be "the visa of a French consul, at a nominal fee of 20 cents."

Representatives of groups like the American Legion, Daughters of the American Revolution, various women's clubs and any other association "without any political character" are included.

GOOD-WILL WINNERS COMPETE SATURDAY

Teachers Must Report Flag Essay Choices by Noon Tomorrow.

Names of all winners in the good-will trip to Europe contest being conducted by the United States Flag Association with the cooperation of The Washington Post, must be in the hands of the Flag Association officials by tomorrow at noon. This is necessary in order that the Flag Association officials may be able to check up and find out that every high school, public or private, which applied for application blanks, is represented. Teachers who have been marking the essays written by the students are requested to have the nams of the succesful boy and girl representing their school at Flag Association national headquarters, 923 Fifteenth street northwest, by noon tomorrow.

One boy and one girl from each high school, senior or junior, will compete in the preliminary test at Franklin School Building Saturday, taking a written examination in the morning and an oral test in the afternoon. The written examination, designed to test the knowledge of the contestant on American history, ideals and institutions and the United States flag, will be conducted by an official of the United States Flag Association. The oral quiz, in the afternoon, designed to test the general intelligence of the contestants, will be conducted by a group of distinguished educators from Georgetown University and George Washington University.

Judges of Quizzes.

Miss Anna P. Cooper, assistant professor of English; Miss Irene Cornwell, assistant professor of French, and Miss Martha Gibbon, instructor in English, will represent George Washington University, while Georgetown University will be represented by Prof. William McKee, M. A., instructor in English; Prof. J. Joseph Mulvey, A. M., LL. B., professor of modern languages, and Prof. John J. O'Connor, professor of history.

Because the preliminary test Saturday is largely along educational lines, it was desired to have educators as the judges and as all high schools in the city, public and private, are participating in the contest, it was deemed best not to select judges from the teachers of these schools, so Flag Association officials appealed to the two universities and obtained the necessary complement of judges.

Names of the representatives of each school will probably be announced in The Washington Post Saturday morning. Teachers who are grading the papers are expected to inform the winning students of their selection by tomorrow night, after the winning essays have been turned in to Flag Association headquarters. The association will send to The Post all names received up to noon tomorrow, but a student who has qualified and has been so informed by his teacher will be eligible, even if his name has failed to reach the Flag Association in time for publication Saturday morning.

Students Must Be Prompt.

One hard and fast rule has been laid down by officials of the Flag Association. The students must be present before 9 o'clock Saturday morning at Franklin School Building, Thirteenth and K streets northwest. Failure to arrive on time bars the student from the preliminary test. This has to be done in order that the examinations may start promptly on time so that they can be completed in time for the assembling of the names of the winners for publicatoin Sunday morning.

There will be selected by the judges six boys and six girls who will compete in the finals, one week from Saturday, and they will be judged on their essays, written examinations and oral quizzes.

It is no secret that the essays being printed daily in The Washington Post will have some bearing on the questions that are to be asked, and contestants are again urged by officials of the United States Flag Association to read The Post carefully every morning in order that they may keep pace with any changes in program or other happenings which may occur.

Because of the large number of contestants who will enter the preliminary test, it is possible that the judges will be divided into three committees, each of which will select two boys and two girls. This may have to be done in order to conserve time.

All plans for the test will be finally announced at the Franklin School Building Saturday morning and any preliminary changes will be announced in The Washington Post tomorrow morning.

M'ADOO SEES PARTY VICTORY IN ECONOMICS

shown by a recent statement of Secretary of Commerce Lamont.

"When we reflect there must be an average of at least two dependent persons on each of the 6,000,000 unemployed, we can get some idea of the magnitude of the problem which these 18,000,000 people, largely without means of existence, presents to the country.

"Is liquor the Democratic answer to this vital problem? If it is, then the party is too impoverished in ideas to enter even a snail's race."

The former Secretary of the Treasury in the Wilson Cabinet and one of the outstanding candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1924, expressed the belief a fight over liquor was only "a sham battle, because the eighteenth amendment is here to stay anyway, and the quicker we recognize it the better for Democratic usefulness."

In the end, he wrote, if the fight over prohibition continues, the States should exercise their rights to deal with it as they saw fit.

Rather than quarrel over prohibition, he advised, the party should devote itself, if intrusted with power, to a solution not only of unemployment, but of agricultural problems, effective regulation of trusts and monopolies and a system of unemployment insurance and old age pensions.

Debunking of Patriotism Seen Means to End War

This is the ninth of a series of essays of the flag which are intended to assist entrants in The Post-United States Flag Association "Essay of Friendship Contest" in preparing for the preliminary test to be held April 11.

By COL. JAMES A. MOSS,
U. S. Army, Retired, President General, United States Flag Association.

Neither religion, statesmanship, nor diplomacy having yet been able to prevent war, many of us ask ourselves, "Will it ever be possible to establish permanent peace among the nations of the world?" Some of the world's deepest students of the subject answer, "Yes; but only through lasting universal friendship based on confidence, understanding, tolerance and justice." However, such friendship is not possible until the war instinct which is innate in man and which since the day of his creation has been one of the dominant influences of his existence, has been brought under complete control. As every student of the biology of war knows, all wars, whatever their immediate causes, germinate from the war instinct in man, which, as history shows, when aroused causes him to make scraps of paper out of all peace treaties and other antiwar pacts made when the doves of peace are cooing. Only through the slow processes of education can the war instinct ever be controlled. But the time to educate man is when he is a child. So, we see that the solution of the age-old problem of the abolition of war is to be found only in the education of the childhood of the earth in world friendship founded on confidence, understanding, tolerance and justice. The first step in this education is the teaching of sane, rational patriotism. In other words, "debunking" much of the so-called patriotism that always has been and is still being taught the children of America and the other countries of the world.

Capital Stores' Expenses Take $28 Out of $100 Sales

Total Pay Rolls Are Almost One-Half Those of Government Departments and Agencies; $43,649,510 Goes Annually to 34,473 Employes.

Salaries and operating costs eat up $28.08 out of every $100 that Washington retail establishments receive in sales, and the pay rolls of these stores is almost one-half of that of the Government departments and agencies, it was disclosed in the census of retail distribution for the District, officially presented to the Merchants and Manufacturers Association by John Guernsey, who was in charge of the census, at a meeting last night at the Willard.

The retail census report for Washington is the first to be issued; similar ones are to be issued for other cities. An address to the merchants and manufacturers on the significance of the retail census to the country in general was made by Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Commerce. Mr. Klein was introduced by Mark Lansburgh, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, who presided at the meeting.

Annual Pay Roll Given.

The total annual pay roll of the 5,917 retail stores in Washington is $43,649,510, it was revealed. Of this sum, $41,947,534 is paid to 30,677 full-time employes, and $1,701,976 is paid to 3,796 part-time employes. Mr. Guernsey said. There are 5,030 owner proprietors who do not appear on the pay roll. Estimate was made that the income of the owner proprietors would add $6,865,593 to the pay roll, making a total of $50,515,103, or 15.22 per cent of the total sales of the retail establishments.

The expenses consumed by the $28.08 on every $100 consists of salaries, rent, delivery, supplies, light and power. The expenses do not include the cost of merchandise sold nor profit. Of the 5,917 stores, only 929 are owned, and 48 are partly owned and partly leased. The remainder are rented or leased.

The rental cost of these premises averages $4.36 for each $100 of net sales, it was disclosed. All other expenses, except rent and carrying charges on owned and partly owned premises, for which rental equivalent is included in the above figures, amount to $28.08 on every $100 net sales, it was stated.

3,307 Stores Sell for Cash.

Of the 5,917 stores, 3,307 sell entirely for cash, and 2,047 reported that they do all or part of their business on credit. Of the total retail sales, 40.3 per cent is cash business in all cash stores; 24.5 per cent is cash business in stores which extend credit, and 35.2 per cent is credit business, it was shown. The stores which do some or all of their business for credit reported that 41 per cent of sales are credit ales and 59 per cent are cash sales.

Only 163 stores reported that they sell on the installment plan. Their sales totaled $82,977,413, it was revealed. Of this amount, 36.5 per cent was for cash, 28.1 per cent was on open charge accounts and 35.4 per cent on the installment basis.

Sales of $81,857,516, or 25 per cent of the total retail business, was reported by the 2,389 food stores in the District. Of this number 533 are grocery stores, with sales of $14,369,424, while 215 are meat markets with sales of $4,131,801, and 1,036 are combination stores (groceries and meats) with sales of $42,770,878.

The ten department stores reported sales of $45,937,655. Total sales of $5,830,107 were reported by the 94 dry goods stores and 10 general stores, and 49 variety, 5 and 10 and to-a-dollar stores.

$50,215,080 Auto Business.

The automotive group, with 573 establishments, did a business of $50,215,080, or 15 per cent of the total retail business. The apparel group of 679 stores reported a business of $42,273,376, or 12.74 per cent. This latter group consists of 184 men's stores and 116 women's specialty shops, 67 clothing stores, 72 millinery shops, 119 shoe stores, 24 fur shops, 14 hosiery stores, and 83 other apparel and accessory shops.

The census report disclosed that 42 per cent of the drug store business in the District is in prescriptions, drugs and pharmaceuticals. Candy, ice cream and soda fountain sales are more than 31 per cent, and the tobacco counter takes in 12½ per cent of the total drug store sales. Books, toilet articles, cosmetics and miscellaneous merchandise make up the balance.

These figures were supplied by 21 stores with aggregate net sales of $1,450,655, representing about 9 per cent of the total drug store business in Washington. A total of 234 drug stores reported with sales totaling $15,646,993. Of these stores, 175 are single store independents with sales of $5,506,930, while 19 local multi-units reported sales of $967,493, and 40 units of sectional and national chains do a business of $9,142,570, it was shown.

Business Encroachment Shown.

Encroachment of one business upon another was brought out by the fact that fruit and vegetable stores do only 82½ per cent of their business in fruits and vegetables, the balance consisting of groceries and meats. Grocery stores with meat departments now find that 41 per cent of their business is in fresh meats and poultry, it was shown.

Ten per cent of automobile accessory stores' sales are of gas and oil, while the filling stations reported that more than 14 per cent of their sales are of accessories, tires and batteries.

The lumber and building group, with 215 stores and yards, reported 1,354 full-time employes and a total retail business of $15,414,134. This group includes retail lumber yards (exclusive of planing mills) and hardware, electrical, heating and paint and glass stores.

CERMAK PROMISES TO DUST GANGSTERS

The British journalists wanted to know whether Mr. Cermak felt like Mr. Thompson about "busting King George on the snoot." They were assured that the king need fear no further threats from Chicago's chief executive.

Mr. Cermak said he planned to resign the commissionership and plunge immediately into the wrecking of the famous Thompson political machine, the reorganization of the police department, the refinancing of the city government and the chasing away of Chicago's multitudinous gangsters.

He bested Mr. Thompson by more than 190,000 votes in yesterday's election, the greatest majority ever given a mayoralty candidate in Chicago.

Prague, Czechoslovakia, April 8 (U.P.).—The election of Anton J. Cermak as Mayor of Chicago was hailed today throughout the country, particularly at Kladno, near Prague, Mr. Cermak's home town.

Some papers used page-wide banner headlines, with pictures and editorial comment. No paper expressed any sorrow at the passing of "Big Bill."

Lewis-Cermak Union May Cement Machine

(United Press.)

The National political significance of the election of Anton J. Cermak as Chicago lies in the fact that he and Senator J. Hamilton Lewis (Democrat), Illinois, are now in a position to cement together a powerful political machine.

This is a possible future development, however, and political observers, viewing the Cermak big margin over William Hale Thompson, were inclined to believe that local issues were by far the largest factor in the division of ballots in Tuesday's election.

The Democratic National Committee, through Senator Thomas Gore (Democrat), Oklahoma, exulted over the election of Mr. Cermak, as indicating a 1932 trend. But Republicans, refraining from official interpretations, privately scoffed, and said national issues meant nothing to Chicago voters Tuesday.

The blind Oklahoman, who defeated a Republican incumbent last November, said Mr. Cermak's victory was a logical sequence to Mr. Lewis' victory in the Illinois senatorial election last November.

If Mr. Lewis and Mr. Cermak, who are political allies, succeed in building up a strong political machine, it would go far to perpetuate the Democrats in power in future elections. Mr. Lewis campaigned for Mr. Cermak. The mayor has thousands of valuable jobs and other patronage at his disposal. Developments might go far in changing the line-up of the Illinois delegation in Congress. The State has been almost rock-ribbed Republican,—and dry—as far as congressional and presidential elections are concerned, for years.

George V Is Amused By Chicago Returns

Windsor, England, April 8 (U.P.).—King George V, recovering from a slight attack of bronchitis at Windsor Castle, read stories of the Chicago mayoralty elections with high interest and amusement during the day.

He perused the papers relating the defeat of Mayor William Hale Thompson, and then ate with renewed zest, persons attached to the royal household confided. There was reason to believe that some of his improvement, at least, was due to his amusement at the election returns.

MADEIRA PREPARES TO FIGHT PORTUGAL

Rebels Mobilize at Funchal After Seizing Three Ships of Mother Country.

Funchal, Madeira, April 8 (A.P.).—Gen. Sousa Dias, who has taken over the post of head of the Junta in control of this city, today ordered a part mobilization of reserve forces, threatening severe penalties for those who evaded service.

While troops were on the way from Lisbon, three Portuguese ships in the Lisbon-Madeira-Azores service have fallen into the hands of the rebels. The steamers Alenter and Guinea put into Funchal unaware of the troubles here since they are not equipped with wireless. The Carvalho Araujo was seized when she arrived from Lisbon to take on cargo.

Lisbon, April 8 (A.P.).—Despite efforts to restore peace, reports tonight said the rebels were persisting in their early demands that the Lisbon dictatorship retire before they treat with the government.

Because of this defiant attitude, the government was determined to press measures previously agreed upon to put down the revolt. This does not preclude the possibility of taking the city by armed force under the protection of warships in the harbor. The first contingent of an expeditionary force was dispatched to the island from here yesterday.

For the time being, it is announced, no withdrawal of the American colony from Madiria is contemplated. This was decided after the American minister here conferred with the foreign office on the situation. The American and British embassies also communicated with their representatives at Funchal during the day.

Capital Campaign Body Meets Today

Board of Trade Group Is to Get Drive Reports at Luncheons.

The second meeting of the Greater National Capital committee of the Board of Trade will be held in the form of a luncheon today at the Mayflower Hotel. Robert V. Fleming, chairman of the committee, will preside.

Reports from business groups, representing virtually every phase of business activity in Washington, are expected to swell the fund of $28,750 which has been subscribed thus far to put the campaign in operation. A quota of $55,000 has been set for the first year's work. A quota has also been set for each business activity in the District, and subcommittees are endeavoring to collect the prescribed amounts.

The National Capital committee aims "to sell" Washington business men on the idea that for every dollar they put in the campaign they will be repaid three-fold by the new business that will be brought to Washington as a result. One of the prime objectives of the campaign is to bring more tourists and conventions to Washington with a view to converting many visitors into permanent residents.

Foxhall Village Gives Keech Commendation

Peoples' Counsel Richmond B. Keech was commended for his presentation of the Foxhall Village Citizens Association's case for continuance of bus service through the village, at Public Utility Commission hearings, at a meeting last night in the Parish Hall of St. Patrick's Chapel, Reservoir road.

The resolution was adopted following a report on the hearings by Robert A. Cooper, chairman of the association's public utilities committee. The association not only contended for maintenance of tre service, but for its extension to the Burleith line. Col. Henry S. Merrick, president, presided at last night's meeting.

POST-ZAIN ADS EASY WRITING TRIALS SHOW

number you may write or the prizes you may win.

Sample of Ad Writing.

The Arthur Jordan Piano Co., 1229 G street northwest, corner Thirteenth and G, Washington's leading music and radio store. Brunswick radios, as well as all the leading makes. Mason & Hamlin, Chickering, Marshall & Wendell, and many other fine pianos—also Ampico. Jordan's budget plan of buying is perhaps the most popular budget system used in the purchase of pianos. You are always welcome to create your own music, or have these fine radios and pianos played for you by courteous salespeople.

One of the most popular ad subjects has been automatic gas heat, sponsored by the Washington Gas Light Co., another local concern participating in our contest. Ads received to date have stressed its clean, effortless and efficient operation. Others have laid emphasis on the company's excellent service and the benefits of gas in the modern home. Contestants have noted that a single match can start a heating system that adjusts itself to an even temperature. No ashes to contend with, no fuel bins, no dirt.

For Bakery Ad.

Here is a sample that might have been sent in on Associated Bakery Unions:

Every loaf of Washington-baked bread that comes into your home was mixed, blended and properly baked by "Master Bakers"—thoroughly experienced union men. Washington-baked bread is wholesome.

Only the best of high quality ingredients are used by local bakeries in making their products. Washington-baked bread is PURE.

Bread made by local bakeries is rushed directly to your home or your store right out of the ovens. Washington-baked bread is FRESH.

Every bakery operating within the District of Columbia is constantly and regularly inspected by health officers for cleanliness and sanitation. Washington-baked bread is SAFE.

Advertising on Moving.

Merchants Transfer & Storage Co., nationally known for their famous slogan, "We Move Anything," is going to provide as lively a subject for an ad as any of the foregoing three. No one has lived any length of time in Washington, moved from one home to another, or had occasion to place their furniture in storage, that has not been apprised of the merits of this old established storage and transfer organization.

Or you might sit down right now and try an ad on W. Waverly Taylor, and his "Taylor-Made Homes" in the exclusive Foxall Development. This reliable real estate firm stresses the construction features of its houses, which have "double fronts" heavy slate roofs, double floors, and are constructed of the same brick used in the new British Embassy. Instead of back yards, Taylor-built houses have gardens. You might ride out to 4400 Volta place and look over one of their model homes before you write your ad. The development is virtually surrounded by parks.

RULES FOR CONTEST

1—$10,000 in prizes to be distributed over seven weeks of amateur ad writing.
2—$1,000 in cash will be given for the best ad written by an amateur during the entire Post-Zain ad-writing campaign. To compete for this prize it will be necessary for contestants to write at least one ad about each of the 35 firms participating in the ad contest.
3—Grand weekly award of $100 will be given each week for the best ads during six periods of the ad-writing contest.
4—Five merchandise prizes for each of the 35 concerns will be given weekly during six weeks of the campaign.
5—Ads for the first week of the Post-Zahn ad-writing campaign must be received prior to noon, Wednesday, April 15.
6—Ads submitted in competition for the grand award of $1,000 must be received prior to midnight, May 27.
7—Any one anywhere may compete for the prizes with the exception of newspaper employes and members of the advertising profession.
8—There are no obligations. No coupons to clip, no entrance fees to pay, no subscriptions to buy. One person may submit as many ads as he chooses. The more ads you write, the more prizes you may receive. The Post-Zain ad-writing contest may be entered at any time. Ads may be written about one or all concerns.
9—Write your ideas on one side only of a sheet of paper at least twice the size of a postcard. Place the name of the concern about which you are writing in the upper left-hand corner of the page. Place your own name and address, also telephone number, on the reverse of the advertisement and the envelope. Your contribution may be a slogan, a poem, a regular advertisement, a letter of testimonial, or an essay.
10—Winning advertisements will be selected by a committee of advertising experts. In the event of a tie, awards will be made to both.
11—All advertisements received become the property of the concerns about which they are written.

Ad-Writing Suggestions.

Prizes are given for ideas, not for grammar, spelling, punctuation, art work or layout.

Your ideas are likely to be new and original; your idea may win one or more prizes.

Germany Is Called Leader in Trade

Toledo Chamber Man Says New Republic Heads All Europe in Progress.

Germany was portrayed as the most progressive country in Europe today by Robert J. Eustace, industrial commissioner of the Toledo, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce, who has just returned from a trip to Germany. He delivered an address yesterday before the Washington Rotary Club at its luncheon at the Willard Hotel.

The speaker described Germany as a country throbbing with the powerful rhythm of the Twentieth Century, studded with cities of immense size, its railroads carrying dense traffic at phenomenal speed; its airways filled day and night with hundreds of huge airplanes.

Mr. Eustace depicted the present unemployment crisis in Germany, which he said is more tense than our own, but has not diminished the progressive achievement of the country. The speaker told of 78 conferences he had with outstanding German leaders, and repeated their comments on world affairs.

Charles Williams Funeral Is Today

Body of Minister's Son Is Sent to Virginia for Last Rites.

Services will be conducted in Westmoreland County, Va., this afternoon for Charles Williams, 20-year-old son of the Rev. C. N. Williams, who died of a heart attack as he was driving an automobile early yesterday morning. Brief rites will be held at the Hines funeral home at 9:45 a. m., before members of the family start on the southward trip with the body.

The youth and two companions, Joseph King and Ollie Trew, were driving back to Washington after having spent the Easter holidays with relatives in Westmoreland County, when the clergyman's son, who for several years had suffered with heart disease, was stricken suddenly as the car approached Highway Bridge.

King grabbed the wheel and drove to Emergency Hospital, where young Williams was pronounced dead.

The Rev. Mr. Williams, who is state secretary of Christian Churches in the Capital area; Mrs. Williams, the youth's mother, and a sister, Miss Louise Williams, survive. Their home is at 1431 Meridan place.

2 COUNTERFEITERS JUST MISS ARREST

Special to The Washington Post.

Hagerstown, Md., April 8.—Two men, suspected of having circulated 20 counterfeit $5 bills in the Cumberland Valley, left their boarding house here today just five minutes before secret service men arrived to arrest them. They are said to have taken with them a diamond ring and a stickpin, the property of their landlady, Mrs. Bertha L. Pinfrock.

The men, who posed as father and son, had been at the house several days, saying they were A. M. Kilburne and Farnham Kilburne, of Baltimore. This morning the older man began to work on their car. As he started his engine, the younger man ran from the house and leaped into the car, which then sped away. They had apparently lowered their baggage from a window during the night and placed it in the car.

The younger man remained in the room at all times, according to Mrs. Prinfrock. She observed a number of bottles of colored ink and what appeared to be engraved plates. Secret service men said that the counterfeit bills were poorly executed.

When the pair came to the woman's home they drove a car with Ohio licenses, which were later changed for District of Columbia tags.

Will of Johnson Is Placed on File

The will of Holcombe G. Johnson, prominent insurance operator and a senior member of the firm of Johnson & Adams, insurance agents, was filed for probate yesterday. Mr. Johnson died March 27 at his home, 3010 Ellicott street northwest.

The estate is composed of a small amount of real estate and personal property valued at $374,514.09. Of this amount, $196,000 is taken up by debts, according to the papers. In addition to the property listed in the will, there is a large equity in the premises at 3010 Ellicott street, which Mr. Johnson held jointly with his wife.

Mrs. Lillian F. Johnson is listed as the beneficiary of the income of the estate which is to be held in trust by the Washington Loan & Trust Co. If, at any time, she desires more money than the income provides, she can secure such by asking for more from the body of the estate, a provision in the will states. Besides the wife, a son survives.

The specific bequests provided for in the will are $1,000 for Fisher G. Johnson, of Lambertville, N. J., and $500 each to Claughton West, of Washington, and Marvin G. Holcombe, also of Washington.

Attack With Penknife Charged After Quarrel

James Pridgeon, 21 years old, of I street near Thirteenth street northwest, was charged with assault yesterday following an altercation Tuesday night in which Pridgeon is alleged to have cut the face of Arthur Biazzi, 28 years old, of Thirteenth street near K street northwest.

The altercation occurred in a poolroom on E street near Thirteenth street northwest. Biazzi was treated at Emergency Hospital for cuts inflicted by a pen knife.

$130,250 Contract Let On School Addition

A contract for the construction of the Powell Junior High School addition was awarded yesterday, by the District Commissioners to the Northeastern Construction Co., of Baltimore, on its estimate of $130,250.

The school, which is on Hiatt place, between Irving street, and Park road, is to have a third story of eight rooms, together with a gymnasium. The project is the last on the 1931 school construction program.

FUNERAL SET TODAY FOR HENRY ORTH, JR.

Former Patent Attorney Will Be Buried This Afternoon at Glenwood.

Funeral services for Henry Orth, jr., 61 years old, of 1510 Hamilton street northwest, who died at his residence Tuesday night after a six months' illness, will be conducted at the home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment following in Glenwood. The Rev. H. W. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and the Rev. J. J. Queally, pastor of the Church of the Transfiguration, will officiate.

Mr. Orth was a prominent local patent attorney, and a native of this city, receiving his early education in the public schools of Washington. He was a graduate of Lehigh University in mining engineering, and also received a degree of bachelor of science there. Later he attended the old Columbian College here, now the George Washington University, receiving the degrees of master of science, bachelor of arts, master of arts, bachelor of laws and doctor of laws, at that place.

He was a recognized authority in metallurgy, and used his scientific training in the practice of patent law. He practised law first with his father, the late Henry Orth, under the firm name of Orth & Son. After the death of his father, in 1909, the name of his firm was changed to Henry Orth, jr. He was a member of the Patent Bar Association.

He was married to Miss Mary Emma Beall, of this city, and is survived by his widow and a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Caroline Orth, and also a sister, Miss Caroline Sophie Orth, all of this city.

SUGAR IMPROVES FLAVOR OF MEAT AND VEGETABLES

Try a Dash of Sugar to a Pinch of Salt

Cooks who are successful in the art of making vegetables appetizing depend upon two rules: First, cook raw vegetables in as little water as possible. Canned vegetables should not be recooked—merely heated thoroughly. Second, season with sugar as well as salt.

Salt, by itself, merely overcomes flatness. Sugar, however, brings out the flavor of the vegetable. And when the two are combined an unusually appetizing goodness is developed. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a good rule to follow.

The more one experiments with sugar and salt in seasoning string beans, cabbage, spinach, peas, carrots and other vegetables, the more apparent is the flavor value of this combination. Doctors and dietitians approve this use of sugar as a flavor. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

$600,000 BORLAND ACT REFUND SEEN

Months of Intensive Work Will Be Required, Richards Says.

Reimbursements to property owners who paid assessments for roadway paving under the old Borland act are expected to total $600,000 or more and to constitute about 40 per cent of the collections for the past three years, William P. Richards, tax assessor, said yesterday in announcing that a new form sheet had been evolved to facilitate the reassessments under the new law.

The estimate, made on the basis of actual figures obtained from reassessments on representative pieces of property, is double that given at the time of the passage of the new Borland act.

Besides pointing out that the tedious job of reassessing approximately 12,000 pieces of property will in itself require months of intense work, Mr. Richards added that the money for reimbursements can not be obtained except by a congressional appropriation and that consequently it would be another year before any actual repayments are made.

The form sheet that has been prepared after conferences with the corporation counsel, the auditor and the Engineer Department, has 21 columns of accounts relating to any one lot or parcel of land. The form will give the limitations placed by the new law as to maximum and minimum assessments, the amount paid on the old assessment, the reassessment, the difference, if any, and the excess payments.

"These tables will facilitate the work to be done by our office, but it will require several months of labor to finish some 800 cancellations involving 12,000 or more lots," Mr. Richards said, "and following these cancellations work will have to be done on the current assessments; that is, work completed during the past year."

Mr. Richards' estimate of $600,000 in repayments was based on collections of approximately $1,500,000 during the three years past, covered by the new act.

The new Borland law, besides providing for assessments in the paving of roadways, as the old act did, also requires assessments for the laying of gutters and curbs, the tax assessor points out. Nevertheless, the reassessments for the most part will run considerably lower, because there are certain exemptions and certain limitations as to assessments against corner lots, short lots or irregularly formed parcels of land in the new act.

Blue Law Opponents Convene Here May 2

A national anti-blue law convention, "for the purposes of mobilizing the forces that fight intolerance and bigotry," will meet in Washington May 2 and 3, officials of the National Association Opposed to Blue Laws announced yesterday.

Mayor Spencer M. De Golier, of Bradford, Pa., honorary president, will make the principal address, it was said. Rupert Hughes, Sinclair Lewis, Gov. George W. P. Hunt of Arizona, Maryland Secretary of State David C. Winebrenner, E. Haldeman-Julius and Clarence Darrow all have been invited to attend, it was stated.

DUPLICATE PLAY FOR POST'S BRIDGE TOURNEY EXPLAINED

Those Washington players who have taken part in tournaments elsewhere where the play is in duplicate and who are entered in the local tournament are confident that the novices at duplicate will have no difficulty in easily acquainting themselves with the system.

Miss Mazie Bule, one of the most prominent of Washington players, who has had wide experience in tournaments and in duplicate, and who is assisting in the conduct of the forthcoming event, gives a brief and comprehensive explanation of the method employed.

Duplicate games require use of duplicate boards for keeping the four hands of each deal separate, so that each deal may be replayed by all teams.

The boards are numbered in regular order on the reverse side. An arrow on each board indicates the position in which the board is to be placed on the table for play. This arrow always points to the position designated as North. Each board has four pockets and one of them is marked "Dealer." The one sitting opposite this word is the first bidder. The pockets are marked in regular order with reference to the arrow, so that with the boards numbered also in regular order, each player has the opportunity of being "Dealer" or having the first bid, once during the play of each four boards.

When play starts, the cards are taken from a sealed deck, shuffled and dealt by any player, as in an ordinary open game, and each of the four hands is placed in its proper pocket. When the board is placed on the table for play with the arrow pointing to the North, each player takes the hand from the pocket in front of him, the one sitting opposite the word "Dealer" having the first bid. Bidding then proceeds as in an open game. Instead of the cards to each trick being placed in the center of the table when the play begins, each player places the card he plays in front of him, the declarer indicating to the "dummy" the card he wishes played.

When all have played to the trick, each player, including the "dummy," turns his card face down in front of him lengthwise toward opponents if he loses the trick and vertically toward his partner if he wins. When the play of the board is completed, the tricks taken by each side are noted, checked and scored accordingly. Each player then counts the hand he has played to be certain that it still contains thirteen cards and returns the entire hand to the pockets from which he originally took it. This constitutes all there is to the play of one board. That board is then passed on to the next lower numbered table and in its place another is received from the next higher numbered table, and thus the play of all the boards is continued.

There is no "bidding to the score" in duplicate, and there are no rubber games. Every deal is played on its merits and is regarded as complete in itself. When the Declarer makes a game on a hand his side scores a bonus of 125 points at Auction and 300 points at Contract, if not vulnerable. If the winning side is vulnerable that side scores a 500 bonus. Trick scores and honors are computed as in open games.

At Contract once during the play of each four boards each side is vulnerable, once not vulnerable, once neither is vulnerable and once both are vulnerable. This condition is indicated on the boards and remains the same whenever played by any team. Also each player in the course of the play of four boards is once the "Dealer" and entitled to first bid.

This is the simple plan of the play, and is easily comprehended even by a novice as soon as a single board is played. It is the only method that eliminates "the luck of the game" and gives each player full opportunity to display his skill.

23 Bid for Overpass On Arlington Boulevard

Twenty-three bids were opened yesterday by the Arlington Bridge Memorial Commission for the construction of the overpass which will connect the Virginia end of the bridge with Arlington Cemetery, Maj. O. H. Gillette, chief engineer, announced.

Estimates ranged from $51,000 to $95,000, according to Maj. Gillette, and J. W. Coleman, of Clarendon, is believed to be low, though the bids have not yet been analyzed. The overpass will carry the Arlington Bridge boulevard over the tracks of the Rosslyn branch of the Pennsylvania Railway.

Dismissal of Suit Citing Rheem Co. Is Sought

Dismissal of the suit brought by Eldridge P. Rhoderick and others against the Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. and the Shoreham Investment Co. was asked in the District Supreme Court yesterday by C. Bascom Slemp and Louis Titus for the investment company and J. Barrett Carter for the plaintiff.

The Rheem company declares the notess on the Shoreham Building had been paid in full when the $2,250,000 deed of trust was released by the Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. on July 16, 1930. The attorneys ask that the suit brought by Rhoderick be dismissed because all of the terms of the trust were fully observed.

SUIT FOR BELLEVUE RECEIVER DISMISSED

Action Here, However, Will Not Affect Procedure in Delaware.

The suit of Minnie Strassner to have a receiver appointed for the Bellevue, Inc., owners of the Bellevue Hotel, 15 E street northwest, was dismissed by Justice Jesse Adkins, it was learned yesterday.

No reason for the dismissal could be learned from either the court or Jesse C. Duke, attorney who filed the petition. Mr. Duke declared that the dismissal of the proceedings here would in no wise affect the proceedings that 21 share holders in the corporation have filed in Delaware, where the corporation papers of the Bellevue were drawn.

The Bellevue was promoted when it was learned that the temporary buildings in the Union Station plaza were to be torn down in compliance with an act of Congress which directed that the plaza be made a park. Women Government workers were sold stock in the Bellevue, and when an assessment, together with a slight increase in rentals, was announced by the management some of the residents of the Bellevue sought relief in the courts.

The result of the Delaware court action has not become known here, though Mr. Duke said last night that it was still pending.

Traffic Accident Toll Makes Huge Increase

Since January 1, traffic accidents in Washington have taken five lives and 288 persons were injured, according to a report made public by the Traffic Bureau yesterday. In the corresponding period of 1930, four persons were injured.

The highest number of arrests for any one violation was for parking overtime, 615 of these arrests being made. For disobeying a traffic sign, 443 persons were arrested.

Dismiss Garner, Police Trial Board Advocates

The Police Trial Board yesterday recommended the dismissal of Patrolman John W. Garner, of the Traffic Bureau, after he was heard before the board on a charge of intoxication.

Garner, who was a crossing policeman at Seventh street and Florida avenue northwest, was charged with intoxication while on duty on March 26. He pleaded not guilty, but offered no defense.

JUGGLING CONGRESS SEATS.

Realignment of congressional districts within the States affected by the 1930 national reapportionment is causing no end of trouble. Legislatures in most of the States are wrestling with the problem, and from present indications a considerable number of them will not solve it before the 1932 election. Gerrymandering is the order of the day. Where legislatures are evenly divided the two parties are almost certain to disagree as to how the new districts should be carved out. Apparently each is so eager to increase its own political strength that it is willing to risk hopeless confusion in the 1932 contests.

New York is trying a novel scheme of redistricting by joint resolution. This would give the Republicans everything their own way, because they control the Legislature, and their joint resolution would not need to be signed by the Democratic governor. But the Democrats are protesting that such action would be illegal, and are preparing to challenge it in the courts. Consequently New York may have to elect all of its 45 representatives at large.

All of those States which lost representatives under the 1930 apportionment must elect their congressmen by State-wide vote unless they complete the job of redistricting. States which gain congressmen may elect only the new members by State-wide vote, but this method is entirely unsatisfactory, since it perpetuates the unequal representation among the counties. Congress can not be truly representative until new districts have been created in accordance with the 1930 allotment.

Failure of a number of States to redistrict might change the complexion of the next Congress and swing the presidential election to either party. Massachusetts, for example, had twelve Republicans and four Democrats in the House of Representatives this year. If the vote for all these sixteen congressmen were State-wide, Massachusetts might choose all Republicans. A slight margin of votes gives a party a distinct advantage when it can be spread over an entire State.

Inasmuch as the country is normally Republican and the preponderance of Democratic votes is concentrated in the South, failure of the States to redistrict would probably work out to the general benefit of the Republicans in the 1932 congressional election. That party already has an advantage because a majority of the States which gain representatives are Republican strongholds. It looks as if a campaign to hasten the realignment of congressional districts in the States would be an excellent piece of political strategy for the Democrats.

PROFITS BY ADVERTISING.

Instances are not rare in the business history of the United States in which executives have been sagacious enough to realize that the natural tendency toward decreased sales in times of depresesion can be overcome by increased advertising. Advertising is scientific in this country. Its effect can be measured on a large scale by experts almost as accurately as actuaries can figure risks for insurance companies.

Walter Damrosch once said that when his orchestra had prepared a program it could play it just as well without his leadership—for a time. It is the same with advertising. The stimulus of a publicity campaign and the prestige of an established name will maintain a demand for any product on the market for a period. But every large distributor who has tried the experiment of curtailing his advertising appropriation quickly notes a declining curve in sales, and must go to redoubled expense to recover both lost markets and the lost momentum of his advertising campaign.

It was a business rule of H. J. Heinz, who established the great provision business that still carries his name, to double his advertising in hard times. It is a policy that never has failed to bring profit to the company during periods of depression.

A striking illustration of what can be done under adverse conditions such as those of last year is given in the annual report of the William Wrigley, jr., Co. just issued. Increased advertising and lower raw material costs enabled the company to show the greatest earnings in its history. A record advertising expenditure last year of $6,000,000 resulted in an increase in sales over 1929, with a net profit of $12,296,258, or $6.14 a share on 2,000,000 shares of capital stock.

The Wrigley company is one of the heaviest advertisers in America. It increases its advertising when general business becomes slack, and thus maintains profits. If more advertising during periods of poor business can sell more of the "57 varieties" and more chewing gum, it ought to be obvious to executives that the rule could be used to advantage in other lines of business.

LOCAL CRIME.

The increase of crimes of violence in Washington calls for redoubled activity on the part of Commissioner Crosby and the Police Department. The personnel of the department has been improved during the last year, and the consolidation of precincts and closer supervision by superior officers ought to prove effective in better crime detection. It is disquieting to the public to note that several recent murder cases are unsolved, and that holdups are increasing in boldness.

Washington should be the best policed city in the United States. Its Police Department is free from politics, such as disturbs other cities. The tenure of good officials and patrolmen is secure. The department often has a right to call upon Federal departments for assistance. The Department of Justice in particular can and does contribute to the crime-detecting energies of the local force. Some of the local detectives are experts in their line. They should have sufficient competent assistance to enable them to take up promptly every case that arises, since experience has shown that quick work is doubly effective work in capturing criminals.

Incessant labor is the portion of those who undertake to preserve order and run down crime in these days of depression and unrest. Gen. Crosby's organization is subjected to a sharp test of efficiency. Out-of-town gangsters are trying their hand in Washington. They must be put out of business with ruthless dispatch. Every man in the Police Department is on trial, in a sense, when the whole department is confronted with the increase of crime. Private citizens can help by keeping their eyes open and promptly reporting news to the department.

DOUBLE TAXATION.

A report from the Federal taxation committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States calls attention once more to the losses incurred by this country through double taxation. Americans who invest their money or extend their business to other countries find themselves taxed by two governments. If both taxes were collected it would become impossible for Americans to conduct business in foreign lands in competition with others paying only one tax. The Government, therefore, allows credits for taxes paid in foreign countries. In 1928 these credits amounted to $34,000,000, an increase of more than 50 per cent over 1925. The unfairness of this burden placed upon the United States Government is apparent.

European countries, the committee found, are eliminating double taxation of their nationals through bilateral treaties. Both the Treasury and the Department of Commerce have given attention to the problem, but no such treaties have been entered into by the United States. A bill was introduced in the last Congress to provide for adjustment of taxes payable to this Government by nationals of foreign countries which permit similar privileges to American citizens. But it failed of enactment.

The problem is of growing importance to this country because of the vast foreign commerce which American business carries on and the extensive investment of capital in the industry of other lands. Double taxation is a constant threat and annoyance to American enterprise. It is well that the Chamber of Commerce has again brought the urgent need for action to the attention of the Government.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS.

One significant contribution which the Federal and State governments have made toward solution of the unemployment problem has been overlooked during the present emergency. Few people realize that more than 1,000,000 individuals were enrolled in vocational schools last year, fitting themselves for new types of employment or for better positions. This remarkable service is made possible by Federal, State and local contributions.

The agricultural sections were especially benefited. During 1930 Federal aid was extended to 7,000 agricultural schools. Approximately 200,000 farmers were instructed in the principles of modern agriculture at a cost to the three governmental units of $8,749,000. These schools must wield a remarkable influence. Boys learn the practical problems of farming. Men who are employed part time learn how to apply science to agriculture. Some farmers who can attend only night schools learn the mechanics of marketing, which often make the difference between profit and loss.

More than 600,000 persons were enrolled last year in trade and industrial schools which drew aid from the Government. This is one answer the Government is making to technological unemployment. Men who are thrown out of work in one industry by the use of labor-saving machinery have opportunity to learn new trades. Others may expand their knowledge of the industry of which they are a part. It is recognized that technological unemployment is only temporary. When workingmen have an opportunity to equip themselves for new trades much of the hardship of so-called transition period is eliminated.

AN UNWISE MOTOR LAW.

Motorists throughout the country will note with interest that Massachusetts is preparing to scrap its compulsory motor insurance law. Operation of the law has been so unsatisfactory that the general court's committee on insurance has taken a positive stand for its repeal. The Boston Transcript thinks that it would be useless for the Legislature to tinker further with a statute that has been such a complete failure. Instead of trying to amend the existing law public opinion seems to demand that it be wiped off the statute books, so that a new start can be made toward protection of the public against irresponsible drivers.

The strongest arguments in favor of compulsory motor insurance were that it would cost the public less than voluntary insurance and would reduce accidents. The Massachusetts law has done neither. Insurance rates are much higher than they were when motorists were left to take insurance of their own free will. The rates continue to increase because of the large number of fraudulent claims that are pressed through the courts. Collection of damages under the compulsory insurance law has become somewhat of a racket in Massachusetts.

Motorists are particularly dissatisfied with the law because it compels careful drivers to pay damages caused by negligent ones. One commission which has carefully studied the effects of this statute concluded that its psychological effect is to increase accidents rather than to prevent them. Statistics support that conclusion. During the two years that Massachusetts has had compulsory motor insurance fatalities have increased nearly 20 per cent. The very fact that responsibility has been shifted by law from the individual driver to insurance companies tends to make drivers less careful.

No other State has been rash enough to enact a compulsory insurance law. Massachusetts has set an example that no other State cares to follow. A number of the legislatures have set up standards of financial responsibility for motorists, with varying degrees of success. But the compulsory insurance idea seems to be ready for a place on the scrap heap of impracticable ideas.

SPAIN'S ELECTIONS.

Next Sunday, for the first time in eight years, municipal elections will be held throughout Spain. The campaign has been fiercely waged for weeks, as the outcome may have far greater consequence than the mere selection of city magistrates. The candidates are local, but the issue is national—it is monarchical government versus a republic.

The Republicans and Socialists oppose the king, who is supported by the Monarchist party. The republican movement, several times suppressed, now sees an opportunity for expression that was denied during the dictatorship of Primo de Rivera, who is charged by republican orators with having destroyed the liberties and the constitution of Spain. These speakers in thousands of meetings have assailed the king, claiming that, since he was responsible for the dictatorship, he must give way to a republican form of government.

The Monarchists are equally earnest, if not so spectacular, in their championship of the ruling regime. These questions of national government are not being voted for directly, but they are the measure in the test of strength between the two political elements, and victory by the Republicans would give a strong impetus to their cause.

Republican meetings are interrupted with shouts of "Death to the King" and "Long Live the Republic." Leaders like Niceto Alcala Zamora claim victory will be theirs next Sunday, that a republic will be proclaimed and the king a fugitive. Such freedom of speech at least shows that Alfonso's recent restoration of constitutional rights was real, even though the police have confiscated many antigovernment posters.

JOSEPH PULITZER

By WILLIAM A. CROFFUT,
In "An American Procession." (Little Brown & Co.)

In the spring of 1872 I attended the Liberal Republican convention at Cincinnati that nominated Horace Greeley for President. My seatmate on the trip down from Chicago was Joseph Pulitzer, a delegate from St. Louis and a reporter for Carl Schurz's newspaper. This tall, raw-boned youth was 24 years old, and had a nose like Julius Caesar, and had already acquired a picturesque history.

Pulitzer was born in Budapest, Hungary, and there during his teens he obtained a showy and nearly useless education. Sadly in need of money, he fled to America in the steerage, and in New York enlisted in a German regiment for the war. He rose to the rank of corporal, I believe, and when mustered out he knew scarcely a word of English. Without delay he started West, resolved to go as far as his money would take him, and when it was exhausted he found himself entirely penniless on the east bank of the Mississippi. The spires of St. Louis were visible across the river, but it was a case of "so near and yet so far," for he had not the price of the ferriage across. He enviously watched the big flat-bottomed boat as it lazily came and went, and finally he gathered English words enough to ask the captain if he might work his way across.

"Yes, if you go three trips as a stoker," that official said.

The bargain was closed, and the lank Hungarian shoveled coal so energetically that he skinned his hands and got a job for a week as fireman. At the end of the week he had fed the fire under the boilers so much to the satisfaction of his employer that he was engaged as a permanent stoker. This answered as a transient potboiler, but the hot air, fierce flame, and confinement proved intolerable, and at the end of two months he obtained an easier berth on a river steamer plying to and from Keokuk.

He left this job after a while, and went to work on the St. Louis levee with a gang of stevedores and roustabouts. In this association he remained a year, learning English with great enthusiasm and building himself up for better things. Along the wharves and up and down the river dives he acquired a great reputation as a man of learning and obtained influence as a leader of his fellows. The stevedores came to regard him as a prodigy and gathered eagerly about him to listen to his conversation and stories concerning current events, reconstruction, and affairs in his native Austria. He strove hard to get remunerative work, but his scant English and already impaired eyesight handicapped him. For several months he served as coachman and drove a carriage for a wealthy lady in the city.

Finally he began to write short paragraphs concerning daily events upon the wharves, and this led to his occasional employment as a reporter in the humblest place. Then, in a lucky moment, in the stress of St. Louis journalism, he felt around and got the refusal of a news franchise, and, watching his opportunity, he paid $2,500 for it and sold it for $30,000. Mixing his franchise and his audacity with his brains, his fortune was speedily made. He bought one of the papers he had worked for, started the Post-Dispatch, and its profits in three years were $120,000.

An Old American Custom

POST HASTE.

Mayor Thompson was right about one thing—he is not going to run for office in Chicago any more.

Sandino's psychological publicist should type him the tip that "now is the time for all bad men to come to the aid of their country."

Nothing like taking a few of Charley Michelson's college words into the wild West to impress the natives. Chairman Shouse tells Iowa farmers that the "manumission of the country" is the big thing, and they think it's the debenture.

Chicago's new mayor can't be President, because he was born in Czechoslovakia, but he has just as big a job on his hands to clean up Chicago.

Senator Norris has discovered that the "special interests" intend to nominate Republican and Democratic candidates so that "organized millionaires" can play golf and let the people fight a sham battle over prohibition. The only thing to be decided, then, is whether it is to be match or medal play.

To date the tally of Democratic opinions on Chairman Raskob's plea for a show-down on prohibition gives an equal division between "I heartily agree," "I distinctly disapprove," and the straddlers.

First it was announced that peanuts are not nuts; now the Interstate Commerce Commission says they are not food. Maybe they are commissioners.

Traffic is also confusing on the down-town side when keeping to the right interferes with the ladies who want window shops from their cars.

With this change in the weather the governor of the Bank of England finally has something to talk about.

The increased use of chewing gum last year was not really the fault of the American people. Mr. Wrigley increased his advertising appropriation to $6,000,000 to make us do it.

An earthquake occurs somewhere every hour, and they kill an average of 15,000 persons annually, but they'll never catch up with automobiles.

England must be feeling pretty poor and jealous of the United States this year, with John Bull able to enjoy a deficit of only $116,000,000.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MEN AND CANARIES.

Canary in your golden cage,
Singing so blithely all the day,
You seem to live your little age
Contented with the role you play.

I've watched you through the sunny hours,
Happy to do the thing you can.
With rarer wisdom than is ours
Who play the fretful part of man.

We long to be what we are not,
We, the spectators, yearn to play,
The dancers weary of their lot
And badly sing a roundelay.

But you, canary, seem content
One lovely gift to earth to bring.
You seem to know that you were meant
To live your little life—and sing.

Those Made Great by a King's Favor Are Nobodies When the King Dies.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

SOME years ago, while another depression was winnowing the chaff from the wheat, a certain proud man lost his money and promptly drank himself to death.

It wasn't deliberate suicide. The immediate cause of his death was poison whisky. But the purpose of his drinking was to kill the memory of better days and drown the shame he felt in poverty.

He had no reason to feel shame. He had done no wrong. Given courage and patience, he might have won a second fortune—as other men did.

Why, then, did he surrender so easily? Because his spirit was broken. His self-respect was gone. The foundation of his pride had been destroyed.

The cause and the support of his pride was money. When that was gone, he was spiritually bankrupt. He hadn't a single resource to fall back upon.

The present depression has reduced many wealthy men to poverty. Numbers of them have killed themselves.

Have you wondered why some were impelled to end their days, while others as sorely stricken took heart of hope and began to rebuild?

There were, for example, numerous artists and professional men who lost all they had and yet kept their courage. Why did these survive the blow without breaking?

Because they had other resources than money. Because their decent pride was not founded on money alone. They had resources of manhood not listed on the stock exchange.

The man who felt utterly ruined by the loss of his money was a man whose money provided the only stiffening for his backbone. Money made him feel important. He measured his worth only in dollars. He was proud of his money and of nothing else. Stripped of money, he had nothing left to hide the nakedness of his soul.

The moral is, don't keep all of your eggs in one basket. Cultivate resources that are not affected by the stock market.

A man must have self-respect. But money, for all its value, is the poorest foundation for pride. A man needs pride of honor, pride of craftsmanship, pride of accomplishment, pride of courage—prides that no turn of the market can destroy.

He is poor indeed whose only resource is one that speculators can take away.

PRO AND CON

Economic Issue Can't Win.
Brooklyn Citizen (Dem.).

The Southern Democrats who believe that President Hoover can be defeated on the economic issue, even though the Democratic national convention evades the prohibition issue, are mistaken. To millions of voters in this country, the prohibition issue is more important than the economic issue and they are determined to defeat any party which fails to declare against the eighteenth amendment. Should both the Republican and Democratic parties eliminate the issue, the "wets" will surely place a third ticket in the field. This was predicted by former Senator Bruce, of Maryland, in one of the last speeches he made in the Senate.

In so far as the "economic" issue is concerned, no intelligent person really believes that President Hoover is responsible for trade depression or the distress of the farmers.

Humanizing Hoover.
New York Times.

According to a dispatch from Washington to a Southern newspaper, President Hoover is being made up in public. He is being "revised" by strategists. They told the correspondent that Mr. Hoover is to be "humanized."

It was they who suggested the Rockne telegram. It was they who persuaded the President that Bryan Untiedt, the Colorado boy hero, would be pleased to be a White House guest. From now on, the correspondent informs his readers, Mr. Hoover is to do an increasing number of these "human things," so that by 1932 hats will be thrown into the air for him, huzzahs will follow him and he will be known to the man in the street as "Herbert."

Can't Save Everybody.
Louisville Courier-Journal.

"The man in the green hat," Congress' bootlegger, must go to jail. Apparently there are limits to congressional immunity.

Political Debenture.
Detroit News.

And now, what is the debenture plan put forth at the Washington agriculture conference as the hope of the American farmer for governmental assistance? It is, in effect, a bounty paid to farmers who can export their products. It is based upon the amount of tariff which would be collected were an equal amount of the commodity imported. In the case of the wheat grower, the debenture certificates awarded for exporting a quantity of wheat would amount to a sum equivalent to one-half the tariff on that many bushels of wheat.

But, with Europe in the frame of mind indicated by the Rome agriculture conference, where will the American farmer's exported wheat be welcome? The scheme has the appearance of a desperate attempt to keep the wheat growers' subsidy problem in politics.

Walking Papers'll Be Waiting.
Philadelphia Bulletin.

President Hoover also believes that there will be no need of increase of Federal taxes, and any senator or representative who does not help to confirm that belief will find his popularity waning.

Just Master's Speed.
Minneapolis Journal.

The country now looks to Edgar Lee Masters for a highly complimentary biography of that splendid Middle West warrior and patriot, Jesse James.

Hushed Again.

Curses! Just as everything was beginning to look rosy for the Democrats the low, contriving Republicans begin talking of ditching the delectable Mr. Fess as chairman of the Republican national committee.

Shifty Game.
Buffalo Courier-Express.

Politics also makes strange confrees.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Likker Question Has Too Many Angles to Be Settled—Will Be in 1932 Politics, but No One Knows the Answer.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It occurs to me that the wet-dry question is so hard to settle because it can be tackled from so many different angles. In discussing it, even the plainest citizen is sure to be fooled with the idea that keen insight is involved, just like playing the stock market or the horses, and that is why nearly every man and woman in the United States has by this time got his or her kick out of it.

Take the case of the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform. They are to meet here on April 14 and 15, 600 delegates strong, to arrange for the nomination of anti-prohibition candidates next year. So far as they are concerned the question of unemployment, the question of national extravagance, the hydro-electric question, the tariff question, and so on, must settle themselves. But why? Naturally because the prohibition question furnishes a greater amount of food or drink—for talk with a kick in it.

Then we have the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment, mere men, who propose to introduce the Norwegian system of liquor control in place of American prohibition. This system, like the Federal Constitution, of course has the merit of being reinforced by checks and balances. It will take no end of talk to adapt it to the American thirst, with modifications from time to time.

In the issuance of drink-license books, shall citizen drinkers be graded each according to his capacity, or shall a single standard maximum be established? Shall the allowance of the hard drinker be limited to that of the moderate? Shall licensed drinkers be tagged? Shall they be fingerprinted? What shall be penalty for overstating one's capacity in purchase of a license book, or for use of a counterfeit license book? Shall administration of the system be by the Federal Government or by the States? Or shall Federal and State liquor activities interlock? Questions like these must be talked into shape in establishing the Norwegian liquor-control system.

During the past fall and winter I was not afraid to say that the prohibition agitation would die down by 1932. As the foregoing examples indicate I was mistaken, and I did not make enough allowance for Raskob and the dry South. As Ecclesiastes foresaw the situation, "The wind goeth toward the South, and turneth about unto the North; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits."

My revised opinion is that politics will not be free from the incubus of likker talk until the present generation of likker talkers has disappeared. E. PLURIBUS UNUM.

Virginian Objects to Politics in the Churches and Asks That Agitators Be Thrown Out.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Those of us who have been taught from early childhood to revere the church as a place of worship resent the fact that our churches are now being opened again for propaganda and highly controversial questions by the speakers under the auspices of the Antisaloon League. That organization, as every one knows, is a political organization which is active in every campaign and which throws its support to those who will promise to vote dry, regardless of the candidate's qualifications and character.

In view of the language which one of its speakers frequently uses from the pulpit of the churches when speaking in a political campaign and the so-called lectures on prohibition, it is to be deplored that any political agitator is permitted to occupy our churches. The injection of politics accounts for the waning of interest in our churches and the increasing number of empty seats at church services.

Whatever may be one's attitude on the prohibition question, the church is no place for these highly paid speakers to let go their denunciation of some practice because his views may differ from their own. As a Virginian who believes that the church should be held in reverence and used only for the purpose of worship, I sincerely hope that these propagandists operating under the guise of religion shall be thrust out. A VIRGINIAN.

Skeezix Made a Terrible Mistake in Pronouncing the Name of Lead, S. Dak.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Referrring to your comic strip of "Walt and Skeezix" of Thursday, April 2, may I advise you that Skeezix made a mistake in the pronunciation of the name of the town of Lead, S. Dak.

"Lead" is pronounced like the present tense of "led," or like "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow" (of course, without the "s" in the last example).

The town got its name because the leading gold vein was located there. The gold in the Black Hills is found in veins and the largest vein in the early days, and even at the present time, is found in this little town. The town is all undermined, and from time to time different parts of it are condemned and the houses and buildings have to be torn down or else they will, and sometimes do, cave in. Perhaps you will be interested to know that millions of dollars' worth of gold is taken from the Homestake Mines located in Lead. It has a population of about 6,000 and most all the people are employed in the mines or are connected with the Homestake Mining Co. in some manner. The company is listed in the New York stock market.

Lead is my home town and I am proud of it, and only because I like the strip "Skeezix and Walt" so well will I excuse him for the error in pronunciation of the name of the town. HELVIA MUSTAPARTA.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Two Weddings Draw Society To Ceremonies

Jane Eynon and Nancy Adams Married With Brilliant Rites.

WITH April brides crowding the horizon, every day seems to bring another mad rush for churches and ministers. Scarcely had the clergymen of the city settled back to a period of well-earned quiet following the continuous round of pre-Easter programs when the brides loomed on the foreground of events and church doors set up another cycle of swinging back and forth.

Two of the weddings of the Easter season which took place yesterday were that of Miss Jane Eynon and Lieut. F. Massie Hughes, U. S. N., and Miss Nancy James Adams and Mr. Walter Scott Watson.

The wedding of Miss Eynon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Enyon, jr., to Lieut. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Massie Hughes, of Selma, Ala., took place last evening at 8 o'clock in the Florentine room of the Wardman Park Hotel. The room was decorated with palms marguerites, forsythia, and yellow tulips, and the ceremony was performed before an improvised altar, by the Rev. Thomas Walsh.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of deep cream lace, fashioned with a triple train, and a veil of tulle the same shade as the gown. The veil was draped about the head in turban fashion and fell over the train of lace. She carried a bouquet of tinted calla lilies, matching the gown.

Mrs. R. C. Leary was matron of honor and only attendant for the bride. She wore a gown of May-bud green lace with a turban of the same material and carried Talisman roses.

Lieut. Hughes had his brother, Mr. Joseph Emmett Hughes, for his best man.

Following the ceremony there was a reception for 300 guests after which Lieut. Hughes and his bride started on their wedding trip to California. Mrs. Hughes wearing a suit of grey homespun trimmed in platinum fox, with a flesh-colored blouse and a small grey hat to match.

From California, Lieut. and Mrs. Hughes will go to Honolulu, and will return to the West Coast early in May, where the former is attached to the U. S. S. Chicago. Mrs. Hughes will make her home in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, parents of the bridegroom, were unable to attend the wedding because of the illness of Mr. Hughes, so Mr. and Mrs. Eynon received the guests, with the newly married couple. Mrs. Eynon wore a gown of brown lace and a corsage of yellow roses. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dolph, of New York; Mrs. Thomas Merrill, of Detroit, and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Carson, and Mr. Donaldson Merrill, of Atlantic City.

The wedding of Miss Nancy Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Graves Adams, to Mr. Walter Scott Watson, took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Alban's Church, the Rev. Charles T. Warner, rector, officiating.

Miss Adams was given in marriage by her father and she wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned on princess lines with a long train and long close-fitting sleeves, with points which covered the hands. The veil of bridal tulle was held in place by a pearl coronet, and was draped in simple and classic lines. She carried a wreath of calla lilies.

Miss Angela Adams, young sister of the bride, led the bridal procession, wearing an empire frock of rose-beige peau d'ange, with a hat of plaited tulle the same shade. She carried a prim, old-fashioned bouquet in a frill of paper lace. The maid of honor, Miss Susan Kintner, wore a smart gown of gold colored crepe with a large hat to match, and carried spring flowers of yellow and orange. The bridesmaids were Miss Starr Eaton, Miss Janet Murray, Miss Elizabeth Dunlop, Miss Mary Martha Wren, Miss Katherine Stringer and Miss Katherine Yates. They wore crepe frocks made like that of the maid of honor, in a deep ivory shade, with hats of apple green and slippers to match. They carried bouquets of spring flowers, in shades of copper and yellow and lavender.

Mr. Kenneth Watson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Jack Hayes, Mr. Daniel Thew Wright 3d, Mr. John Mustard, of Philadelphia; Mr. Woodruff Post, Dr. Edward O'Brien, and the bride's cousin, Mr. Fred James Meade, of Danville, Va.

The church was decorated with white and yellow flowers, palms and ferns, and the Washington Club, where the reception was held immediately after the ceremony, was a profusion of Easter lilies, yellow roses and jonquils.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams assisted the bridal couple in receiving, Mrs. Adams wearing a gown of beige Cire lace with a jacket trimmed with kolinsky. Her small brown hat was trimmed with a long soft feather the same shade. She wore a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Watson will be at home at 2802 Twenty-seventh street.

The guests from out of town included the bride's cousins, Mrs. Scott Durand, of Lake Forest, Ill., and Mrs. Randolph Meade, of Danville, Va.; her aunts, Mrs. Tyree Dillard, of Greensboro, N. C., and Mrs. Selden Washington and Mr. Washington, of Alexandria; Mrs. Caskie Norvell and Mrs. J. C. Hedgpeth, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. and Mrs. James W. Tinsley, jr., of Richmond; Miss Banie Preston, of Norfolk, and Mr. David Conde Knowlton, of New York.

Dr. Walton John, of the United States Bureau of Education, will be the honor guest and will give a summary of the conference in liberal arts education. There will be a special program of violin music given by Miss Helen LeSevre Lyon.

Mrs. P. deM. Barburg entertained at dinner last evening at the Shoreham for her niece, Miss Mary Brewer Neill.

Engaged to Wed

Brooks.

MISS MARY EMILIA JONES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franklyn Jones, whose engagement to Lieut. James Mason Miller, U. S. N., is announced by her parents. She is a great-granddaughter of Gen. William Hickey, for many years secretary of the Senate.

Mary Baker, Of France, to Visit Capital

Formerly Was Prominent in Congressional Circles.

Returning from France this spring Miss Mary Baker, daughter of the late Representative J. Thompson Baker and Mrs. Baker, will spend several weeks in Washington.

When her father was in Congress Miss Baker and her two sisters, Miss Katherine Baker and Miss Frances Baker, were leaders in the younger congressional set and in the campaign for woman's suffrage, which raged in New Jersey at the time, as well as throughout the Nation. Miss Katherine Baker served with the French Army in the World War and was one of the few women given a rating with that army. She died shortly after the war.

Miss Frances Baker also served in France, but was with the American Expeditionary Forces. She now lives in France.

Capt. and Mrs. John R. Dinsmore have as their guests Mrs. J. Haralson, of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. W. L. Neill, of Dallas, Tex.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Basil N. Rittenhouse have as their guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Parsons, jr., who have returned from their wedding trip, spent in Charleston, S. C., and Chattanooga, Tenn. They will sail soon for their new home in the Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Judd Turnbridge and two sons, Judd Turnbridge, jr., and William G. Turnbridge, of Lake Placid Club, N. Y., are guests at the Powhatan.

Mrs. Bettyna Mousley left on Tuesday for Nassau, in the Bahamas, to be absent three weeks.

The International Association of Art and Letters will have a tea on Saturday at the residence of Mrs. Florence Jackson Stoddard, 725 Twentieth street. Mrs. Dreiser and her sister, Miss White, will be the guests of honor.

The District of Columbia League of American Penwomen will give two one-act plays at the Stoneleigh Court Studio tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Preceding the plays Mrs. Glenna S. Tinnin will tell of the activities of the National Junior Theater. The program is in charge of Mrs. M. K. Armstrong, chairman of the drama group.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry F. Davies entertained at a supper bridge last night. Their guests were Dr. and Mrs. John Maloney, Dr. and Mrs. James L. Barnhard, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anthonson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Charshee, Mr. and Mrs. Earnshaw Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. O'Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. James Leonard, Mrs. William Gaylord Newmeyer and Dr. Farrel, of New York.

Achterkirchen Wedding Rites Held in Church

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Theresa Achterkirchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl F. Achterkirchen, and Mr. Earl Albert Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Perkins, took place yesterday evening at 8 o'clock in the Concordia Lutheran Church, the Rev. Charles Enders, officating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned on princess lines, with elbow sleeves of lace. A tulle veil fell from a cap of lace over the train, and the bride carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley with a center of gardenias.

Mrs. Joseph Klingle was matron of honor and wore a frock of pink lace with a felt Watteau hat trimmed with pink roses. She carried talisman roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Amelia Fitch, who wore a costume like that of the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids who were Miss Frances Edlers, Mrs. Thelma Heany, Miss Dorothy Healy and Miss Bertha Rupertus, wore gowns of green lace with hats to match and carried spring flowers.

Mr. Thomas Heany was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Norman Smith, Mr. Henry Klinge, Mr. Chadwick Hauck, Mr. Joseph Klinge, Mr. Franklin Jones and Mr. Warren James.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents after which Mr. and Mrs. Perkins left for their wedding trip, the bride wearing an ensemble of red and black.

They will be at home after May 1, at 1358 Columbia road.

Vice President to See Kentucky Derby.

The Vice President, Mr. Charles Curtis, will attend the Kentucky Derby at Louisville on May 16 and will be the guest of Mr. M. J. Winn, president of the American Turf Association. The Vice President will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann.

The Ambassador of Brazil, Senhor S. Gurgel do Amaral, left Washington yesterday afternoon for New York and will sail today for Japan where he will take up his duties as envoy to that country from Brazil.

The Ambassador of Poland and Mme. Filipowicz entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of Mr. Ralph Modjeski, when their guests at the small and informal party were Dr. and Mrs. James Brown Scott, Mrs. Vernon Kellogg, the first Secretary of the Embassy, Mr. Victor Podoski; and the second Secretary and Mme. Massalska.

Mr. Modjeski is making a brief visit to Washington from Chicago where he is a civil engineer. Following the luncheon, the Ambassador conferred on his compatriot an honorary degree from the University of Lwow, Poland.

Mr. Modjeski, is the son of Mme. Helena Modjeska, one of the most famous tragedians of the European stage. The name, formerly Modrzejewski, was changed when Mr. Modjeski became an American citizen. While primarily a civil engineer, Mr. Modjeski, has specialized in bridges, and is known throughout the West as a designer and engineer of note. He was chief engineer of the Delaware River Bridge at Philadelphia.

"CHEERIO," as he styles himself over the radio, was a house guest at the White House for the Easter holidays. His friendship with the President dates from undergraduate days, both having attended Leland Stanford University.

School boys and girls who survived, in a stalled bus through 36 hours of a bitter blizzard near Towner, Colo., last March 26 and 27, will be heard over a nationwide network tonight (WRC, 5:00 p. m.). Bryan Untiedt, 13-year-old hero of the school bus tragedy—which claimed the lives of six—was released from a hospital at Lamar, Colo., on Tuesday. Other children who will tell of the experience are Evelyn Untiedt and Ome Untiedt, sister and brother of Bryan, and Laura and Max Huffaker, sister and brother.

Linemen will have to establish broadcasting circuits from Denver to Lamar, Colo., a distance of 250 miles, in preparation for the broadcast. After that the survivors will be brought a distance of 70 miles to the microphones. It will mark the first time that many of the inhabitants of Lamar have ever witnessed a broadcast.

CAN you guess what is in store for your entertainment tomorrow afternoon, children? A circus broadcast! Since it will be another month or so before the circus comes to town, the NBC is going to broadcast a description of the matinee tomorrow (WRC, 2 p. m.), direct from the Madison Square Garden in New York City. Capers of circus clowns, the tight-wire walkers, the wild animal trainer who appears in the same cage with lions and tigers, and all the scenes of the "greatest show on earth" will be under surveillance.

An exclusive feature with WBAL is a series of Thursday night concerts by the U. S. Naval Academy Band, at Annapolis.

High school students gathered for their morning assembly in schools throughout Connecticut will be addressed weekly by outstanding leaders in their State by means of radio, in accordance with a plan devised by the Connecticut Board of Education. WTIC, Hartford, is contributing facilities for this forward step in radio education.

One of the best known groups interpreting Southern music, the Southland Singers, are on the air tonight (WJZ, 9:30 p. m.).

SHE may have expressed fear of the microphone just before her radio debut, but—Lily Pons brings to the radio entertainment field one of the finest coloratura soprano voices ever broadcast.

Testimonial speeches in honor of Dr. James H. Kimball, associate meteorologist of the Weather Bureau, to be given at a dinner tendered by transatlantic fliers, will be broadcast tonight (WJZ, 10 p. m.). The speakers will include Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Bert Balchen and Miss Amelia Earhart.

Negotiations are said to be under way for a daily performance by Eddie East and Ralph Dumke, "Sisters of the Skillet," now rising in popularity on the WJZ network.

RKO will present Dorothy Lee, actress, as featured guest tomorrow night (WRC, 10:30 p. m.), together with an orchestral program by Don Azplazu and his Havana Casino Orchestra.

The Cities Service tenor, Leo O'Rourke, is away from the microphone because of illness.

Appointment of Merlin H. Aylesworth, president of the NBC, as head of the Radio City project, is said to have been made last weeek. Roxy will have charge of the theaters in the new development.

Paris, April 8.

IT'S all very well to make fashion predictions and pronouncements but sometimes we women will fool 'em and continue to wear a certain thing, long after style experts have announced that it is no longer worn. A case in point is the little hat which closely hugs the head and has no brim to speak of. You've probably heard, and I myself have told you, that the new hats would mostly all have large irregular brims of some kind. But I go where the smartest women are and almost all the women are wearing tiny bonnets, with only now and then a woman with a hat having a brim and even then it's rolled up in front so that it appears to be part of the crown, or it's flattened out in back—and there you are.

Of course, these tiny bonnets are quite different from the little way-off-the-front-hair skull caps of last year. For one thing they are made to sit pretty much on one side of the head, with a good portion of the other side exposed. And for another thing they are not so simple in construction as they once were. They are far from being just little round pieces of something stuck on the back of the head. There is much more work done on them, in moulding and fitting them to the head. And usually they are trimmed with some sort of effect which breaks the smooth round line of the hat—such as crossed feathers attached low on one side, or ostrich feathers swooping down way below the shoulder line.

The most popular kind of "little" hat for spring and summer are those woven or knitted in straw and having an extremely wide space between stitches—sometimes almost as large as a quarter coin. In fact even when the bonnet is made of ribbon, it is put together in such a way that the hair shows between the spaces.

It's kind of fun to be a sick-a-bed lady sometimes, especially when you're not too sick to have very special and favorite and privileged visitors. And you needn't be too sure that this won't happen to you, either, because it has a way of happening in the best of families—and it's right this minute when you're not sick at all and don't even contemplate being that you should choose a couple of dainty yard and a half long remnants, and sit down and make out a stamped, self-addressed envelope to send to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this week's illustrated leaflet.

Because this leaflet tells you how to make the lovely shawl scarf that a certain Paris couturier is featuring this season for summer afternoon and evening wear—and it's this same little affair that you'd wear in bed if you felt like playing sick for a couple of days, or when you do that half hour's reading every night before you fall asleep.

It was simply too dainty and chic for words, and I had to draw it for you! 'Twas made of some sort of a material that was just a little rustly, a silk material, of course, but neither too stiff nor too soft. And it was dark blue printed on white, all-over printed—and white crepe de chine at the throat and wrists and under the bolero-like top. It was a one-piece dress to be sure, what the French call a "little dress"—meaning that there are about a million uses for them in the average woman's wardrobe. Agnes-Drecoll has agreeably surprised us with a lot of things like this, this season!

Do look for Dare's weekly fashion letter in The Sunday Post—next Sunday and every Sunday.

Au revoir!

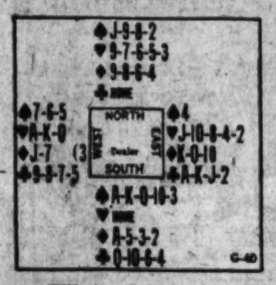
WORK ON BRIDGE

A CROSS RUFF.



WITH the above hand at Auction Bridge, South would bid one Spade and West's Club suit would be too weak even for a following bid. North probably would bid three Spades, hoping to shut out East; and East would not dare to call four Hearts or double informatorily because it would be dangerous to force West, who might have a bust, to make a four-bid.

At Contract South bid two Spades, West passed, and North bid three Spades. East, in a position similar to that in which the Auction East would have been placed, passed; and South bid four Spades.

West's opening lead was the King of Hearts which South ruffed. Noting the possibility of making all nine trumps in the two hands separately, Declarer proceeded to cross-ruff the Clubs and Hearts. When that proceeding was finished, South led the Ace of Diamonds; but West had discarded his two Diamonds and had remaining three trumps and the thirteenth Club. He trumped the Ace of Diamonds and held Declarer to nine tricks.

THE CORRECT PLAY.

Declarer should have seen that, after winning nine tricks by his cross-ruff, he would have to win with his Diamond Ace to make his contract; and that it was dangerous to postpone the cashing of that card until after the cross-ruffing because of the probability of just what happened. It would have been very easy, and not in any way have affected the cross-ruff, to get the Ace of Diamonds in out of the wet by leading it to trick 2; after the cross-ruffing as above described would produce game.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, PH.D.

THE family name "Colbourn" is found with an unusually large number of variations in the earliest English records. It has come to us from three sources. It frequently means "the cold brook," and indicates that the persons who were first so called had their dwellings near such streams. According to another common source of this name it means "the black brook," and likewise indicates an original place of residence. There is a town called "Colbourne" in Yorkshire. It is probable that many families which bear the name have received it because of a former residence in that town. In a few cases this name may be traced back to the personal name "Kolbjorn." "Kolbjorn" is of Old Norse origin, and means "the black bear." A certain Robert Colbern is mentioned in a thirteenth century English record. Some of the commonest modern variations in the spelling of this name are "Colborn," "Colborne" and "Colburn." Although the names "Coburn," "Coborn," &c., appear to involve significant changes in spelling, they are in reality merely shortened forms of "Colbourne."

The family name "Meehan" is common in nearly every part of Ireland. It has come down to us from two Celtic sources. In most cases it is the modern form of the original Irish "O Miadhachain," which means "the descendant of Miadhachan." The personal name "Miadhachan" is a diminutive form of "Miadhach," which means "honorable." Sometimes "Meehan" is derived from the Irish "O Mithidhin," which means "the descendant of the man born in June."

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

Please tell me something of the culture of chives. J. L. S.

Chives are a perennial vegetable used for flavoring, which impart a mild onion flavor to food. The plants are hardy and will live for years. You must be careful not to cut the plant too close when gathering. For winter use you may lift and plant a root in a box or pot and keep it on the winter window sill. Chives demand a rich soil and all possible sun and moisture.

Am inclosing a leaf from my rubber plant. The plant is kept in a very warm apartment which is closed up during the day. Please tell me how to prevent the leaves from dropping off. MRS. WILLIAM J. K.

Your plant is no doubt suffering from want of fresh air. Better keep it in a somewhat cooler place and see that it has fresh air three times each day. A rubber plant requires water every day and its foliage must be sprayed once a day when in the house where the temperature is more than 70 degrees.

Please tell me what to do to improve my fern of which I am inclosing a leaf. Also, tell me why the leaves continue to drop off the second plant of which I am inclosing a leaf. I do not know the name of the plant. MRS. BERT H.

Your fern is a variety of lace fern, which is not likely to do well in the house. It demands a moist, warm air which it is impossible to have in a modern house. If you could keep it in the kitchen, where there was plenty of light, but little direct sun, the steam from the cooking would keep the air more humid than it is in your living room, and I feel sure you would soon see an improvement. The plant should be watered in sufficient quantity to keep the soil quite moist. Its foliage should be sprayed twice each week. Keep the surface soil in the pot quite loose and remove all fronds as soon as they begin to show signs of wilting.

Am inclosing a leaf of a plant of which I am desirous of knowing the name. MRS. HELEN D.

Am so sorry, but it was impossible to identify the plant from one small leaf.

Received a poinsettia plant which is now without any leaves. What shall I do with it? MRS. HILDA C.

Gradually cease to water the plant, then set it away until the late August, when the dead tops should be removed and you should begin to water it. It should soon send up about five shoots. Remove all but three of these. During the summer the plant should be kept almost bone dry.

Please tell me the name of the inclosed leaf. Also its care. M. G.

The Chinese evergreen (Dieffenbachia sequine) is an aroid plant, used in making the Japanese gardens which are so popular at this time. It is used to give a semblance of palms and under its spreading leaves the dimutive Japanese figures look quite in proportion. So little growth is made in the dish owing to the small amount of nourishment to be derived from so litle soil that the plant rarely outgrows its surroundings. The plant will grow as well in water as will the English ivy. It is best, when growing it in water, to keep a piece of charcoal in the water. It does well in sun or shade.

What Today Means to You

"ARIES."

IF APRIL 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. and from 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. The danger periods are from 8 a. m. to 9:30 a. m. and from 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

According to the planetary aspects, April 9 denotes rather unsettled conditions during the morning, but a marked improvement is noticeable in the afternoon or evening. You will be called upon to make an important decision, but do not make it until after 2 p. m.!

Children born on this April 9 will be great readers, and have assimilative memories. They will be serious-minded, thoughtful for others, and possess a strong sense of justice. Their affections will be deep-rooted; and once their love is given, it will be given "for keeps."

If born on April 9, you are a creature of moods. As such, you are unreliable, as no one knows how to take you. One day you are bubbling over with optimism and hope, while the next, you are in despair, and so far as you are concerned the bottom has dropped out of everything. Your disposition has only two seasons—summer and winter; there is no expectant spring, or retrospective autumn.

You are more of a dreamer than a doer. You can never achieve great things because the first difficulty encountered stems and deadens your interest. You go from one task to another—you attempt much, but accomplish little. If, to your gifts of intelligence and ability, there were added persistency and concentration, you could become a lasting success. "A rolling stone gathers no moss," and constant changes will not bring any grist to the mill.

Your character, with all its faults, is a kind one, and you would not knowingly hurt any one's feelings. All the harm you do is to yourself, and you are your only enemy. In the home, the signs denote that much felicity will not prevail, as your nature is not attuned to either permanent contentment or immutability of affection.

Successful people born April 9:

1—Fisher Ames, statesman and orator.

2—John Overton, founder of Memphis, Tenn.

5—Olin Levi Warner, sculptor.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

CHICKEN POX AND SHINGLES.

CHICKEN POX and shingles have a way of coming together, or of either one following the other, and seemingly caused by the other, that leads many physicians to think them one and the same. On the other hand, there are so many differences between them that most physicians think that they are separate diseases. For instance, chicken pox is a children's disease; shingles, a disease of adults. Persons never have chicken pox the second time, but a person who has had chicken pox may have shingles, and one attack of shingles does not protect against a subsequent one.

That there is some sort of a kinship between them almost everybody thinks to be the case, but just what the relationship between them is can not be agreed on. Dr. R. R. McCormick went through an epidemic of chicken pox about a year ago. Four of his chicken-pox contacts developed shingles as a complication of some kind. One died.

One conclusion that he arrived at was that while chicken pox was a mild disease and recovery was to be expected, when shingles and chicken pox came together the patient was in for a stormy time and a fatal issue might be the outcome. The nature of the exposures in this combination of diseases made it impossible for Dr. McCormick to decide what relation the two infections bore to each other.

Other observers have seen cases of shingles develop in persons exposed to chicken pox and who were expected to develop that childhood disorder. The opposite succession has been noted by others. Hoping to throw some light on the question, Dr. McCormick took some water from a shingles blister and inoculated it into the skin of a baby exposed to chicken pox.

A small pimple appeared at the place of inoculation, but no blisters developed and the child had neither chicken pox nor shingles. He escaped infection then and seemed to be immune afterward. One swallow does not make a summer and Dr. McCormick offers the observation for what it is worth.

It would be difficult to convince the ordinary man who has shingles that his disease is in any way related to chicken pox. Certainly, in the present state of our information, there is no reason to isolate from his family a man with shingles in order to protect them from chicken pox.

CONDITION IS CURABLE.

Mrs. J. M. K. writes: My little girl, aged 4½ years, has had pyelitis for the last two years. Is this condition curable? Does it mean that the kidney is infected in any way? Will she have organic kidney trouble later?

REPLY.

I am sure your physician has told you that your child should recover completely. Her kidneys should not be crippled. Infection of the pelvis of the kidney by the colon bacillus is a frequent cause of fever and other symptoms, particularly in young girls. It generally yields to internal medicines. In some cases local injections are needed.

LEGION'S ROMANCE AGAIN SCORES HIT

Minstrel Operetta Presented Second Time by Group From Costello Post.

"Songland Romance," the minstrel operetta which was presented for the second time to a Washington audience last night in the auditorium at the McKinley High School, again proved a great success as when it was presented Monday night at the Washington Auditorium. It is being given by the Vincent Costello Post, American Legion.

Song hits of the season were presented in masterful interpretations by soloists of ability under the direction of Lieut. Charles Riemer. There was a large chorus of picked male voices, which proved a revelation to those attending the performances. The first part of the production, taking a purely minstrel form, was presented in a professional manner, the minsters keeping the audience in a continuous uproar of laughter from the beginning.

Probably one of the biggest hits in the show was the performance and singing of a 5-year-old child, little Miss Ethel Hayden. She sang "When the Black Man's Blue," with real ability, and her tap dancing, which followed the song, proved to be an inspiration for more applause than any other number.

Some of those taking prominent song parts in the production included Robert E. Rucker, James Lynch, Aaron Kaplan, Moses Herzog, Connell Woodend, Joseph King, Charles Plunkett, Alfred Oddone, Joseph Bernne, Dr. Joseph Weisburger, S. W. Swygart, Alfred Stern, Henry Nester, Dr. Seba A. Christie, Edwin Steffe and Adolph Turner.

The ends in the minstrels were Albert Stern, local attorney, and Charles Plunkett, of the Fox Theater. The interlocutor was William Marshall.

The production will be repeated tonight in the McKinley auditorium. The show will also be repeated at Walter Reed Hospital, the Old Soldier's Home, and St. Elizabeth's Hospital, at later dates, for the benefit of the inmates at those institutions. The proceeds derived from the performances will be used for buying instruments and uniforms for the band of Costello Post.

Leese Reelected Head Of Optometric Society

Officers will be installed May 4. Members named to the board of trustees were Lewis K. Kraskin, Bernard A. Baer, William Perau, Edwin H. Etz and J. Wagenheim.

Will Fill Newly Created Post of Federation for Hard of Hearing.

Appointment of Orson N. Kelly to the newly created position of executive director of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing, Inc., was announced yesterday by Dr. Harvey Fletcher, president.

Mr. Kelly, who has had wide experience as an organizer, will arrive in Washington this morning with Dr. Fletcher, from New York. He will maintain offices at the headquarters of the organization, 1537 Thirty-fifth street northwest.

According to Dr. Fletcher, more than 12,000,000 persons in the United States have some form of hearing impairment. He said all of them are eligible to receive benefits from the association.

REPORT CRITICIZES CAPITAL'S ALLEYS

Public Health Association Says Housing Problem Is Serious Here.

Washington's public health budget must be more than doubled to provide for the type of public health work that will compare with that of leading cities of the United States, and the type of public health program the citizens deserve, according to the fourth section of a health and hospital survey conducted by the American Public Health Association for the Washington Council of Social Agencies.

The survey also revealed the need for increased correlation of the activities of voluntary and official agencies and for the development of more complete working relationship between them.

The housing problem of the District is one matter of considerable importance," the report says, "because of the alley situation."

An inventory of the alleys, the report says, made in 1927, showed that certain alleys in existence in 1912, when a study was made, have disappeared entirely, but that most of them exist, with "conditions similar to those of fifteen years ago."

The survey recommends that efforts be continued for the extension of the sewerage system as rapidly as possible to permit connection of the 5 per cent of premises in the city which are not now served.

It also urges that active measures be taken by proper authorities to secure as early as possible the elimination of alley dwellings, and to adopt a sound program to guide housing developments.

Another recommendation of the survey was that funds and personnel be provided to make possible a popular health instruction bureau or division in the health department.

Friend Handles Affairs Of Suicide Publisher

Yuma, Ariz., April 8 (A.P.).—The tangled affairs of Hutton Bellah, former Altus, Okla., newspaper publisher, who took his life here Monday while masquerading as William A. Lee, today were in the hands of his former business associate, Harrington Wimberly, now editor of the Altus Times-Democrat.

Wimberly has not yet decided what disposition to make of the Yuma Sentinel, the newspaper Bellah, as Lee, purchased last fall. He probably will confer with the two widows of the dead publisher—Mrs. Bellah and the former Edna Louise Schatz, of Wisconsin, whom Bellah married last summer under the name of Lee—before making final decision.

Like Coffee . . . the best Gasoline is Blended

THE sun beams cheerfully through an eastern window. The subtle fragrance of the morning coffee adds zest to the morning air, advance notice of the joy to come as you give the "cup test" to the coffee blend of your choice. Coffee roasting is important, of course, but the most skillful roaster cannot make a popular coffee from just one type of coffee bean.

The coffee connoisseur would not deign to drink coffee made from a single type of bean. Neither should the thoughtful motorist allow an unblended gasoline to go into his fuel tank. Gasoline must be blended if it is to possess all the vital properties contained in the three types of gasoline.

CONOCO Gasoline is blended, just as carefully as the finest coffee.

In CONOCO blended gasoline you'll find: Natural Gasoline, for quick starting; Straight-run Gasoline, for power and long mileage; Cracked Gasoline, for its anti-knock qualities. Motorists are fast learning that this is so. The result is a fast increasing group of gasoline connoisseurs who have added to their knowledge of the good things of life the fact that good gasoline must be blended.

The CONOCO Red Triangle marks the spots where CONOCO Balanced-Blend Gasoline may be found. Try it today.

I'm a Little Woman and Proud of It—

Because: the Average Woman Is Little!

What About My Clothes?

I am not the extremely slender young-girl type. I am mature! I need lines—lines! I want clothes that are simple, but with spice. I want grown-up clothes, but they needn't be conservative. I want clothes with a woman-of-the-world look about them. I don't want to look like a debutante and I don't want to look like a matron. I am a little woman—not too young and not too old! I'm just right and I'm proud of it. Now—what about my clothes—after all, they say that 60 per cent of the American women are just like me.

Lansburgh's Has Just The Right Clothes for Your Type

We help women to enjoy smartness. We emphasize good taste about everything. We minimize the alteration bugaboo by offering the newest styles in sizes 14½ to 26½.

Here Are Two Smart Examples

LITTLE WOMEN'S DRESSES—SECOND FLOOR

The Coat With the Soft Jabot Collar Is Flattering $25

CLEMENTS' CHARGE DENIED BY SEMMES

Accused Claims He Does Not Own Company Stock and Was Not Organizer.

Denying that he is a stockholder in the Fleming Motor and Utilities Co. or that he had any part in forming the company, Raphael Semmes yesterday filed in Prince Georges County Circuit Court an answer to a suit instituted by Leroy C. Clements.

Clements charged that H. C. Fleming and several others, including Semmes, were engaged in an attempt to wreck the H. C. Fleming Motor Co. by transferring its assets to the Motor & Utility Co.

Semmes' bill, which was filed through Attorneys H. Winship Wheatley and H. Winship Wheatley, jr., admits that he has had dealings with the H. C. Fleming Motor Co., but says that his only contact with that firm was as president of the Semmes Motor Co. and Ray Semmes, Inc.

$12,000 Owed, Claim Says.

The H. C. Fleming Motor Co. was indebted to Semmes' organizations for more than $12,000, the answer said, claiming that when the Fleming Motor and Utility Co. was formed, Semmes was approached and agreed to take preferred stock of the utility company in the extent of $5,000 in partial settlement of this debt. The stock, however, was never delivered, Semmes' answer says.

The H. C. Fleming Co. gave its notes to the Semmes Motor Co. in payment of this debt before the offer of stock was made, and these notes have been renewed by the H. C. Fleming Co. since the tender of stock, it was claimed.

Clements' bill charged that Semmes was so deeply in the affairs of the Motor & Utility Co. that he was a preferred creditor, both of that company and the H. C. Fleming Motor Co., as both companies have the same officers. Semmes' answer denies that he is entangled in the affairs of the other firms, but is "willing that the said Semmes Motor Co. be considered as a preferred creditor."

Claimed Lien in Assets.

Clements' suit also claimed that he, as a minority stockholder in the H. C. Fleming Co., had a lien on the assets of the Motor & Utility Co. Semmes' answer says that these assets, whether they be of the Motor & Utility Co. or of the H. C. Fleming Co. are subject to the rights of the Semmes Motor Co. as a creditor.

As he is not a stockholder of the Motor & Utility Co., Semmes denies the right of the plaintiff to sue him individually. The only time he has ever been on the property of the Fleming companies was once when he bought gasoline, for which he paid, he said.

London Correspondent to Speak.

H. Denys H. Smith, Washington correspondent of the London Morning Post, will be the guest of honor and speaker at the Arts Club this evening. Mr. Smith will address the club on "The English Press."

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

DETERMINED to bounce back with a bang, as you might say, after splitting next week with the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, the Fox Theater on Friday, April 17, will present as its major screen attraction the new dialogue film version of Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," in which Will Rogers is said to do one of his finest jobs to date for the cameras and microphones.

This will be an additionally interesting booking in that the gum-chewing, smart-cracker, lariat spinner and ink thrower appears in the role played years ago in the silent version by Harry Myers, the veteran comic who so ably bulwarks Charlie Chaplin's performance in "City Lights," in the role of the bibulous millionaire. And did you know that Rosemary Theby is—or was—Mrs. Myers?

I presume they thought Harry was too old for the part in the talkies, so gave it to the Rogers youngster!

There has come to hand these past few days a letter from the Washington representative of one of the foremost companies producing pictures and operating chain theaters, in which this department is asked to supply a brief outline of what it deems the Capital's favorite type of stage show in conjunction with feature picture presentation. The opinion, I take it, is also expected to reflect something of the lay view as it expresses itself to a dramatic department of a daily paper.

If I were sure of the answer, I should have gone to New York, or Hollywood, or somewhere, long ago and written my own ticket. However, on the assumption that motion picture editors rush in where angels find the going hazardous, I shall reply to the questionnaire, but first wish to solicit a definite reader preference. I know what I like, but what do you like? I go in on passes and don't count.

If any of the cash customers have a particular preference among the various types of stage show presented in picture houses, and will communicate that preference to this column, it will be passed along to the executive seeking the information.

A dust splattered and perspiring courier from the camp of Mr. Stephen E. Cochran, a couple of doors down the street, has just clattered in with the breathless information that because of the unprecedented success of the National Theater Players' first play of the season, Rachel Crothers' richly spiced comedy, "Let Us Be Gay," the management, meaning Mr. Cochran, acceding to numerous requests, is staging an extra matinee on Friday of this week—tomorrow, April 10, to be specific about it.

At every performance so far, both nights and yesterday's matinee, the capacity of the National has been inadequate to the demands made upon it by those anxious to enjoy initial effort of what promises to be the best stock company that has trod the boards in Washington these many years past.

An extra matinee this early in the season is what might be called getting off to a flying start. And has Mr. Cochran's smile spread!

Before we forget it, the new week's bookings in the picture houses will be as follows: Earle, Richard Barthelmess and Fay Wray in "The Finger Points," and vaudeville bill on stage; RKO-Keith's, William Powell and Carole Lombard in "Man of the World;" Fox, Edmund Lowe in "Men on Call," George Washington University Glee Club and Panchon and Marco stage revue, through Monday only; Rialto, Conrad Nagel and Sidney Fox in "Bad Sister," and John Boles, barytone, in person; Palace, Claudette Colbert and Fredric March in "Honor Among Lovers" and Bert Frohman in "On Your Toes" revue; Metropolitan, Loretta Young in "Too Young to Marry;" Columbia, Charlie Chaplin in "City Lights," second week.

Of course you remember Bert Frohman, coming to the Palace, as a former so-called "permanent" master of ceremonies at the Fox—shortly prior to the pianistic and high-proof Mr. John Irving Fisher.

To jot down on your calendar: Burton Holmes' "Grand Tour of Europe," at the National this afternoon at 4:30 . . . Miss Hawke's children's dance recital, introducing "Polly Meets the Moon Man," by Minnie Saxton Bliss, at the Belasco tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 . . . Clyde Bates in "Hello, Broadway," one of the Mutual wheel's best, at the Gayety, beginning Sunday . . . Cantor Joseph Rosenblatt, assisted by Jascha Zayde Silberman, pianist; Josef Gingold, violinist, and his son, Harry Rosenblatt, barytone, at the Washington Auditorium Sunday night, April 26.

John Boles will arrive in Washington for his week of personal appearances at the Rialto, Friday morning, at 11:30 a. m., from Atlanta, Ga. He will be met by a large and handpicked delegation of distinguished lovers of music and the arts, who will accompany him to the Shoreham Hotel where at 1 o'clock he will greet the ladies and gentlemen of the local press at luncheon. Mr. Boles is noted among the newspaper fraternity for the excellence of his cuisine!

CRAIN TAKES STAND IN PROBE OF GRAFT

District Attorney Is Accused of Negligence During Grand Jury Quiz.

New York, April 8 (A.P.).—District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain, white-haired and 71, who served with distinction on the bench of the Supreme Court for years, took the witness stand before Governor's Commissioner Samuel Seabury today to½ justify his conduct of the prosecutor's office.

Right away he encountered an accusation of negligence in his handling of a grand jury investigation into market racketeering. John Kirkland Clark, prosecuting counsel, charged him with having failed to present to the grand jury evidence that fish dealers had paid $5,000 to Joseph Lanza, alleged racketeer, for protection. The grand jury investigation was concluded several months ago without accomplishing anything.

Mr. Clark declared that John W. Walker, president of the Middletown-Carmen Fish Co., had gone before the grand jury expecting to be asked about the $5,000 payment, but Mr. Crain had failed to touch on it while questioning him.

"Did you ask Mr. Walker if he and his fellow dealers paid any money to Lanza?" demanded Mr. Clark.

"I did," replied the district attorney.

"Where?" asked Mr. Clark, referring to the minutes of the grand jury investigation. "Look at the record and tell me where it is."

Mr. Crain studied the minutes. Then he raised his head.

"No," he said, "I didn't ask the question."

He also said he did not issue any subpenas for the books of fish dealers to find out if racketeer payments had been made.

Mr. Crain, questioned by Samuel Untermyer, his counsel, declared the grand jury investigation into racketeering got nowhere because witnesses were afraid to testify.

Today's session was the first public hearing into charges against the district attorney. His removal i asked.

NATS' HOME RUNS BRING 8-5 VICTORY OVER BRAVES

Title Battle Is Awarded to Cleveland

Carey Agrees on Site for Schmeling to Meet Stribling.

July 3, 4 or 6 Named as Date; 12,000 Park Capacity.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 8 (A.P.).—Papers officially naming Cleveland as the site, and either July 3, 4 or 6 as the time of the proposed world heavyweight championship battle between Max Schmeling and W. L. "Young" Stribling, were drawn up here tonight.

The practical clinching of the bout site was reached in conference between William F. Carey, of the New York Madison Square Garden Corporation; William Saxe, of the Illinois Madison Square Garden Corporation, and Mayor Daniel E. Morgan and George H. Bender, manager of the huge new Cleveland Stadium. The contract, it is understood, will be submitted for signature tomorrow.

The garden officials said selection of the date will be announced later. The contracts as drawn up call for use of the 120,000 capacity downtown stadium on any one of the three days. If the bout is held on Independence Day it would occur in the afternoon; otherwise at night. Joseph Jacobs, manager of the German title holder, is said to favor the third.

$25,000 Rental For Stadium.

The contract as drawn up calls for a rental of $25,000 for the stadium. The corporation promoting the bout would pay all in excess of $12,500 in the expense of installing a platform and seats in the arena, which would boost seating capacity from 80,000 to 120,000. The promoters will handle all concessions and split profits evenly. They also will assume incidental expenses.

G. W., in Golf Debut, Meets Boston College

The George Washington University golf team, the first squad the Colonials have sponsored in three years, plays its first match of the season this morning, meeting Boston College at the Indian Spring Club, at 10 o'clock.

The downtown school is represented by John Shorey, John Thacker, Charlie Cole and Tom Elliott, one of the strongest quartets in the golf history of the school. Shorey is well known in local golfing ranks, and Cole was chosen twice on the local public parks team participating in the national public parks championship.

The complete schedule will be announced later.

Maryland and Navy "B" Elevens to Meet

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., April 8.—Naval Academy athletic officials today announced an addition to football activities next fall, a game between the "B" squads of the Middies and University of Maryland having been scheduled for Thanksgiving Day, November 26.

Yale Grid Stars May Coach Mexican Eleven

New Haven, Conn., April 8 (A.P.).—Reports that Frederick J. Linehan, of Westfield, Mass., and Stewart D. Ludlum, of Philadelphia, Yale grid stars, would coach the University of Mexico eleven next year were confirmed today.

It had been rumored for some time that Linehan had been offered the post, but heretofore he has refused to comment. The past two years he has won letters in football, where he played guard, and, in addition, has starred for three years with the baseball and basket ball first strings.

Ludlum has been on the grid squad three years, last year serving as captain and quarter back of the junior varsity eleven. Both graduate in June.

They will report in Mexico City August 1 to take over the work of Reginald D. Root, Yale, '26, who comes to New Haven next year to coach the Yale freshmen.

Favorites Are Victors In Greensboro Tourney

Sedgefield Country Club, Greensboro, N. C., April 8 (A.P.).—The favorites found the fairways and greens of the Sedgefield course to their liking today and swept victoriously through the first round matches of the women's dogwood tournament, by decisive margins.

None of the contests went farther than the fifteenth hole, and several ended a few holes after the turn.

Mrs. W. H. Willard, of Charlotte, N. C., the defending champion, ousted Mrs. Shelly B. Caviness, of Greensboro, 7 and 5. Mrs. C. A. Harbaugh, Cleveland, won her match with Mrs. E. P. Yates, Winston Salem, N. C., 8 and 7, and Peggy Wattles, the Buffalo, N. Y., star, scored an 8 and 6 triumph over Mrs. T. J. Gold, of High Point, N. C.

One of the prettiest matches was between Betty Dix Perkins, of Sandy Lodge, England, and Mrs. J. G. Witcher, Danville, Va. The British girl, who won the medal yesterday with an 88, put out the Virginia linkswoman, 5 and 3, in a beautiful exhibition of golfing skill.

Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, veteran of many tournaments, won a 6 and 5 victory over Elizabeth Wattles, Buffalo, while Helen Waring, of New York, trimmed Isabell Smith, Mount Airy, N. C., 6 and 5.

Mrs. D. A. Garber, Pittsburgh, eliminated Mrs. J. T. Martin, Greensboro, 4 and 3, in one of the two matches that reached the fifteenth hole.

White Sox Flop Back in Majors

Bill Hunnefield has had a tough time sticking as a regular in the big show, but he has a habit of coming back for more. After a year in the minors Bill is making himself useful about the Indians' infield.

BILL HUNNEFIELD.

The Dedham (Mass.) product put in three years with Montreal, Williamsport and Portland before he finally was purchased by the Chicago White Sox in 1925.

After four seasons with the Sox, during which he bounced in and out of the infield, Donie Bush finally gave him up as a bad job last summer and shipped him to Toledo, in the American Association.

By all rights that should have ended Bill's big-league career, but not so. He plugged along for the Mud Hens, hitting .287 in 60 games and acquitting himself well in the field.

When drafting time came around Cleveland was looking for reserve infield strength, and back came Hunnefield for another chance at the big show.

PENN BEATS NAVY NINE, 10 TO 3

Coombs, Middy Southpaw, Victim of 12-Hit Attack.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 8.—Playing heads-up baseball all the way, the University of Pennsylvania rgesitered a clear-cut victory over the Annapolis Midshipmen in their annua game here today. The score was 10 to 3.

The Red and Blue presented a snappy and well-balanced aggregation that displayed sharp fielding behind the steady pitching of Peterson, a big hight-hander, before whom the Middies were almost helpless. The visitors also batted hard and timely, although sluggish fielding of the Tars at stages aided the enemy in the run-getting.

"Pop" Mohler, Navy mentor, sent Coombs, his southpaw ace, to the hill in the hope of holding the enemy at bay, but the Quakers found little difficulty in connecting for twelve safe blows, which included a triple and two duobles, and for the most part they came in bunched quantities. This was particularly true in the third and eighth frames, in each of which the vsiitors sent a trio of runs across the rubber.

Diamond in Fast Condition.

Clear skies and a warm sun followed in the wake of a cold, driving rain that had prevailed for the last 48 hours. The diamond was in fast condition, having ben protected by a spread of tarpaulin, but the outer gardens were in soggy condition; otherwise several of the hits easily wuold have traveled for homers.

Peterson twirled a heady game throughout. A particular instance of htis came in the fifth stanza, when the Middies had scored two and had runners on third and second, with two down, and Wes Byng, heavy clubber, batting in the clean-up position, at bat. Peterson purposely pased the husky first baseman, and it so happened that Bunce, the next batsman, was an easy out on a grounder. After htat Middies showed little offnesive power.

Barons' Rally Beats Tribe.

The Birmingham Barons today took a 4-to-3 decision over the Cleveland Americans in the first of a two-game series. Howard Craghead, Pacific Coast recruit right-hander, was attacked for all four of the Barons' runs in the seventh inning. Willis Hudlin pitched throug hthe first five innings, allowing two hits and no runs and striking out two.

Browns Win From Wichita.

Wichita, Kans., April 8 (A.P.).—It took one of Manager Bill Killifer's regular mound men to stop the rampant Wichita Aviators in an exhibition with the Browns, who finally came out on top, 11 to 9. Even Southpaw Walter Stewart had some difficulty, and he and Lefty Herbert were pounded for sixteen hits. The Browns got only ten hits off the Western League hook artists.

Carolina Tennis Team Books Prominent Foes

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 8 (A.P.).—The University of North Carolina will seek national tennis recognition this year with its schedule including some of the country's strongest teams—Georgetown, New York University, Princeton, Army, Yale, Brown and Harvard.

MACON, Ga., April 8 (A.P.).—Earl Mattingly, former Washington, D. C., sandlotter who was recently released on option by the Robins, held the Brooklyn sluggers to two scattered blows and blanked them until the last inning tooday as Hartford defeated the Flatbushers, 5 to 2, in the fourth game of their series. Each team has won two games.

Ruth and Gehrig Hit Homers.

Asheville, N. C., April 8 (A.P.).—The well-known home run twins put on their act today as the Yankees won their second straight from the Asheville Club of the Piedmont League, 11 to 3.

Babe opened the third inning with his third homer of the spring series, planting one high up on an embankment in right field, and Lou Gehrig followed him with one into deep center.

In all, the Yankee sluggers combed three Asheville pitchers for 16 hits, while Johnson and Gomez had little difficulty with the Asheville bats.

Phils Rout Grove As Macks Bow.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 8 (A.P.).—Connie Mack started his ace, Lefty Grove, today in an effort to square the sprin Ccity series with the Phillies, but the National Leaguers won anyway, 8 to 2, and clinched the mythical title. The victory was the third for the Phils in four bouts.

After subduing the National Leaguers for six innings, Grove exploded in the seventh and let four runs across. Included in the four hits made by the Phils in the big chapter was a homer by outfielder Hal Lee, his second of the series. Mallon, rookie second baseman, drove in two runs to hasten grove's departure. Walberh worked the last two innings for the world champions.

Harold (Ace) Elliott and Lil Stoner, who relieved him in the seventh, kept the Macks well in hand.

Greenville, S. C., April 8 (A.P.).—In a slugging match embellished by eight home runs, the Chicago White Sox outlasted the Giants, 12 to 9, today to square their barnstorming tour at six victories apiece.

Five circuit blows weer credited to the Giants, three to the Sox. Hal McKain was the hero of the Sox' triumph. In addition to going in and halting the Giants where it was badly needed, he hit two out of the lote.

Cardinals Pound Great Dean.

Huntsville, Ala., April 8 (A.P.).—Dizzy Dean, young Cardinal pitcher who has promised to win 30 games this year, was defeated by his teammates today in an exhibition game between the Cardinals and a pick-up club here in Manager Gobby Street's home town. Dean pitched for the Huntsville nine, which lost, 14 to 4.

Twenty hits were chalked up against the young hurler, only nine of them clean, however, and it was freely admitted he was given terrible support. Street inarted Moore, Martin, Hunt, High and Delker, besides Mique Gonzales, into the Huntsville team, and the exhibition become something of a farce.

Cubs Are Tied by Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 8 (A.P.).—The Chicago Cubs "blew" another early lead today and were held to an 8-all tie by the Fort Worth Cats, last year's Texas League champions. The contest was called at the end of the eighth inning to permit the cubs to catch a train for Kansas City.

Pat Malone had a 4-run lead up to the fifth. Then the Cats poked over five in their half of the fifth and added another paid in the seventh to take a 1-run lead. The Cubs tied it up in the eighth.

CAPITAL BOY HONORED AS NATS RETURN FROM SOUTH

HARRIS SEES HIS TIGERS STRONGER

Great Improvement in Outfield Feature of 1931 Club.

(This is the third of a series of statements on major league baseball prospects, furnished to the Associated Press by the club managers.)

By STANLEY HARRIS
(Manager, Detroit Tigers).

I AM more enthusiastic over our chances for the coming season than at any time since being associated with the Detroit Club.

The chances of great improvement lie in the outfield play. In the Walker Brothers, Shiver and Dojack, we have four men, each of whom has a fine chance of making good. However, only a matter of time will tell how quickly they will, or can reach major league form. Johnson, Stone and Funk are hustling, realizing the danger of losing out, and as a result they show improvement over last year's play.

The case of McManus is puzzling. He was operated on late in January for the removal of a cartilage from his right knee. I think it will be all right eventually, but I fear he will be lost at the start of the season. We are fortunate to have picked up Marvin Owen. He really has class and in my judgment has the making of a fine infielder. Also he can hit.

We are lucky to have Wally Schang. He not only looks good but has the much-needed experience so essential behind the bat.

Barring sore arms of Uhle and Wyatt, the rest of our pitchers look fine. In fact I am well pleased with our pitching staff. It is the least of my worries.

All in all I feel that we have a much improved club, one that will be hard to beat.

By JEWEL ENS
(Manager, Pittsburgh Pirates.)

According to present indications, the National League is facing the usual hard-fought pennant race with five strong contenders.

The club which goes through the season with the least number of injuries to its players and has dependable reserve strength will be the winner.

I do not see where either Cincinnati or Philadelphia has improved to any great extent since last year. But if Boston can develop unexpected pitching strength, that team will be better than it was in 1930.

The Pirates look exceptionally good and I am confident they will be in the thick of the race, but it is too early to make predictions.

Nats Oppose Phillies Today With Crowder Due to Pitch

THE Philadelphia Nationals, the second and last major league team to be met by the Nationals before the season starts, will be in our midst this afternoon. "General" Alvin Crowder is due to draw the Washington pitching assignment and he is expected to turn in a good job.

On his last turn on the hill, against the Birmingham Barons last week, Crowder was almost invincible for six innings, but weakened in the latter sessions, when he was touched for five hits and as many runs to give Clyde Milan's team a tie. Crowder has been working hard since and should be ready to travel at a fast speed all the way today.

Dick (Rube) Goldberg, rookie first-sacker whom the Nationals sent to Chattanooga, failed to make the grade and yesterday was sent to the Charlotte Club.

Outfielder Tom Clark, a brother of Earl, of the Braves, also was returned by Joe Engel, and President Clark Griffith is casting about for a spot in which to place him.

Manager Walter Johnson is experimenting with his batting order trying to find the best spot for Jack Hayes when he is on second. Hayes, playing in Myer's place, is not a good lead-off man and yesterday he was hitting second on the list.

Third baseman Cessie Bluege showed yesterday that he is in good shape by breaking some sprinting records in beating out a tap to deep short in the third session against the Braves.

The official scorer was in a charitable mood when he credited Maranville with a homer in the third frame yesterday. Manush loafed while chasing the ball and Cronin then toyed with the sphere on the relay before making the peg to the plate.

Judging from the expressions of most of the fans one meets, the change in the starting time of Washington Club games, from 3:30 to 3 o'clock, has struck a popular chord.

Bob (Red) Worthington, who played right field for the Braves yesterday, promises to be the National League's outstanding rookie this season, according to scribes traveling with the Beaneaters. The one-handed grab he made of Sam Rice's drive in the third, when he rushed to the corner where the pavillion meets the fence, was just a regular catch for this player, the writers declared. It robbed Rice of at least a double and the Nats of a run, for Jones was on first at the time.

Washington fans were given their first look at Catcher Cliff Bolton and the rookie made quite an impression. True, he was charged with a passed ball, but he nailed the only two runners who tried to steal on him, an error by Cronin letting one get away after the umpire first had called out the runner. Cliff cracked out one safety, driving in a run, and was robbed of another simply because the hit-and-run was on and "Rabbit" Maranville, hustling over to cover second, ran directly into the ball almost over the bag.

Virginia White Sox To Battle Majestics

The Virginia White Sox have scheduled a game with Majestic Radio baseballers for next Sunday at 3 p. m., on the aBileys Cross Roads Diamond. Manager Determann plans to start "Speed" Augustine against the Radio Nine.

The White Sox meet the Capital Heights A. C. and the Washington Red Sox in successive week-ends.

The Bethesda A. C. is after a game with some strong unlimited nine for Sunday. The challengers have their own diamond. Howard Gingell is making arrangements at Bradley between 6 and 7:30 p. m.

The Argol Insects are anxious to schedule a game for Friday at 11 a. m. on their home diamond. Teams interested are requested to call Carl Peterson at Lincoln 7265.

Fredericksburg Nine Beats Woodberry, 15-0

Special to The Washington Post.

Woodberry Forest, Va., April 8.—The Fredericksburg High School Nine proved too much for the Woodberry Forest Nine in the season's opener here this afternoon, administering a 15-to-0 lacing to the locals.

The visitors touched three Woodberry Forest pitchers for eight hits, two of which went for extra bases. While Capt. Lewis got a three bagger for Woodberry's only safety of the day.

The Woodberry players were guilty of seven errors and the visitors of but 1.

"College Coach" Proves Dry Agent; Arrests 4

Cambridge, Md., April 8 (A.P.).—Posing as a college football coach in search of promising high school players, W. Howard Green, prohibition agent, who has been here a few days, arrested four men today and charged them with violating the dry laws.

While here he discussed football with many persons, but did not, it was learned, interview any young athletes. The four arrested were taken to the Cambridge Jail to await arraignment and bond. They will be given a hearing before a magistrate. All reside in Cambridge.

SUTTER AND LOTT WIN EASILY

Parker Lone Favorite to Bow; Coen Is Extended.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 8 (A.P.).—Gallant 15-year-old Frank Parker, of Milwaukee, defeated late today in the River Oaks Country Club's invitation tennis tournament, was the only favorite to be eliminated as quarter-finalists in singles were decided.

Parker, seeded seventh, was defeated by Jake Hess, of Rice Institute, Houston, 6—8, 6—2, 6—2. The Texan's placements found the Wisconsin boy continually out of position.

Reaching the quarter-final round with Hess were George Lott, Davis Cup player from Philadelphia; Wilbur F. (Junior) Coen, Kansas City; Fred Royer, Dallas; Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Calif.; Bruce Barnes, Austin, Tex.; Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, and James Quick, Dallas.

Sutter Takes First Game at Love.

Sutter blasted away at Henry Holden, of Houston, to take the first set, 6—0, but was not at the top of his form and Holden took four games in the second set before he lost the match.

Lott, his top-spin service working nicely and his placements accurate, overwhelmed Martin Buxby, freshman from the University of Texas, and former singles champion of Florida, 6—0, 6—1.

Coen had to work for his fourth round position, winning from George Launey, of Dallas, 6—2, 8—6.

The remainder of the qualifiers except Vines, who was extended to three sets by Earl Taylor, of Texas University, before winning, 6—6, 6—1, 6—3, had an easy afternoon.

Royer defeated Quinn Conneliey, of Rice Institute, Houston, 8—1, 6—2; Barnes, Texas University player and the Southwest Conference singles titlist, eliminated "Doc" Barr, of Dallas, 6—0, 6—2; and Quick set aside Charles Sloan, of Houston, 6—3, 6—4.

Takoma-Silver Spring High Athletes Are Busy

Capt. Carl Senseman, Jack Keele, Merrell Whittlesey and Clark Trew gained berths on the Takoma-Silver Spring High School golf team yesterday, after turning in the four best scores in the qualifying round held at Rock Creek. They emerged on top of a field of 20.

The ball team put in an appearance yesterday for its first practice since scholo reopened. The drill was held under the eye of Assistant Coach Gil Walsh, Catholic University's third baseman last year.

Track, too, was active at the Silver Spring School yesterday, with George Menke, C. U. grid and track star, on hand in a coaching capacity.

Tennis eliminations are being held at the Marjorie Webster courts. The first court match will be played next week against Bliss.

Shires Aims at Law Career; Quits "Bad Boy" Tactics

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8 (U.P.).—The great "I Am" man of baseball, Arthur Charles Shires, may go back to the land of his forebears, Texas, a full-fledged lawyer, and until he does this will be the "good" man of the baseball, he said here today in a philosophical mood.

Shires, who admitted that 35 is "old" for baseball players, told newspapermen he had purposely capitalized on his record as baseball's "bad" man, but that from now on he'll be a good player and what is more his conduct on the field and away will be exemplary.

The Texan, now a member of the Milwaukee Brewers Team and here for an exhibition series with the Memphis Chicks, said that law had been his secret ambition for a number of years. The fact that he has half a dozen lawyer uncles had something to do with interesting him in a barrister's career, he said.

"I have always been crazy about law," related the big blond first-sacker. "I've studied it seriously for several years and I haunt courtrooms every chance I get. Law is just about the most fascinating thing in the world, next to baseball."

Before he hangs up his gloves Shires hopes to have another chance with the big leagues.

"I know I'm going to give Marty Berghammer all I've got," Shires said while discussing his play with the Brewers. Berghammer is manager of the Brewers.

Rockne Wills Estate to Family; $125,000 Insurance Reported

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 8 (U.P.).—The will of Knute K. Rockne was filed in Probate Court here today, but no valuation was placed on the real and personal property of the late Notre Dame coach. The entire estate was left to Mrs. Rockne and her four children.

Although attorneys for the estate did not reveal how much insurance Rockne carried, it was learned that it was in the neighborhood of $125,000. Vitus E. Jones, attorney for the estate, said that outside the insurance the estate is "very modest."

Because Rockne was killed in an airplane there may be a suit to determine whether the estae will receive single or double indemnity.

The Rev. Michael Mulcaire, vice president of Notre Dame and chairman of the board of athletic control said that Rockne's successor as athletic director probably would be named next week. Rockne's successor as head coach of football, however, is not expected to be made for several months.

Manush, West Hit Circuit Clouts

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

ONLY about 1,500 cash customers turned out at Griffith Stadium yesterday afternoon to welcome the Nationals back home. The Boston Braves, annual "Grape Fruit League" champions, were the Nats guests and the two teams put up quite a battle until near the finish, when poor pitching by Fred Frankhouse helped the home gang to step out in front and to coast home by an 8 to 5 count.

Earl Clark, Boston outfielder, who is a Washington boy, did nothing noteworthy during the game, but he gets his pictures in the newspapers nevertheless. Gen. Crosby, District Commissioner, headed a small delegation of friends to the plate when Earl came up in the first and presented him with a floral piece and a wrist watch.

Two veterans, "Wee Willie" Sherdel, for the aliens, and "Sad Sam" Jones, for the Nats, started the game and neither finished. Both were hit fairly hard, but they were not exactly knocked out, the former going five rounds and the latter seven.

Nats Trail Early In Game.

It was one of those "you chase me and I'll chase you" affairs with the Nats doing most of the chasing until the seventh. The visitors went into an early two-run lead, saw the Nats tie the string in the fourth, became two up again in the fifth and the Johnsons knotted the score again and then stepped out and packed away the verdict.

Twenty-five hits were made during the afternoon, Sammy West, Heinie Manush and "Rabbit" Maranville getting homers, while five doubles and a triple also were recorded. The bulk of the alien safeties was credited to three players, Wilson, Maranville and Spohrer getting three each, but every member of the Nats' starting cast was credited with at least one. West got a double in addition to his round-tripper, while Manush singled his next trip up following his homer. Sam Rice and Bluege also were credited with two hits apiece.

It was the four-base clouts which accounted for the Nats' winning margin. West's came opening the sixth session and knotted the string at 4-all. It was a screaming drive to center which Berger possibly could have caught had he not slipped while coming in fast for it. Manush's cleared the right field wall with many yards to spare and brought home Hayes.

CURTIS SEES FAVORITES FAIL IN MUD AT BOWIE

14 to 1 Shot Is Winner By Neck

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

BOWIE was favored with its best weather and its largest crowd yesterday, included in the throng being Vice President Charles Curtis, who was making his first visit to the races at this meeting. The track was heavy, especially along the front stretch from the bend to the judges' stand, and in the waxy, clinging mud several favorites floundered in despair, while some very long shots caught the eyes of the placing officials.

This was true in the Century, when both Sandy Ford and William T., the last named odds-on choice, failed, and S. W. Labrot's Fortunate Youth led all the way, paying $30.70, a neck in front of Butter John. Sandy Ford, a stake winner, and a starter in the Agua Caliente Handicap, was third, four lengths back.

The Vice President viewed the races from a sunny seat in the clubhouse section of the grand stand. He confirmed the report that he had accepted an invitation from Col. Matt Winn to attend the Kentucky Derby on May 16, as his guest, at Churchill Downs, Louisville.

Sandy Ford Tires
In Stretch.

In the Century, Sandy Ford gave promise of running one of his good races, like the one in which he won the rich Dixie Stakes at Pimlico. He was close to the leader, Fortunate Youth, all the way around, until he began tiring in the stretch, and Butter John moved up to snatch the place money from him. William T. was far from his best form. C. Pegg had the mount on Fortunate Youth. He is becoming known as a long-shot rider.

It remained for Dainty to ride the longest shot of the meeting on Peace Dove in the third race, the daughter of Noah paying $108.70 for $2. Mrs. C. W. Rae, the present owner, paid $100 for her at Miami.

Jimmy D., stealing the rail in the stretch run, and an outsider in the betting, paying $38, scored a close victory in the first race for maiden 3-year-olds. The Rancocas Stable's Tansy, leading the field to the stretch, when she came to the outside rail, appeared to have almost gotten in front at the wire. Ear Full was third. F. Stevens had the mount on the winner, owned by C. H. Hughes. Fourteen started. Tansy got a lead of six lengths from the gate. E. Kummer up, but did not run steadily. She closed very fast and was beaten a head after all her bad luck. Ear Full was four lengths behind. Time, 1:15 4-5.

Prometheus Returns
To Form.

W. R. Padgett's Prometheus returned to his best form in the second race, and ran Hacky H. into defeat in the stretch to win by two and a half lengths. Hacky H. was second by a head and Everytime third. Everytime set the pace to the far turn, with Hacky H. and Holiday in the order named. Holiday made a strong bid turning into the stretch, but was soon distanced by Hacky H. When the field had settled down, Prometheus, held in reserve, made his run, and was drawing away at the finish. Time, 1:14 3-5. The winner paid $7.70. He was heavily backed just before the closing, and the odds were brought down from 6 to 1.

But the chief surprise came in the Fads and Fancies, for fillies, when all the favorites failed and Peace Dove spread-eagled home at 53 to 1. J. A. Coburn's Morshion was second and the Glen Riddle Farm's Yellow Flag third. Morshion set a fast pace to the far turn. Phantasime was well up to the stretch, but dropped back to fourth. F. Dainty had the mount on the long-priced winner. St. Agness was never a contender.

Morsnuff, which carried the colors of Thomas Flippen, won the fifth race by six lengths. Frank Fullen was second and Bud Charlton third, a length farther back. Bud Charlton led to the far turn when Morsnuff, a Morvich colt, following the pace all along, took command completely. Bud Charlton tired in the stretch and Frank Fullen came strongly and held second. The winner paid $7.90. Time, 1:50 2-5. C. Pegg rode the winner, scoring a double.

Little Pan Beats
Favorite.

J. L. O'Neal's Little Pan, with Froggate up, won the sixth race by a length, going to the front soon after the start and paying $11.30. Ken Kling was second and Young John third. Little Pan slipped through on the inside leaving the back stretch and assumed command, but was urged in the last sixteenth to withstand the challenge of Ken Kling, which was another favorite to fall.

C. Hazelton's Vowed Vengeance was winner of the final race. Altamart was second, being coupled with the winner as the Denham-Hazelton entry. The entry paid $15.20 to win and $10.10 for place. Guilford was third. Vowed Vengeance was away in motion, and under a good ride by Watson rushed to the front and led all the way, winning by two lengths.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—JIMMY D., $38.00, $16.80, $10.70; TANSY, $5.50, $3.90; EAR FULL, $3.60.

JIMMY D., fancying the going, saved much ground by racing on the inside and gradually improving his position, responded gamely under punishment and wore TANSY down in the final strides. TANSY outbroke her field, displayed good speed in the going. She came wide entering the stretch and this probably cost her the race. EAR FULL broke in a tangle. He worked his way forwardly and made a bold effort entering the stretch, but then faltered in the stretch and just lasted long enough to withstand DOUCETTE'S bid. The latter closed going strong from a slow beginning. ANCODA raced evenly. SEDGIE broke flatfooted and closed a big gap. HASTEN moved strongly the early running, but then quit on the final furlong.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 3:05. Off at 3:08. Winner, W. R. Padgett's b. g. (4), by Broomstick—Princess Pandora. Trained by O. Chaney. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48 3-5, 1:14 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PROMETHEUS, $7.70, $4.30, $3.30; HACKY H., $5.70, $4.10; EVERYTIME, $3.00.

PROMETHEUS, under stout restraint the first half mile, came around the leaders entering the stretch and, going into the lead with a rush, won with speed in reserve. HACKY H. used up racing MY SIR into submission in the early stages, weakened in the stretch run. EVERYTIME, under strong pressure the entire trip, finished with good courage and would have been second in a few more strides. BATTLING ON, well up the first three furlongs, dropped back on the stretch turn, but came again in the stretch run. MY SIR tired after going a half mile. ELIZABETH BOLLA, taken up when the break came, was not persevered with and finished under restraint.

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,200. The Fads and Fancies. For 3-year-old fillies. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:33. Off at 3:37½. Winner, Mrs. C. W. Rae's b. f. (3), by Noah—Seaside. Trained by T. W. Rae. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:49 2-5, 1:08 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PEACE DOVE, $108.70, $22.00, $11.10; MORSHION, $4.70, $4.00; YELLOW FLAG, $3.50.

PEACE DOVE, away forwardly and under vigorous pressure all the way, gained steadily next to the inner rail and, wearing MORSHION down at the sixteenth pole, was going away at the end. MORSHION, quickest to get going, displayed keen speed in the going, but began to weaken in the last furlong under punishment and finished tired. YELLOW FLAG, prominent all the way, continued well through the stretch and held PHANTASIME safe. The latter broke alertly and showed speed for about three furlongs, then appeared to slip in the going. ST. AGNES and MIXED TEA were slow to break.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,400. The Century. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, riddden out. Went to post at 4:03½. Off at 4:08½. Winner, S. W. Labrot's b. m. by Lucky Hour—Mollie King. Trained by J. F. Adams. Value to winner, $975; second, $250; third, $125; fourth, $50. Time, 0:25, 0:50 2-5, 1:17, 1:43 4-5, 1:50 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FORTUNATE YOUTH, $30.20, $10.80, $5.50; BUTTER JOHN, $7.50, $4.00; SANDY FORD, $4.10.

FORTUNATE YOUTH took command at once, was rated in front under slight restraint, saved ground entering the stretch and, responding courageously under punishment, outlasted BUTTER JOHN when the final test came. BUTTER JOHN raced into repeated interference the first half mile. He went around his field leaving the back stretch, but came wide the final quarter mile and lost much ground. But for that he may have won. SANDY FORD raced evenly all the way and shook off WILLIAM T. through the stretch. The latter, under restraint and well up the first six furlongs, tired as if short when called upon for the final effort. SYRIAC was outrun all the way.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good and fast. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:37. Off at 4:37½. Winner, T. Flippen's br. c. (4), by Morvich—Snuff. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:49 4-5, 1:15, 1:43 2-5, 1:50 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MORSNUFF, $7.90, $4.50, $3.20; FRANK FULLEN, $4.50, $3.00; BUD CHARLTON, $4.20.

MORSNUFF, in close attendance of the leader and racing on the path along the inner rail, opened up a commanding lead at his leisure entering the stretch and won as his rider pleased. FRANK FULLEN, far back the early running, closed fast when straightened out in the stretch and wore BUD CARLTON down in the final drive. BUD CARLTON, hustled into the lead the first furlong, displayed good speed for about six furlongs, then began to weaken and finished tired. TONY JOE, hard ridden, had no excuse. FIRST MISSION and BOB KERNAN were never formidable contenders.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:10. Off at 5:11. Winner, J. L. O'Neal's b. f. (3), by Leo O'Cotter—Little Pandrit. Trained by S. N. Holman. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24 3-5, 0:50 2-5, 1:16 2-5, 1:44 3-5, 1:52.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—LITTLE PAN, $11.30, $4.90, $3.30; KEN KLING, $3.90, $2.70; YOUNG JOHN, $2.40.

LITTLE PAN slipped through on the inside leaving the back stretch and, assuming command, was rated in front rounding the lower turn, continued gamely and outlasted KEN KLING in the final drive. KEN KLING broke slowly, moved up steadily next to the inner rail for the first half mile, but was then shuffled back. He went around the leaders thereafter and closed a big gap, but stumbled several times in the stretch run. YOUNG JOHN, always a forward factor, saved ground and secured the path the final quarter mile, but could not keep pace with the leaders. NOBLE SIR easily disposed of the others. The last four horses at the finish were being eased up in the closing strides.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:50. Off at 5:52. Winner, C. Hazelton's ch. g. (6), by Honeywood—Rose Marian. Trained by W. H. Denham. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:25, 0:51 2-5, 1:17 3-5, 1:45 2-5, 1:53.

VOWED VENGEANCE, away in full motion, was rushed into immediate command, rated in middle reaches, disposed of DON TINKY on last end and drew away to win with something in reserve. ATTAMART, in close quarters in early running, improved position from half-mile pole and outgamed GUILFORD in last sixteenth. Latter pressed pace throughout, but tired as though short. FRANCIS COOPER, slow to get into stride, closed powerfully through last quarter mile. HADES had no excuses.

Alabama Racing Bill Passes Committee

Montgomery, Ala., April 8 (A.P.).—A State Senate committee today voted favorably on a bill to legalize horse racing with pari-mutuel betting in Montgomery and Mobile.

The bill, designed to permit two 15-day race meetings each year in cities of 40,000 to 200,000 population, affecting only Montgomery and Mobile, would establish a racing commission of three members to license and supervise such events.

It also provides for "cooperative or mutual pools" from which 5 per cent will be paid to the State to further the development of live stock and agriculture through financing premiums for exhibits at county and State fairs.

Racing was banned in Alabama several years ago.

Chicago, April 8 (A.P.).—Seven valuable race horses, formerly owned by Stanley Kuntz, former representative in Congress, were suffocated to death in a fire that destroyed the stables of Mrs. Anna Dean, widow of the well-known horseman, Charles Dean, at Palatine, Ill., today. Fifty-three other horses were saved.

W. J. SALMON STRING AT 'GRAW

Stake Candidates Are in Group; Steifey May Get Post.

BOWIE, Md., April 8.—Jack Fryce arrived at Havre de Grace with a division of the Walter J. Salmon Stable, including Ladder and Mad Career, Preakness and Kentucky Derby candidates. In addition, Fryce brought down Golden Play, Persistency, Nimbly, Expertus, Dexterity and Waylayer, all 2-year-olds. Jockey Louis Schaefer accompanied the stable.

Morris Beber, who races under the nom de course of the B. B. Stable, was an arrival from Florida. His string has been quartered at Havre de Grace for several weeks.

Jockey A. Pascuma leaves today for New York, where he will sign a contract to ride for Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, who handles the Bel Air Stud and Wheatley Stable's horses. Tony, as he known to racegoers, hails from Richmond Hills, N. Y.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, according to report, will appoint Dave Steifey, of Baltimore, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission, to fill the vacancy that will exist when James A. Latane's term expires next month.

Latane, who leaves the Maryland Racing Commission next month, is slated for a court position.

Charles T. Fisher's Sweep All, who Sonny Workman drove home in the Endurance Handicap here last November, showed a sparkling mile workout of 1:43 3-5 yesterday at Lexington, Ky. On the strength of that move Sweep All's stock takes an upward trend for the forthcoming Kentucky Derby.

Jockey Frankie Coltletti, who has been at his home in New York, wired this morning that he would be here tomorrow to ride. His engagements are being made by George Pass.

Jockeys W. Day, W. Prior and F. C. Smith, who were suspended for three days for disobedience while at the post, resumed riding today.

There can be no question as to the popularity of racing here when one mentions the fact that more than $300,000 was wagered yesterday. The day was wretched, still the fans braved the elements to see their favorite sport.

Despite the fact that Jockey Pat Remillard is showing the way to Albert Robertson with ten victories, one more than Robertson possesses, numerous wagers have been made that Robertson will win the winning rider title.

Willis Shea will ship his stable of twelve to New York Sunday. Shea stated this morning that contrary to reports credited to him in a Chicago paper, he thought the Augua Caliente, Mexico, track one of the finest he ever raced over. He also stated that the meeting was conducted in a manner befitting any mile track.

Jockey F. Madely took a header from Sir Byron this morning, but, outside of suffering a mud bath, was none the worse for his experience.

The stewards have ordered Sand Bell and other horses formerly the property of the Curtis Bay Stable kept out of competition pending the identification of their real owner. The horses are said to belong to Joe Serio, of Baltimore, who has been refused a license.

Charlie Uibig, of Baltimore, is handling Jockeys Eddie Kummer and C. Pegg. He will take them to New York at the conclusion of Maryland's spring racing.

The Rancocas Stable's Kayo, 2-year-old champion of the winter racing in Florida, won't be started at this meeting. He is being reserved for the $10,000 Aberdeen at Havre de Grace.

Frank Kearns shipped four 2-year-olds to Aqueduct, N. Y. today. In addition, he sent seven horses to Havre de Grace to await the opening of the Harford Agricultural and Breeders' Association's spring session on Monday.

J. Fred Adams, who operates the Glen Wild Stud at Catonsville, Md., has heard so many glowing reports of the racing in Cuba, that he plans to split his stable next winter and race at both Cuba and New Orleans.

Bob Steele, who is schooling Pimlico's thoroughbred colony, states that the 2-year-olds of the Seagram Stable, H. Teller Archibald, J. W. Y. Martin, J. P. Jones, William Garth, Wild Rose Farm, Harry Rites and Joe Booker are all ready to show their wares during the next week's racing at Havre de Grace.

Schooling hours at Pimlico are from 7:30 until 11 a. m. daily. The horses are schooled out of the stall gate located at the six furlong pole.

Pink Rated Best Bet Today In Kindergarten at Bowie

By J. R. SNODGRASS.

THE track should be almost fast by posttime today for the running of the Bowie Kindergarten, the first stake of the year in the East for 2-year-olds. There is also a fine supporting card in addition and the feature has attracted seventeen juveniles, including most of the best that have raced at Bowie, besides some good ones that only raced in Florida.

Among the Florida crop may be found the winner in PINK, winner of the Nursery Stakes at Miami, and belonging to the Tennessee Stable which developed Vander Pool last year at the Southern course. PINK is by Sweep—Lufian, and beat a top-notch field in the Nursery, including Sea Saint and Flying Home. She is in good condition, according to the owners, and will probably be the favorite at about 5 to 2. PORTAM, Charles Eisenberg's strapping colt, which beat a good field at Bowie with ease last week, is regarded as a dangerous contender. It is difficult to compare two horses that have raced little and on different tracks. LORRAINE S. won commandingly from Surf Bather and others a few days ago and she can not be counted out of the money.

BANNER SEASON LOOMS FOR CAPITAL CITY LEAGUE

Clubs Await 7th Season In League

By LEWIS ATCHISON.

WITH late entries swelling the list to such proportions that last year's entry mark of 85 teams is threatened, the various sections of the Capital City League are impatiently awaiting the umpires' proverbial "Play ball" next month that will send them off in their seventh annual quest for The Washington Post's gold baseballs, emblematic of the city championships.

All indications point to the closest flag race ever fought on Washington sandlots, with rival managers acting promptly to sign up the best material available. The cream of the sandlot talent has long since found its place on a roster of one Capital City League club or another in every age division.

League Sponsors Eight Classes.

No less than eight divisions come under the jurisdiction of the Capital City League. They are the three unlimited sections of the District, Maryland and Virginia, in which no age limit exists; the senior division, embracing teams whose rosters comprise players from 18 to 21 years of age, inclusive; the junior section, wherein the players have not attained their eighteenth birthday; the midget section, whose players range from 14 to 17 years, and the insect loop, which limits its players to 14 years.

The American Legion Series is also sponsored by The Post, and players in this group are limited to 17 years. Thus it is that a boy can begin in the Insect League and progress upward through the higher divisions as he grows older, keeping under the guidance of trained coaches throughout all of his sandlot career.

Early season predictions for a successful season are based on the increased interest shown by all concerned with the league. More boys are playing with league teams than ever before, and more business firms are sponsoring teams this year, which is a most favorable omen. The business men, too, are not only placing teams in the field, but are taking an active part in the directing of their charges' activities.

Managers Aim for Sportsmanship.

The managers have taken it upon themselves to lea dthe teams to new standards of sportsmanship, and friendly rivalry, is clearly demonstrated in the several modifications of the rules they have enacted pointing toward good sportsmanship.

In addition, by playing in an organized league of recognized merit, such as the Capital City League, the boys have the benefit of experienced coaches, which the teams' sponsors secure for them. Many Washington boys who have attained stardom in the big leagues made their start playing in the Capital City League.

A notable example of this type is Earl Clark, who played in an exhibition game with the Boston Braves against the Nats yesterday. Not so long ago Earl was just another player with that famed Knickerbocker A. C. Earl's playing while with the Knicks caught the attention of an official of the Capital City League, and through the medium of the league he received the trial with Richmond, in the Virginia League, that eventually landed him on the Braves' regular nine. Bill Werber is another product of the league who attracted the attention of big league scouts. He is the property of the New York Yankees, and although farmed out at present his followers are freely predicting that the season will not be very old ere he will be holding the regular shortstop berth for Ruth, Gehrig & Co.

Prominent Leaders Headed by Russell.

The men who have consented to serve in official capacity for the league this season are well known in local sporting circles, and equally prominent in professional and business life, headed by Mr. William E. Russell, president.

The cold, rainy weather of the last few weeks has seriously hampered the teams in their "spring training." The weather man has promised, however, that the bright sun of yesterday will continue to shine from henceforth, and with it will come the warm breezes that herald the approach of summer.

A meeting of the midget teams will be held Friday night in Room 2 of the District Building, enabling those teams which have not already entered to do so. Thursday night, same time and place, the Capital City League committee on umpires will meet to decide which association will handle the series this year. All committee members are requested to come prepared to make a final disposition of this matter.

Manager of Loughran Denies Fear of Sharkey

New York, April 8 (A.P.).—Joe Smith, manager of Tommy Loughran, former world's light-heavyweight champion, denied today that Loughran had declined an offer of Jimmy Johnston to fight Jack Sharkey at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, this summer, on the grounds that Sharkey was "too strong."

"We turned the fight down, all right," Smith said, "but it wasn't for that reason. I told Johnston we'd be glad to fight Sharkey at one of the New York parks, but that we wouldn't fight in Brooklyn and that we couldn't fight for him because we were tied up with the Garden."

TIGERS REELASE FUNK.

Detroit, Mich., April 8 (A.P.).—Elias Funk, outfielder for the Detroit Tigers, has been released to the Sacramento Club, of the Pacific Coast League, Charles F. Navin, secretary of the Detroit Club, said. Funk, who was with the Tigers in Kansas City, will return to the coast immediately.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

FLOATING ISLAND, the buoyant acre of land, drifts about in the waters of Rocky Pond, near Clinton, Mass. The roving island, called a "quage," was once part of the mainland, and tore loose when undermined by water currents. Winds continually tear the island from its mooring (caused by roots of trees and underbrush) and blow it to the opposite shore, where it again anchors itself, and stays until another storm tears it from the mainland again. It is solid enough to support a large tree and is used as a "raft" by fishermen. By fishing through a hole in the center of the island, fish that usually bite only at night can be caught.

Winning the world's billiard championship in 1907, Willie Hoppe held the title until 1921, when Jake Schaefer defeated him in the tournament at Chicago. It was in this tournament that Hoppe made his sensational grand average of 51.23, but even with such a remarkable performance he lost the match.

Doves and pigeons are the only birds that drink like humans. Other birds get a beak full of water and then hold their heads up to allow the water to run down their throats.

VIRGINIA 9-2 LACROSSE VICTIM

Penn, Outplayed for First Half, Rallies to Win Game.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 8. Outplayed in the first half, Pennsylvania's Lacrosse Team showed a decided reversal of form in the second period by blanking the Virginia stickmen and registering six points to win by a score of 9-2.

The Cavaliers made a goal in the first minute of play, Cameron making the shot on a pass from Evans. For the next ten minutes play was almost entirely in Quaker territory, but Webb finally passed the ball to Bernheim, Quaker in-home, to make the count stand one-all. Goals by Reiser, Penn and Smith, Virginia, again knotted the score but with ten seconds to go Reiser, the Quaker second attack, made a pretty shot to give the Red and Blue a one-point margin at half time.

Pennsylvania's attack in the second period was featured by the all-round work of Riblett, captain-elect of football, who was ably assisted by Lagost, substituting for Williams. Raffael starred on defense. The play of the Virginia stickmen was in marked contrast to their poor showing against last week.

Pennsylvania.	Position.	Virginia.
Kakel	Goal	Belavel
Burrier	Point	Debutts (Capt.)
Johnston	C. P.	R. Williams
Raffel	D.	Dudley
Wilson	S. D.	Gallagher

Williams	O. H.	3 6—9
Virginia		2 0—2

Goals—Reiser (2), Irvin (2), D. Williams (2), Bernheim, Lagost, Riblett, Cameron. Smith. Substitutions—(Pennsylvania) Burnett for Wilson, Colehauer for Johnston, Roose for Robinson, Lagost for Williams; Rosenbaum for Lagost, Archer for Riblett. (Virginia) Haupt for Evans, Wiley for Goldstein, Leigh for Haupt, Gasaway for Broun, Davenport for Goldstein. Referee—Crowther (Virginia).

Two Washington Boys On Virginia Golf Squad

Charlottesville, Va., April 8.—The University of Virginia golf team today began its spring practice with a squad of fourteen men on the course of the Swannanoa Country Club, atop the Blue Ridge Mountains, 20 miles west of this city, under an arrangement recently made with the country club. The university course will be used as a driving ground, but all the matches and practice in other branches of the game will be on the Swannanoa course.

The members of the team from last year are H. R. Kern, jr., of Winchester, Va.; G. Brown Miller, of Washington, D. C., and Robert B. Rains, of Detroit, Mich. A likely candidate for this year's team is C. H. Evans. The only men from last year's squad who are not back are J. T. Burkett, jr., of Little Rock, Ark., and R. A. Loftus, of Washington, D. C., captain and star of the 1930 team.

Last year Virginia lost only one collegiate match, that being to North Carolina. Although the 1931 schedule is not complete, matches will probably be played with North Carolina, University, Duke, William and Mary, Washington and Lee and the University of Richmond. The first match will be played the latter part of April. This is only the third year that golf has been recognized at the university.

There will be six men on the team this year, as compared to the four which upheld the honors last year.

9 Dual Matches Listed For Duke Golf Team

Special to The Washington Post.

Durham, N. C., April 8.—Nine dual meets and participation in the State and Southern Conference Tournaments form the 1931 schedule for the Duke Golf Team.

The Duke hill-and-dale men open the season here Friday against Washington and Lee and will present a new team, save for the No. 1 position occupied by Capt. Wilson Randle, of Hickman, Ky.

June Caldwell, of Edgewood, R. I., will fill No. 2 post, and the next berth will be played by William Hay, of Bloomfield, N. J. The other post is a toss-up between Baucom and Zimmerman.

In addition to the meets scheduled there will probably be dual matches with Wake Forest and North Carolina State Teams.

The schedule:

April 10, Washington and Lee, at Durham; 11, A. A. C., at Durham (Hope Valley Course); 17, Georgia Tech, at Durham; 23, Davidson at Sedgefield; 24-25, State tournament at Sedgefield; 28, Georgia Tech Atlantic Invitational; 30, May 1-2-4, S. I. C. tournament at Athens, Ga. May 9, U. N. C. at Dunham (Hillandale Course); 12, Virginia, at Charlottesville, Va.; 13, Medical College of Va., at Richmond; 15, William and Mary, at Williamsburg, Va.

VA. CUB NINE PRIMES FOR OPENER

Babcock, Chinn Best Pitchers; Central Foe Friday.

Special to The Washington Post.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 8. Candidates for Virginia's first-year baseball team are actively at work in preparation for Friday's contest with Central High, of Washington, to be played here.

The pitchers are beginning to get into fairly good condition after daily work-outs for the past three weeks in Memorial Gymnasium. Babcock and Chinn are the most promising box men, but several others are also giving promise of coming through. The catching probably will be done by Harris.

There are at present four leading outfielders trying out, with little to choose among them. Burger, Fishburne, O'Hare and Townsend being the leaders. Babcock, when not on the mound, will also help to fill out one of the garden posts.

The infield has several leading contenders for positions. At first Keller and Cutler are the two main aspirants. Hobbs and Neal appear to be the best on second, while Phillips and Rosenbloom are fighting it out for shortstop. Third base will be taken care of by MacFarland or Brewer. The schedule follows:

April 10—Central High, Washington, here.

April 15—Augusta Military Academy, here.

April 18—William and Mary, at Williamsburg.

April 20—Washington and Lee, here.

April 23—Virginia Military Institute, here.

April 27—Petersburg High, here.

May 1—Virginia Military Institute, at Lexington.

May 2—Washington and Lee, at Lexington.

V. M. I. TEAM IN ACTION TODAY

LEXINGTON, Va., April 8.—V. M. I. varsity baseball players will get into action only once this week when Hampden-Sydney comes to Alumni Field on Thursday, but Tri-State League games are carded for Monday and Tuesday of next week. The Cadets will entertain Virginia and North Carolina in order.

The Cadet runners will make their first trip of the season this week when they journey to Williamsburg to meet the strong William and Mary team. Coach Read, Manager Badgett, Trainer Patchin and 25 runners and field event men will leave Lexington by bus Friday.

Although scheduled games with Yale on Saturday and Monday were rained out, Coach Bill Raftery was pleased with the performance of his nine in taking two straight from Dartmouth, especially since the big green team is composed of practically all of the players who won the Eastern Intercollegiate League championship last year.

An infield shake-up that transferred Braxton Cutchin to first base and Ike Britton to third gave the Cadets considerably more defensive strength. Capt. Gilly Laughorn is holding down the shortstop position in great style after two years of regular playing at third base.

Ernest Outten and Ralph Waite in the outfield, have come through with stick work near the .500 mark, the figure set by Walter Blocker, veteran backstop. Hank Noble pitched against the Hanoverians in midseason form, and Harold Shomo demonstrated a high brand of relief hurling in holding Dartmouth for seven scoreless innings.

In downing Maryland in track last week the Cadets continued to show strength in the running events, but the William and Mary Indians are conceded a distinct edge in the weight and jumping events. The two teams did not meet last year, but in 1929, led by Gordon Walker, all-round star, V. M. I. came from behind in the last four events to win by a point and a half.

Yale Netmen Defeat Navy 7 Matches to 2

Annapolis, Md., April 8.—Yale's tennis team showed too much class for Navy and won the opening match of the local season today by the score of 7 to 2. The Eli's swept through five of the six strings of singles and two of the doubles matches.

Most of the matches were decided in straight sets, although Johnson and Loughlin (Navy) extended Ryan and Bascom (Yale) in their respective singles.

SINGLES—Luce (Yale) defeated Robertson, 6—4, 6—2; Gold (Navy) defeated Andrews, 6—3, 6—4; Lorenzen (Yale) defeated Reiter, 8—6, 6—2; Holloway (Yale) defeated Holtzworth, 6—3, 2—6, 6—2; Ryan (Yale) defeated Johnson, 10—8, 1—8, 6—4; Bascom (Yale) defeated Loughlin, 7—5, 4—6, 7—5.

DOUBLES—Holloway and Lorenzen (Yale) defeated Gold and Reiter, 6—3, 7—5; Ryan and Bascom (Yale) defeated Johnson and Loughlin, 6—0, 7—5; Holtzworth and Robertson (Navy) defeated Luce and Andrews, 7—5, 6—4.

CLEVELAND POLOISTS WIN.

New York, April 8 (A.P.).—The Cleveland Polo Club won the national indoor polo class 'C' championship for the second straight year tonight by defeating the Essex Troop Polo Trio of New Jersey, in a close game, 5-4½, at the Squadron A Armory.

TECHNINEHIT BY LOSS OF DIAMOND

Field Fails to Absorb Water; Two Games Postponed.

AUTHORITIES at Tech High yesterday ruled that the new stadium field would not be used as a baseball diamond this year. The action was taken after a thorough inspection of the field showed the surface to be of a texture which will not absorb water, but instead hold the moisture until evaporation sets in. Tech's home games will be played on the Monument Grounds.

This is destined to be quite a blow to Tech's team, for it probably will see a group of the candidates falling by the wayside rather than taking the long trip to the Monument each day to practice. Tach nevertheless will drill this afternoon. Last night Coach Mal Edwards issued a call to all players to report at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the high school, where they will proceed to the Monument.

Russell to Remain On First Base.

The two practices Tech has been able to squeeze in this year have convinced Edwards that Everett Russell should remain on first base, where he can do much more good than in the pitching box. Russell played first last year, but was frequently called to the mound as a relief pitcher, and it was believed that he would concentrate on flinging this year.

Tech will depend, from a pitching viewpoint, on Batson, Woods and Willard. Chumbris and Wills, also regulars from last year, have clinced outfield berths. Benner, English, Levy and Russell probably wil make up the infield. All are veterans.

Central to Take Virginia Trip.

Central, rained out of its game with Emerson, departed yesterday afternoon for Lexington, Va., where the freshman team of Coach Rauber's old school, Washington and Lee, will be encountered today. Central moves on to Charlottesville tomorrow, whether the Virginia Freshmen will be met. Rauber took along a squad of fifteen players.

Being unable to play Business yesterday, because of the condition of the Monument Grounds, did not deter Gonzaga from staging one of its most satisfactory drills to date. The old Terminal field was in fair condition, and Coach Mitchell took advantage of this to put his boys through a stiff batting and field practice, in uniform.

The Business-Gonzaga game will be played Saturday morning, at 11 o'clock, at the Monument, with Gonzaga an odds-on favorite to take the unpracticed Stenogs into camp.

Rockville A. A. Reelects Barnard Welsh President

THE Rockville A. A. convened in annual session last night and elected officers for the ensuing year. The meeting was conducted in the Rickville firehouse. Those elected were: Barnard Welsh, reelected president; Joseph Starkey, vice president; Roger Shaw, reelected secretary, and F. Bache Abert, treasurer. The board of governors: F. B. Welsh, Roger Shaw, Julian Whiting, Dr. George L. Edmonds, F. B. Avert, Edward Gandy, Paul Brunett and Eugene Gingell.

Reports on the activities on the past year were read. The Junior Girls' basket ball team won the A. A. U. title for the District of Columbia, while the boys' team also enjoyed a successful season. Charles Coupard was selected to pilot the baseball team for the coming season.

An energetic program for the coming year was adopted. The schedule calls for baseball, track, basket ball, boxnig, tennis and soccer teams. The association plans to form a girls' section this year, fostering sports in all branches for members of the fairer sex.

Dempsey "Too Old" To Fight, He Declares

Pittsburgh, April 8 (A.P.).—When Jack Dempsey has had a good long rest he is going to return to the refereeing and promotion end of the fight game—if he finds it won't ruin his health.

The former heavyweight champion, with a tired, drawn look about him, spent an hour waiting for a Chicago train in the Pennsylvania station here early today after a 67-mile taxi ride, over detours and wrong roads, from Wheeling, W. Va., where he was the third man in a ring last night.

Dempsey said he would never fight again.

"I'm too old to stand the gaff," he added.

He will go to Chicago and then maybe travel on westward.

G. U. TO PLAY PRINCETON TODAY

Poole Hilltop Pitching Selection; Play at Garrett Park.

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY and Princeton will combine to open the local college baseball season this afternoon, with yesterday's and today's promised sunshine serving as a triple-plated guarantee against a recurrence of the old line, "No game today—wet grounds."

The game will be played at Georgetown Prep's diamond, on the Rockville pike about seven miles from the District line. The Hoya team's new diamond, on the Hilltop, has not responded to treatment and still remains muddy.

Hal Poole, who turned in a 7-4 victory over Princeton last year, has been given the pitching assignment today, with O'Toole, a newcomer to the Georgetown team, doing the receiving. Poole looks good to Coach Colrick this year, and is pitching 1.00 inasmuch as he is credited with the win of the Virginia Military Institute game late last month in Lexington, Va.

The entire Georgetown complement of diamond players are likely to see service today against the Tigers, but the regulars, Bozek and Wholey, will receive the major outfield duties, with Morris, Capt. Scalzi and King sure to be seen in the infield.

Princeton is bringing along a team said to be a bit better than the 1930 edition.

Italina Amateur Team To Meet U. S. Boxers

Rome, April 8 (A.P.).—The Italian Boxing Federation today tentatively accepted the invitation of the Amateur Athletic Union of America to send a team of the best Italian Amateur boxers in eight classes to compete next month against American teams in New York and Boston. Barring reversal of the tentative decision, the team will sail for the United States April 24.

The squad probably will consist of Ignazio Stella, flyweight; Edelweis Rodriguez, bantamweight; Aldo Ballerini, featherweight; Cesare Bianchini, lightweight champion of Italy and Europe; Cessare Desio, welterweight champion of Italy; Andrea Borzone, middleweight; Gino Rosa, light-heavyweight, and Saverico Broglotto, heavyweight.

RECOVERY IN STOCKS SLOW BUT GENERAL

Rally Lacks Spectacular Advances; Two Breaks Mark Upturn.

New York, April 8 (A.P.).—Stocks were stronger today, although the recovery was as painfully slow as the decline of the past fortnight.

Technical considerations, rather than any contributions from the news, motivated the general and fairly continuous upturn.

The rally lacked the spectacular advances that frequently mark the retirement of a large short interest. Covering went forward slowly, interrupted in the morning by a break in the rails and again in the last hour when the day's extreme gains of 2 to 5 points were halved. However, the rally was resumed in the final dealings. Sales amounted to 2,000,000 shares; a small turnover.

Steels and Utilities Strong.

Steels and Utilities showed group strength. Oils were again firmer, metal shares responded to the declaration of the regular American smelting dividend, chemicals drew encouragement from word that there was to be no cut in sulphur prices and rails cut down or eliminated their early losses. Weakness marked half a dozen miscellaneous issues, including Fox, Julius Kayser, Sears Roebuck and Homestake Mining, but Auburn jumped 22 points, McKeesport Tin Plate crossed par, Allied Chemical and Worthington Pump rose in the neighborhood of 3 and Alaska Juneau reached the highest price on record.

Net advances of 1 to 2½ were liberally distributed among the pivotal shares. In this group were U. S. Steel, American Can, Westinghouse, General Electric, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Anaconda, Bethlehem, Du Pont, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas and North American. New York Central, after easing to a new 1931 low, closed 2⅝ higher. Tobaccos were bought on the announcement of a rise in cigarette prices.

Denial Helps Steel.

Denial of reports that the most influential factor in the steel industry was ready to launch a "price tax" offset the expected news that operations had declined during the past week. The price situation is none too strong, at best, as some of the trade reviews noted, and authoritative spiking of the rumor was well received.

Iron Age estimated output at 53 per cent of capacity against 55 per cent, but said sentiment was again more sanguine, largely because important construction contracts are pending and because the recovery in motor car production is expected to continue. The steel trade is unwilling to concede that the seasonal peak has been passed.

Other business indices were mixed. Electric Power production for the week ended last Saturday dipped slightly under the previous week, possibly because of Good Friday curtailments in industrial activity.

Westinghouse Orders Grow.

President Merrick, of Westinghouse, said that although operations in January and February resulted in a deficit, the order books had since shown improvement. Output of crude oil was down 23,250 barrels and gasoline stocks decreased.

Weakness of railroad bonds kept the investment market unsettled. Brazilians rallied. Commodities were irregular, wheat closing unchanged to half a cent higher in response to improved export sales to Canada while corn was ⅝ lower to ¼ higher. Cotton futures were liquidated and lost 85 cents to $1 a bale net.

Strength of the Swiss Franc was a feature of the foreign currencies which were mostly steady. The French Franc eased to a new low for the year.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 8 (A.P.).—Increased attention to likelihood of widespread damage from insects this year owing to the unusually mild winter had a bracing effect on grain prices today. However, all grains met with free selling on the upswing and receded in the late trade. Export business in North American wheat totaled but 500,000 bushels, and there were predictions that the greater part both of domestic winter and spring wheat territory would receive beneficial moisture.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ¾c higher, corn ⅝ to ¾c off, oats at ⅛c decline to ¼c advance and provisions 5 to 10c down.

Responding suddenly at times to the stimulus of reports about insect ravages, immediate or prospective, wheat scored a maximum rise of 1¾c. A badly oversold condition of the market was disclosed, and offerings were scarce until profit-taking sales relieved the tension. Advices which received special notice said cutworms in Nebraska had destroyed hundreds of acres of wheat.

Corn and oats rallied with wheat and on account of smallness of corn receipts everywhere. Shipping demand here for corn, though, was disappointing.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July, 60⅜@60½; 82@62¼; September, 59⅛@59¼. 60⅝@60½; December, 62¼, 63¼. Corn—May, 39⅝; 40⅛@40¼; July, 61⅜, 62¾; September, 59⅛@59½, 60½@60⅝; December, 52⅛, 52⅝@53⅜. Cash grain:

ACTIVE BOND SALES RECORD NEW LOWS

Brazilian Issues Regain Their Strength; Rail Issues Lead Decline.

New York, April 8 (A.P.).—Irregularity marked the decline in the bond market today. The number of new low prices for 1931 was reached and the average for a group of representative obligations of domestic corporations was 96.7, the lowest level this year.

General strength in Brazilian obligations was a feature of the trading from the opening to the close, however. This action was the more striking because it was such a sudden reversal of Tuesday's trend. Net gains in this group ranged upward to 8 points. Minas Geraes 6½s of 1958 made the latter gain and the 6½s of 1959 appreciated one point less. Trading was unusually active.

Railway Bonds Weak.

Other foreign bonds declined and some of the largest losses were recorded by other Latin American issues. Issues of the United States Government were dull with small mixed changes.

Widespread weakness in rail liens was the outstanding feature of the market for domestic obligations. Net losses of 1 point or more were fairly common. Such declines were scored by active issues like Baltimore & Ohio refunding 5s and the 5s of the Southwestern division, Central of Georgia 5s, St. Paul series E general 4½s, Erie Refunding and Improvement 5s and consolidated 4s, Nickel Plate series C 4½s, Missouri Pacific series I 5s and General 4s, and St. Louis-San Francisco 4½s of 1973 and series A 4s.

Liquidation Is Blamed.

Some of the less active rails made as large losses. The slump was ascribed to liquidation by some large holders. The railroad earnings outlook has not been favorable for some months and in a period of unfavorable earnings the more speculative issues might be expected to suffer most.

Declines were less severe among public utility, industrial and stock privilege obligations. Some of this latter group were firm or moderately higher, which contributed to the irregularity.

Albany Perforated Wrapping Paper 6s of 1948 slumped 23½ points to a new low at 50 on a single small transaction.

Chesapeake & Ohio's Assets Are Increased

New York, April 8 (A.P.).—The pamphlet report of Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad for 1930, made public today, disclosed an increase of $82,000,000 in the company's total assets which on December 31 last, stood at $685,206,067 against $603,125,301 at the close of 1929. Current assets of $36,693,188 compared with $30,419,587, while current liabilities of $19,356,318 represented a decline of more than $4,000,000 from 1929.

Operating revenues were $137,173,037, a decrease of $13,494,937, or 8.96 per cent. Net income of $33,999,455 was equal to $4.44 a common share compared with $56,349,341, or $4.75 in 1929.

SYNDICATE'S HEADS HONORED AT DINNER

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The amazing growth of Investors Syndicate, cumulative investment organization, was described last night by J. R. Ridgway, Minneapolis, its president, at a banquet at the Mayflower Hotel given by members of its Washington office, honoring him and C. E. Abbett, New York, sales manager for the Eastern halves of the United States and Canada.

President Ridgway, the principal speaker, told of the expansion of the syndicate, organized in Minneapolis in 1894, with total assets of $2,600, into a business of more than $40,000,000, extending throughout the United States and into every province of Canada. Explaining that the syndicate set out to teach people the value of a compulsory, systematic plan of accumulating money, he said it was the only company that has perfected an amortised mortgage system and followed it consistently through the entire period of its existence.

Loans Average $4,000.

The syndicate, he added, now controls 21 subsidiary mortgage companies in the United States and Canada, all of its loans being made through them and all of its mortgage men working on a salary basis. Its loans, which are made only on homes in large cities, average $4,000.

The record the company is proud of, according to President Ridgway, is that of having had less than a half of 1 per cent in delinquencies on loans in a period extending over approximately ten years.

Mr. Abbett and James Milton Sherrill, manager of the local office, were additional speakers and members and guests in attendance were the following:

J. R. Ridgway, C. E. Abbett, James Milton Sherrill, state manager, Washington; W. B. Whitaker, Washington, Va., manager; Thomas M. Cahill, The Washington Post; Catharine Murphy, secretary; L. E. Eichelberger, Frederick, Md.; E. R. Adams, St. George, Md.; Edward S. Smith, Tolley, Charles D. Rice, Le Gore, Md.; Thomas S. Kennedy.

F. U. Brossard, E. M. Bullock, F. C. McCracken, W. G. Marsh, G. W. Weaver, Mrs. Phyllis Hughes, J. A. von Schuessler, Francis S. Browne, Russell A. Woolf, Frederick W. Fox, Albert P. Gorsuch, F. B. Persons, Myron H. Palm, Edward S. Smith, D. Curry, Jean P. Mervine, Mrs. Myrtel V. Dannegger, Stephen T. Mitchell, M. J. Cohan, T. H. Butler, C. E. Howson, William M. Sterling, B. Preston Root, G. F. Hamilton, J. G. Underwood, Miss Sarah M. Stockton, George W. Greer, L. A. Sledge, Mrs. Hazel G. Smith, William H. Smith, D. J. Shanklin, J. B. Sellars, Harold W. Face, G. E. Pierson, Miss Alice M. Updegraff, Wayne C. Hill, Robert G. Luckie, John Perry Thomas, Indian Head, Md.; W. B. Crossan, M. M. Summers.

Washington Loan's Report.

Officials of the Washington Loan & Trust Co., announced yesterday that its deposits of $17,938,293.04 as of March 25, date set by the latest call of Comptroller of the Currency John W. Pole, were the largest in the history of their institution.

Directors of the company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent payable May 1, to stockholders of record April 24. Books will be closed for transfer of stock from April 24 to May 1, both dates inclusive.

Plans for the thirteenth annual convention of the District of Columbia Bankers Association at Hot Springs, Va., June 18-21, will be outlined by Frederick P. H. Siddons, convention general chairman, at the spring meeting of the association at Columbia Country Club April 29.

The dinner will be preceded by a golf tournament for the Robert V. Fleming Cup. The committee in charge is composed of Vice President C. H. Pope, Munsey Trust Co., Vice President Laurence A. Slaughter, Commercial National Bank, and Trust Officer T. Stanley Holland, American Security & Trust Co.

Offering Steel Issue.

The National City Co. and Bankers Co. of New York are heading a banking group which is offering at 99 and interest a new issue of $40,000,000 National Steel Corporation first "collateral" mortgage sinking fund gold bonds, 5 per cent series, due April 1, 1956.

Associated with them in the offering are Continental Illinois Co., Inc., Lee Higginson & Co., Guardian Detroit Co., Inc., the Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Union Cleveland Corporation and White, Weld & Co.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, April 8.—Wall street reports state that Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co. probably will sell an additional $5,000,000 of 6 per cent preferred stock, the proceeds to reimburse the treasury for expenses incident to acquisitions of additional properties earlier in the year.

Boston & Maine Railroad stockholders have authorized the issuance of not to exceed $7,500,000 first mortgage bonds for the purpose of refunding $9,000 Fitchburg Railroad Co. 4½ per cent bonds due in January, 1932; $2,400,000 Boston & Maine 5s, due in March, 1932, and $154,000 Boston & Lowell Railroad 4s, due in April, 1932. The balance is to be used for improvements. The stockholders also approved issuance of 75,000 shares of 7 per cent prior preferred stock to take care of the conversion of bonds in 1932.

Stockholders of Intercoast Trading Co. have ratified the exchange of stock for Transamerica Corporation stock.

Four companies registered more automobiles in March in Detroit, Mich., than in the like month last year. Registrations of several other makes approached those of March, 1930. The four which showed the increases were Cadillac, Chevrolet, Chrysler and Dodge.

Julius H. Varnes, president of General Bronze Corporation, said at the annual meeting that operating losses of a year ago have been eliminated through economies and improved methods. For the first three months this year, he said, the company showed a slight net profit, compared with a net loss of $120,000 for the first quarter of 1930.

Stockholm advices today said that Kreuger & Toll Co., whose interests include the Swedish Match Co., had reported 1930 net income of 122,000,000 krona (about $32,940,000), compared with 108,000,000 krona (about $29,095,000) in 1929. The regular dividend of 30 per cent was declared, equal to $1.60 on the American participation debenture certificates.

By consent of the board of managers of the New York Produce Exchange, the cottonseed oil trade will on April 15 inaugurate trading in prime summer yellow cottonseed oil futures. Only spot contracts are now dealt in. Trading will begin with May contracts and the unit of trading will be 60,000 pounds of loose oil. The price basis will be in cents per pound and fluctuations will be in one-hundredths of a cent. Tenders will be made from licensed bonded warehouses in the same way and manner as that which now applies to beachable prime summer yellow spot contracts.

1930 FORD PROFITS PASS $44,400,000

Boston, April 8 (A.P.).—The annual statement of Ford Motor Co., filed with the Massachusetts commissioner of corporations, indicated net profit for 1930 of $44,460,823, compared with $81,797,861 in the preceding year. Profit and loss surplus December 31, 1930, was $708,888,247, against $664,427,424 December 31, 1929.

Indicated profit for 1930 is equal to $257.52 a share on 172,645 shares of capital stock, against $473.79 a share in the previous year.

The indicated profit for 1930 did not take into consideration such dividends as may have been paid during the year to the three owners, Henry Ford, Mrs. Henry Ford and Edsel Ford.

This profit, while only a little more than half of the 1929 profit, compared with losses of approximately $72,000,000 in 1928 and $42,000,000 in 1927, in which years the company made large expenditures incident to bringing out its model A.

The largest profit reported in recent years was in 1925, when the net exceeded $115,000,000.

Real estate was carried on the books at $152,636,931, or slightly less than the previous year, and machinery and equipment at $131,884,056, also slightly lower than 1929. Inventories showed a reduction to $112,482,374 from $118,883,082 at the close of 1929. Cash, including notes, accounts receivable, securities and patent rights, was carried as $382,898,719, against $346,937,496 December 31, 1929.

Accounts payable were listed as $45,315,919, as of December 31 last, against $73,036,929 December 31, 1929. As the company is privately owned, its stock is not listed on any security exchanges and it does not issue detailed financial statements.

Detroit, April 8 (A.P.).—World production of the Ford Motor Co. for March was announced today as 99,035 units, as compared to 85,109 in February. The March volume was reported as the largest since August, 1930, when 99,140 units were produced. In March, 1930, Ford world production was 169,045 units.

For the first quarter of 1931 the Ford company has produced 239,326 cars and trucks, as compared with 400,700 during the first quarter of 1930.

One Motor Proves Downfall of Two

First Driver Is Unable to Show Card; Second Held as Drunk.

One automobile proved the downfall of two colored men in Prince Georges County yesterday, both of them being arrested about five hours apart while driving the same machine.

Garfield Thomas, of Marlboro, was arrested by State Policeman W. A. Rogers shortly after noon yesterday. He was charged with having fictitious markers and no license. He was released to meet the policeman later.

Several hours subsequently, Policeman Rogers saw the same machine careening about the road, allegedly driven by a colored man named Brown, said to live in Alexandria, Va. Brown was charged with driving while drunk, reckless driving and having no license. Brown was jailed, and Thomas, failing to meet the policeman, also was placed in the Marlboro Jail.

New York Will Trade In Wool Top Futures

New York, April 8 (A.P.).—Members of the New York Cotton Exchange today voted to establish a wool top futures market, the only market of its kind in the United States.

Trading will be inaugurated Monday, May 18, with prices quoted in cents a pound and fluctuations in tenths of a cent. The unit of trading will be about 5,000 pounds. The hours for trading will be 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., excepting on Saturday, when the market will close at 11:30 a. m.

U. S. LOSES ATTACK ON ESTATE TAX LAW

Ruling May Affect Lincoln and Dupont Heirs' Collections.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 8 (A.P.).—Judge R. M. Gibson in United States District Court here today upheld an attack on the constitutionality of a part of the Federal estate tax act. The decision was rendered in a suit against the Government for the return of $226,067.71 filed by executors of the John W. Donnan estate, of Washington, Pa.

The question passed upon by Judge Gibson involved the legal right of a citizen to dispose of part of his estate within two years of his death without the Government taking the view that he contemplated death and did so to avoid collection of tax from his estate.

Donnan died December 23, 1928, at the age of 81. In March, 1927, he established a trust fund of $1,700,000 to be handled by his trustees, the income to go to his four children and the principal to be distributed in 20 years to the last survivors.

The Government, in assessing estate tax, held that under the estate tax act it was a conclusive presumption of death to have established the trust fund within two years of Donnan's death. The plaintiffs claimed there was no thought of probable death in the mind of Donnan when he arranged the trust fund and that it was a gift.

The question of law decided by Judge Gibson today was said by court attaches to be involved in the estate of Robert Todd Lincoln, son of President Abraham Lincoln, and also in the estate of William Dupont. The Lincoln case is before the United States Board of Tax Appeals in Washington, D. C., and the Dupont case is filed for a hearing in United States District Court, in Wilmington, Del.

Arlington County Asks $1.18 Gas Rate

Commission Is Told Price Is Fair as Against $1.50 Charge.

Representatives of Arlington County, seeking a reduction of gas rates, yesterday told members of the Corporation Commission in Richmond that $1.18 would be a fair price for gas in Arlington County, as against the price of $1.50, which is the current rate.

After hearing the county's side of the case yesterday, the hearing was adjourned until Friday morning at 11 o'clock. It is believed that the gas company will be allowed to present its side of the case at that time.

Arlington County is represented at the hearings by Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth and G. O. Basham, special counsel. The hearing was also attended by the Arlington County Board of Supervisors and the county engineer. Officials of the gas company were present, including G. A. G. Wood, president, and Wilton J. Lambert, attorney for the company.

PROPOSALS

OFFICE OF THE ARCHITECT OF THE Capitol, Washington, D. C., April 7, 1931.—Sealed bids will be opened in this office at 3 p. m., Eastern standard time, MAY 21, 1931, for the construction of a Conservatory Building for the United States Botanic Garden, to be built on square 376, Washington, D. C. The buildings as designed will be approximately 163 feet by 284 feet, one story high, of stone, concrete, steel, aluminum and glass construction, with reinforced concrete pile foundations. In accordance with the act of March 3, 1931, the specifications require that all laborers and mechanics employed under the contract for this building shall be paid the prevailing rates of wages in the District of Columbia. On or after April 13, 1931, plans and specifications, not exceeding three sets, may be obtained at the office of the Architect of the Capitol, in the discretion of said architect, by any satisfactory general contractor. A deposit in the form of a check for $50, made payable to the order of DAVID LYNN, Architect of the Capitol, will be required for each set of plans and specifications to insure their return in good condition. 9,10,11

Auction Sales

THURSDAY, APRIL 9—
THOMAS J. OWEN & SON, Auctioneers.
1431 Eye Street Northwest.

TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE, BEING A TWO-STORY, SEMIDETACHED, BRICK DWELLING, CONTAINING SEVEN ROOMS AND BATH, KNOWN AS 427 MADISON STREET NORTHWEST.

By virtue of a certain deed of trust recorded in Liber No. 6005 at folio 65 of the land records of the District of Columbia, and at the request of the party secured thereby, the undersigned will sell at public auction, in front of the premises on TUESDAY, THE SEVENTH OF APRIL, 1931, AT THREE-THIRTY O'CLOCK, P. M., the following described land and premises situate in the District of Columbia, and being lot numbered One Hundred Forty-two (142) in Ethel M. Rutty's and others' subdivision of lots in square numbered Thirty-two Hundred sixty-three (3263), as per plat recorded in the Office of the Surveyor for the District of Columbia in Liber 54 at folio 33.

TERMS OF SALE: Said property is subject to a prior deed of trust securing an indebtedness of $5,750.00, and said property will be sold subject to said deed of trust indebtedness. Of the purchase price over and above said deed of trust, one-third is to be paid in cash and the balance in two equal installments, payable in one and two years, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable semiannually, secured by second deed of trust upon the property sold, or all cash at the option of the purchaser. Interest and taxes to be paid or adjusted to date of sale. A deposit of $250.00 will be required at the time of sale. All conveyancing, recording, &c., at the cost of the purchaser. Terms of sale to be complied with within thirty (30) days from day of sale, otherwise deposit will be forfeited, and property resold at risk and cost of defaulting purchaser after five (5) days' advertisement of such resale in some newspaper published in Washington, D. C.

FAMOUS SEER THE MAN WHO KNOWS

This strange man sees the way and tells it all. Just what your life has been, just what it will be. Tells you when and whom you will marry; whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false. Tells as to changes, travel, lost or absent friends, divorce, wills, deeds, whether it is best to buy or sell. He tells the good and the bad. A visit will convince you of his wonderful power.

Something tells you this is the man. You feel the impulse to call. Do not delay. Copyright, Apr. 1931.

NEWS OF LATEST HAPPENINGS IN MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

THREE MEN INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION; PARKED CAR BLAMED

ANNAPOLIS RESIDENT ARRESTED ON CHARGE

Traffic Policeman Suffers Fractured Knee When Motorcycle Crashes.

Three men were injured, one seriously, in a collision of two automobiles yesterday at Seventeenth and M streets northwest, said to have been caused by the obscuration of a stop sign by a parked automobile.

Everett Robey, 23 years old, a passenger in one of the machines, is in Emergency Hospital where he is said to be injured internally. His condition is thought to be serious.

Others injured in the accident were George W. Trevener, 51 years old, of 1428 Taylor street driver of one automobile, and Ernest Jackson, 31 years old, driver of the machine in which Robey was riding. They were treated for bruises.

Annapolis Man Arrested.

George C. Fowler, 40 years old, of Annapolis, Md., owner of the parked automobile, was arrested by Third Precinct police for parking within 25 feet of a stop sign. He was released on $5 collateral.

Police say the accident occurred when the car driven by Trevener, going west on M street, crashed into one going north on Seventeenth street, piling both cars into a tree. Trevener said he could not see the stop sign because of a parked automobile which, police said, is owned by Fowler.

Jackson, Robey and Dorothy Hall, passengers in one of the cars, are employed at Harmony Hall, the home of Charles W. Collins, at Broad Creek, in southern Maryland.

Two Not Injured.

Policeman Marvin N. Carpenter, of the Traffic Bureau, suffered a fractured knee yesterday when his motorcycle and an automobile driven by Jessie C. Davis, of Ballston, Va., collided at Florida avenue and L street northeast. Davis was charged with reckless driving.

The automobile was making a left turn into L street when the crash occurred. Carpenter was following a funeral at the time. He was removed to Emergency Hospital, where he was found to have, besides the broken knee, contusions of the hip and lacerations of the hands.

Boy Seriously Hurt.

Two Negroes were injured yesterday when their automobile was in collision at Fifth and M streets northeast with another driven by James A. Moore, 31, of M street near Eighteenth street northeast. Liam Barbour, 41, suffered a fracture of the pelvis and William Greene, his 13-year-old companion, received a possible skull fracture, concussion of the brain and lacerations of the scalp.

Barbour, who lives on L street near First northwest, was taken to Freedmen's Hospital in a passing machine. Greene is in Casualty Hospital in a serious condition. He lives at 97 Fenton street northeast.

Pauline Paul, 9, was struck by a taxicab yesterday near her home at 623 Fourth street northwest, suffering cuts, bruises and a slight concussion of the brain. After treatment at Casualty Hospital she was taken home. According to police, the cab was driven by John E. Harding, colored, of Third street near I southwest.

Virginia City Considers Natural Gas Proposal

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 8.—A possibility that Charlottesville may join a half dozen other towns in the State in the use of natural gas, to be taken from a line running from eastern Kentucky to Washington and Baltimore, was indicated at a meeting of the city council when Mayor Fred L. Watson read a letter from the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co., asking permission to make an estimate on the city's gas properties with the view of purchasing them.

The commissioners gave permission for the appraisal. Mayor Watson, City Manager H. A. Yancey and City Attorney E. V. Walker were asked to draw up a reply to the letter.

Indictments Cite Thomas in Fraud

Richmond, Va., April 8 (A.P.).—Robert Thomas, former regional attorney for the United States Veterans Bureau, who on Monday was awarded $10,500 damages from officials of the Veterans Bureau for slander and conspiracy, was named in several indictments returned in United States District Court here today in connection with veterans' affairs.

P. A. L. Smith, jr., Commonwealth's attorney of Goochland County, who has pending a $50,000 slander suit against the same Veterans Bureau officials named by Thomas, also was indicted.

Two of the bills returned charge Thomas with fraud in connection with settlement of the war risk insurance of James Allen, a deceased war veteran. In another he is named jointly with the Rev. B. J. Hill and Alice White, of Petersburg, for having conspired to violate the war risk insurance law, and in still another, Thomas, Smith and Paul S. Williams are charged with conspiring to prevent Veterans Bureau officials—the same ones named in the Thomas and Smith slander suits—for discharging the duties of their offices by means of "force, intimidation, threat and assault."

THREE HURT AS PARKED CAR HIDES STOP SIGN

Louis Johrden, Post Staff Photographer.

This unusual photo was the result of an accident at Seventeenth and M streets northwest yesterday morning. Everett Robey, a passenger in the machine on the right, is in Emergency Hospital suffering from bruises and cuts and a scalp abrasion as well as internal injuries. Two others received hospital treatment. The accident is said to have been caused when a stop sign at the intersection was obscured from view by a parked car.

TWO SAFES BLOWN; LOOT TOTALS $150

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 8.—Yeggmen early tonight blew open the safes in two filling stations on Rose Hill, one owned by the Texas Co. and the other by the Rubin Lowe Co., but got less than $150.

The safe at the Texas station was completely shattered, and the money drawer, containing $143 was taken away. At the Rubin Lowe station a small safe was blown open, but the robbers failed to gain entrance to a larger safe, after breaking off the combination.

Both places were visited soon after nightfall, less than an hour after they had been closed for the day.

The explosions were not heard in the neighborhood. Discovery of the robbery at the Texas plant was made by the manager who returned at 8:30 p. m. to do some office work.

Monday night burglers entered the dry goods store of Hawkins Brothers & Co., on Main street, and carried off goods valued at $600. Entrance was gained by a rope ladder swung from a skylight. A two-day search by city police has failed to reveal any trace of the robbers.

Club Owner Gets 3 Years in Prison

Sam Lampe Sentenced on Liquor Charge; Brother, 3 Aids Also Jailed.

Baltimore, Md., April 8 (A.P.).—A sentence of three years in the Federal penitentiary was imposed today on Sam Lampe, Baltimore fight promoter, for prohibition law violations. He was arrested last month at Miami, Fla.

Lampe testified he was the proprietor of the Club Madrid, where prohibition agents said they bought 400 drinks of liquor in a few days during the Christmas holidays. One agent testified he told Lampe his establishment "was the finest south of New York."

Leon Lampe, the promoter's brother, was sentenced to two years, and six months in jail were given Leon Kravitz, James Finnigan and Irvin Rosen.

Pershing Will Attend Dr. Baer Rites Today

Gen. John J. Pershing will be among the honorary pallbearers at the funeral services in Baltimore this afternoon for Dr. William S. Baer, famous orthopedic surgeon, who died there Tuesday. Ten Baltimore nurses and two from Washington, all of whom served with Dr. Baer overseas during the World War, will attend the rites in a body.

The Rev. Dr. Oscar T. Olson will officiate at the services in Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church. Interment at Druid Ridge Cemetery will be private. Mrs. Baer left Southhampton, England, for the United States Tuesday, before she received news of her husband's death.

Petersburg Council Takes Annexation Step

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., April 8.—The city council at a meeting held last night took the first legal steps toward annexing large areas of the territory of Prince George and Dinwiddie Counties to Petersburg, and the necessary ordinances were read and adopted.

According to law, these ordinances have to be published once a week for four weeks and certified copies served on the county board of supervisors and county authorities. The ordinances were prepared by City Attorney R. B. Willcox and Samuel W. Zimmer, who will represent the city when suits are heard.

Baltimore Welcomes Nurses for Convention

Baltimore, April 8 (A.P.).—Delegates from five States and the District of Columbia today were on their way to Baltimore to attend a biennial conference of the Middle Atlantic division of the American Nurses' Association. Sessions begin tomorrow and continue until Friday.

Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York and New Jersey, besides the District of Columbia, compose the group.

Feeling Aroused By Sours Verdict

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., April 8.—Bitter feeling was reported in Ida Hollow near here over the verdict last night acquitting David Sours of the murder of Edward Burscker on March 5.

Sours remained here today.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN TO GO TO BETHESDA

Montgomery Federation Is to Meet Tonight at Clubhouse.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Walter W. Dawson, Republican delegate from Montgomery County to the Maryland House of Delegates, will be principal speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Federation of Republican Women of Montgomery County tonight. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the Woman's Club House, old Georgetown road, Bethesda.

The meeting will be open to the public. County affairs and recent county legislation will be discussed.

The Bethesda section of the Montgomery Government Club will meet Saturday night to elect officers and representatives to the county congress, it was announced by Dr. Benjamin C. Perry, Democratic leader of the section, yesterday. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the Bethesda County Building.

A county-wide meeting to discuss recent county legislation and other county affairs will be held tomorrow night at the Manor Club, near Norbeck. The meeting will be under the auspices of progressive Democrats, but will be open to all who wish to attend.

Superintendent of Schools Edwin W. Broome will be principal speaker at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Fairland High School Monday night at the school. Dr. Broome will discuss suburban schools and their possibilities and particularly the proposed enlargement of the Fairland High School, for which $35,000 has been authorized by the State Legislature.

A public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance for Rockville will be held May 12 at 8 p. m., it was announced yesterday by Mayor J. Roger Spates. The ordinance has been recommended by a special committee appointed by the mayor and council which has made a thorough study of the situation.

This committee, composed of Donald A. DeLashmutt, Porter Ward and Julian Whiting, has held public hearings on the proposed amendment. The regulations closely follow those in effect in the Metropolitan District, with a few minor changes applicable to peculiar situations in Rockville.

Election of officers will be a feature of the meeting of the Woman's Improvement Club of Silver Spring tonight at 8 o'clock in the clubhouse. Nominations will be made from the floor.

Two Are Cleared In Virginia Killing

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., April 8.—A grand jury today refused to indict Constable George Bageant and George W. Pingley, special deputy, for murder in the killing of Mrs. Rebecca Orndorff, wife of Blanton Orndorff, last November.

Members of a former grand jury, which had also refused to indict Orndorff and his three sons for the same offense, were among many witnesses examined. Mrs. Orndorff was killed with a shotgun during a fight at the Orndorff home, where officers had gone to obtain possession of a dog held by court order to belong to Chester Hockman, who accompanied them. Two grand juries were unable to determine who held the gun when it was fired.

JEFFERSON'S BIRTH TO BE CELEBRATED

Music Festival Will Follow Exercises Next Monday at Monticello.

Charlottesville, Va., April 8 (A.P.).—Music will be the outstanding feature of the national celebration of Thomas Jefferson's birthday next Monday at Jefferson's home, Monticello, which he built on the mountain top overlooking his native city, Charlottesville.

The exercises will begin in the morning with a Founder's Day celebration at the nearby University of Virginia which Thomas Jefferson founded and the buildings of which he designed and had built under his personal supervision. Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, will welcome visitors and present Dr. Michael MacWhite, minister to the United States from the Irish Free State, who will deliver the Founder's Day address in honor of Jefferson.

The exercises at Monticello will begin at 3:30 p. m., with a reception in honor of Dr. MacWhite, and in honor of the officials of the Virginia State Choral Festival Association, which has arranged a four-day music festival to follow the celebration of Jefferson's birthday. The officers of the association who have arranged the festival and who have been invited to be guests of honor at Monticello on Jefferson's Birthday are: Gov. Pollard, honorary president; Judge Ben T. Gunter, Robert O. Norris, Robert W. Daniel, James Easley, Alvin Baird, Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, Junius P. Fishburn and former Gov. Byrd, who are honorary vice presidents; Richard Crane, president; James H. Prince, vice president; E. I. Carruthers, treasurer; Verbon E. Kemp, secretary; Mrs. J. P. Buchanan, Miss Julia Fuqua, Miss Blanche Deal and John Powell, members of the executive committee.

Among the officers and governors of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation who will be present at Monticello Monday are, Stuart G. Gibboney, president; Henry Alan Johnston, secretary; Dr. George J. Ryan, president of the board of education of the City of New York; Joseph Miller, jr., of New York; Dr. Edwin A. Alderman; Fred W. Twyman, of Charlottesville; Dr. Harold G. Campbell, of New York; Mrs. E. D. Hotchkiss, of Richmond; Theodore Fred Kuper, national director of the foundation.

ALEXANDRIA'S TAXES MAY NOT FEEL RULE

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

According to an informal opinion of City Attorney Carl Budwesky, the decision recently handed down by the State Court of Appeals in the Lynchburg tax case will not have any bearing on the blanket cut made by the local board of tax equalization last December, when the new assessment was cut in half, due to the fact that all real property except that of incorporations was assessed at its full market value. Mr. Budwesky stated, however that he has not had opportunity to make a thorough study of the tax decision, but expects to be in Richmond today, when he will obtain a report of the decision in the Lynchburg case.

The local tax assessors in rendering their report last December placed an assessment of the full market value on all real property owned by individuals, this property having heretofore been assessed at approximately one-third its value. It appeared, however, that real estate owned by public utilities and other corporations was assessed by the State Corporation Commission at a considerably lower figure, and the city was faced with the choice of fixing a tax rate which would place a greater burdend on the private owner than on the corporation or of making the rate so low that the return in taxes would not meet the city's financial requirements. The rate which had been proposed was $1.20 on each $100 valuation, but the board of tax equalization decided to make a blanket cut of one-half in the assessment, and the city accordingly fixed the tax rate at $2.40.

It now appears that should the decision in the Lynchburg case be applied to Alexandria it would mean that Alexandrians would be compelled to pay the $2.40 rate on the full market value of their property, or double the rate which now obtains.

The rate in effect prior to the new assessment was $1.65 on the $100, and the $2.40 rate, which yields slightly more revenue than the old rate, and was adopted by the city council after careful study of financial needs.

An important difference between the situation in Alexandria and that in Lynchburg appears to be that the Alexandria property was assessed at its full market value and the assessment was cut in half before the tax rate was fixed, whereas in Lynchburg the property was not assessed at its fil value, and the assessment was cut 20 per cent.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

IF CHARLIE CHAPLIN KEEPS A DIARY.

MONDAY: Arrived at Southampton. King George and Queen Mary rowed out to meet me in the queen's own imperial dinghy. Offered to turn over Buckingham Palace to me for the season. Ramsay MacDonald took me to lunch. Went bicycle riding with Stanley Baldwin and Lloyd George in afternoon. Am being followed everywhere by George Bernard Shaw. Understand he wants to adopt me. Guest of royalty at dinner. The king offered to vacate and give me the crown. I promised him I would think it over.

* * * *

Wednesday: Taken to France on British warship. France has declared a National Charlie Chaplin Week. Quite a cabinet crisis developed over the honor of entertaining me. Received formal notification from the premier that I had been allotted a place in the tomb of Napoleon. These French are so considerate. Committee waited on me to get my consent to change the name of the Arch de Triomphe to the Chaplin Arch.

* * * *

Friday: Arrived in Germany. Met at the border by Von Hindenberg, who carried me from there to Berlin on his shoulder. All Germany is decorated in my honor. Got a charming cable of affection from former Kaiser Wilhelm. Hitler threw a party for me in the evening. Ludendorf wants me for tea tomorrow. I understand there is a movement afoot to restore the monarchy and make me Kaiser Charlie.

* * * *

Sunday: My visit to Austria has given the people the first real happiness since the prewar days. Am weak from festivities.

* * * *

TUESDAY: Mussolini has sent word that if I don't come to Italy at once he will feel very hurt. The people are crying for me.

* * * *

Wednesday: Mussolini in person met me at Milan and drove me to Rome in his own car. We hit no children. The king and Benito had quite a row over which should throw a dinner party for me. It looked like war for a time. I finally avoided trouble by taking dinner with Benito and going to the theater with the king and queen. They want to give me the Island of Capri to remember them by.

* * * *

Friday: Flew to Spain. There was a revolution on but it was stopped as soon as the people spotted me. Mass meetings are being held everywhere at which it is advocated that Alfonso be deposed and that I take the throne. It's all quite jolly.

* * * *

Sunday: Had a wire from Sweden. The King says that if I will favor the country with a visit he will recall the Nobel prize given to Sinclair Lewis and present it to me.

A SUGGESTION.

If those radio piano lesson hours are to have a theme song how about a number called "Fearful Little Earful?"

A pin dropped at a broadcasting studio the other day made a crash that was heard 'round the world. Ima Dodo, whose radio hasn't been working very well lately, thinks somebody at the stations she tunes into has been dropping railroad spikes.

BALTIMORE HOLDS LISTLESS PRIMARY

Baltimore, Md., April 8 (A.P.).—William G. Albrecht, member of the city council, defeated Walter G. Hammond, city building engineer, for the Republican nomination for mayor in a listless primary here yesterday. The final count was 14,116 to 5,929.

E. Lester Muller won the Democratic nomination for president of the council over Frank G. Bauer, polling 29,906 to Bauer's 24,169. Howard W. Jackson, former mayor, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for that office.

The Democrats increased their registration majority to the largest in history, 5,619 of the 6,679 new voters enrolled registering as Democrats. The registration gave the party 179,728, or 61.10 per cent of the city's total vote.

RAID CASE DELAYED IN PRINCE GEORGES

Trial of Young Men Held on School Law Charge Postponed One Week.

Although the cases of two young men held in connection with a raid on a house in Cheverly some time ago was scheduled to be heard yesterday in Prince Georges County Police Court, the trial was postponed for a week.

One of the youths is charged with inducing a child to be absent from school without permission, and the other is charged with harboring a child absent unlawfully.

Six school children were taken in the raid, which was made by county police, accompanied by the principal of the school. It is understood that the case is being continued until the State's attorney has time to prosecute it.

Two women were tried yesterday in this court on liquor charges, one of them being convicted. Betty Meighan, of North Carolina avenue near Eighth street southeast, was fined $200 for possession of eight cases of liquor. She appealed and was held in bond of $500. Charges against Ella Snider were dismissed when it was learned that Miss Meighan was driving the small coupe.

The girls told Judge J. Chew Sheriff that they parked their car in Annapolis to look at the Naval Academy, and that the liquor was placed in the machine without their knowledge.

John D. Brown, of Rhode Island avenue northeast, near Eighth street, was fined $150 when he pleaded guilty to possesion. He was arrested by Officer Ralph Brown. A fine of $25 for assault and battery was placed against Alfred R. Yancey, of Hyattsville, and his brother Lewis was sentenced to pay $15 on the same charge. The two were accused of having attacked James Grandstaff as he was moving out of the house he rented from their father.

Fourteen of the 21 road supervisors in Prince Georges County have been appointed by the county commissioners on the recommendation of the district road committees. Recommendations for the other supervisors have not been made.

Those who have been appointed are: Vansville, district No. 1, John D. Smith; Nottingham, No. 4, L. N. Perrie; Piscataway, No. 5, Aleceius Edelen; Queen Anne, No. 7, W. W. Brady; Aquasco, No. 8, C. H. McPherson; Surratts, No. 9, Will Long; Laurel, No. 10, William Flester; Brandywine, No. 11, Frank H. Baden; Oxon Hill, No. 12, Walter Brooke; Bowie, No. 14, John Berberick; Mellwood, No. 15, Dewey Groves; Hyattsville, No. 16 S. F. Hobson; Lanham, No. 20, Joseph Cipriano, and Berwyn, No. 21, George Roussillon.

Ira L. Law, Red Cross instructor in first aid, who gave instructions to Alexandria's first aid unit, will give a short talk, as will also Thomas W. McHugh, president of the rescue squad, and J. William May.

The work of rebinding twenty volumes of court records has been completed. Many of the volumes date back to 1785, and the constant handling in the office of the clerk of the corporation court has necessitated the rebinding of many of the books.

Miss Virginia Riley, 20 years old, of 813 Prince street, is in the Alexandria Hospital with a broken leg, received when the automobile in which she was riding slid off the road on Mount Vernon avenue, near the Little Tea House, at an early hour yesterday morning. Miss Lindsey Weset, 20 years old, of 222 South St. Asaph street, who was also in the car, received a broken nose and after treatment at the hospital was taken to her home.

The Rev. Ryland T. Dodge, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club today, at 12:30 at the George Mason Hotel. A. M. Remschel, Harmon Reed and Edward S. Leadbeater, who are 100 per cent in attendance at the club meetings are in charge of the program.

BANQUET SET TODAY BY CIVIC FEDERATION

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

William N. Doak, Secretary of Labor, and Oliver Owen Kuhn, of Washington, will be principal speakers at the annual banquet to be given this evening at 6:45 o'clock by the Arlington County Civic Federation at the Army-Navy Club in Arlington County. Among other guests will be Representative Judge Howard W. Smith and former Representative R. Walton Moore.

Harry A. Pellows, president of the federation, will act as the toastmaster and deliver the address of welcome. The invocation will be by the Rev. Elmer Lucas, pastor of the Cherrydale United Baptist Church.

The program will include solos by Jesse Veitch, radio artist of Washington, and George Leich, soloist of Grace Episcopal Church, Alexandria, and readings by Mrs. Elsie Gordon, of Arlington County. Both soloists will be accompanied by Miss Gladys George.

Following the banquet and program there will be a reception, with officers of the federation and guests of honor in the receiving line. The reception will be followed by dancing.

Letters were mailed yesterday by Arlington Post, No. 139, American Legion, to prominent citizens and businessmen throughout the county, asking assistance in raising the necessary funds for the erection of the proposed memorial to World War dead in the circle in the center of Clarendon Square.

According to George D. Ricker, commander of the post, it is the hope of the organization that the monument can be financed through small contributions, so that every resident of the county will have an interest in the project.

The county board of supervisors has authorized erection of the memorial and the legion post has been awaiting more favorable working conditions before starting the drive for funds. It is expected $500 will be needed.

Judge Walter T. McCarthy, of the Circuit Court of Arlington County, last night announced that he will hear the arguments of attorneys on the cross bill to the injunction granted Virginia M. VanEvery prohibiting the State Highway Department from constructing the Lee boulevard across her property in Arlington County. The hearing is set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in Arlington County Courthouse.

Testimony was taken on the cross bill last Saturday. The principal contention of Mrs. VanEvery will be that the alleged option on which the State claims a right to the property violates the rule against perpetuities, inasmuch as it was not certain when the right of option could be exercised. Decisions cited by attorneys for the plaintiff held that the option must be fixed for a certain day within 21 years from the time it was entered into.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Glencarlyn School will meet in the school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Lyon Park Community Center, which comprises the Citizens Association and the Woman's Club, announces that plans are under way for an indoor carnival to be held in the community house, April 30 to May 2, inclusive.

Herbert T. Marks, who has been appointed chairman of the carnival committee for the citizens association, announces there will be a meeting of the committee next Friday evening at 7:30. Other members of the committee are: Harry C. Armstrong, Frank E. Brown, A. T. Rowell, A. F. Stevens, James W. Dorsey, William H. Cheesman, D. O. Throgmorton, Charles H. Deaton, T. D. Sowers, Arthur R. Scott, J. C. Folsom, Harry E. Hay, Albert Looney, J. M. Moriarty, Robert P. Dodge, H. B. Hartung, W. M. Whitlock, A. H. Kautz, Edward A. Wiseman, William E. Crekmore, Arthur Orr and N. B. Medley.

The committee for the woman's club will be announced at a later date.

The Arlington County Monarch club will hold its weekly luncheon meeting today at Windsor Arms at 12 o'clock.
